Congolese Army Forces Top Ghana Envoy From Country

TONY STAYS HOME—Antonio Di Tardo, who at 85 is the oldest man in San Quentin Prison, sits in his cell in the prison hospital after turning down parole for the 27th time. Picture of Christ decorates wall. Although all his days for 40 years have been spent in prison—and he expects to spend the rest of them there—Di Tardo has carefully crossed off each date on his calendar, as do many felons who count the days until they will be free. OLDEST AT QUENTIN

Prisoner Rejects Parole 27th Time

As he has done 26 times before, Antonio (Tony) Di Tardo yesterday refused a parole from San Quentin Prison.

Di Tardo, who at 85 is the oldest resident within the great gray walls, made his annual appearance before the California Adult Authority. Members asked him his desire as to being freed from the prison on parole. He replied, as he has each year, that he preferred to remain in prison.

Di Tardo was given a life sentence in 1920 for the fatal shooting of his wife in San Jose. He entered San Quentin the same year.

He was first offered parole in 1931, but rejected it. Twenty-five times since, he has turned down the chance for freedom.

The Adult Authority's minutes in each case show "parole denied; further consideration postponed one year." But the denial has been by Di Tardo, not by the Adult Authority.

San Quentin has become home to Di Tardo, explained Associate Warden Dale B. Frady.

"Tony is not physically able to work anymore," Frady not-

Move To Curb Vehicle Chief's Power Started

Bill Would Detail Action On Drunk Drivers' Licenses

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A legislative committee moved today to curb the state motor vehicles director's power to suspend arbitrarily the licenses of convicted drunken drivers.

The Senate Fact Finding Committee on Transportation and Public Utilities ordered a bill drafted permitting the director to act only if a court had failed to do so. It would be introduced at the 1961 session.

UP TO COURTS

Committee members said it should be up to the courts to determine whether licenses should be suspended and for how long.

Robert I. McCarthy, state motor vehicles director, touched off the controversy July 4, 1959, when he ordered arbitrary six-month suspensions for all convicted drunken drivers, including first offenders. The program has been upheld by the State Supreme Court.

ROOM FOR EXCEPTIONS

"Even though drunk driving is a serious offense, there is room for exceptions and the courts should have discrimination to make such determinations," said Sen. Richard Richards (D-Los Angeles.)

Richards said courts should be able to take special actions where a man's employment is jeopardized by the suspension — possibly a weekends-only suspension.

McCarthy defended the suspensions as a traffic safety measure, and said he doesn't care who suspends licenses as long as it is done.

U.S. Prepared To Keep Up Naval Patrol

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department said today the United States was prepared to keep its special task force off Guatemala and Nicaragua indefinitely or "as long as is considered necessary."

However, one department source said the planes and warships might be withdrawn in a week or so barring some new outbreak of violence in the restless Caribbean area. He said President Eisenhower was expected to consider the possibility soon.

The president ordered the force into the area after Nicaragua and Guatemala, then battling local revolutions, said they feared Cuba would send reinforcements to the guerrillas. They asked the United States for help.

Asked how long the ships might remain, State Department spokesman Lincoln White said "There is no present intention to withdraw this force."

The Navy said it had received no orders to pull out. In fact, the aircraft carrier Wasp sailed from Boston today to relieve the carrier Shangri-La on patrol duty. The naval units consist of a carrier, five destroyers and two radar planes.

Assembly Rejects Red Move

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The U.N. General Assembly today rejected a demand by Ghana that the Congo debate be adjourned pending a full report on the clash between Congolese and U.N. forces in Leopoldville.

The defeat of the Soviet-backed move opened the way for a speedy decision on a credentials committee recommendation that a delegation headed by President Joseph Kasavubu be given the Congo's vacant seat.

34 IN FAVOR

The vote was 34 in favor of the adjournment, 50 against and 13 abstaining.

It appeared to foreshadow a victory by the United States and others supporting the Kasavubu delegation.

Khana's J. E. Jantuah said it was impossible to resolve the question until it had full information from on the scene.

"We cannot sit here in this assembly and debate and discuss the seating of a government which has attacked this very organization," he declared.

It appeared Kasavubu was slated to win.

'REGRETTABLE'

U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold spoke of the clash as "a most regrettable incident." He said he had requested a report from the U.N. command and he hoped to have it during the day.

Yugoslav delegate Dobrivoje Vidic supported Ghana's adjournment motion. Under the circumstances, he said, "It would be senseless and improper to continue debate."

Vidic called for a quick departure of the U.N.'s 15-nation conciliation commission.

U.S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth blamed Ghana for the current situation. He said that if Ghana had observed the normal procedure and recalled its charge d'affaires, Nathanial Welbeck, there would have been no difficulty.

CADETS BUILD WALL OF BLOCKS; IT DOESN'T CEMENT RELATIONS

All was quiet at the San Rafael Military Academy. The cadets, presumably, were all slumbering soundly beneath neatly tucked-in blankets, dreaming of Thanksgiving vacation which starts at 3:30 p.m. today.

But at 12:57 a.m. today, night watchman George Velasco rubbed his eyes at what he saw behind the main building at the head of Cottage Avenue.

A 10-foot wall of concrete blocks barred the rear entrance to the office of Col. R. S. Nourse, the commandant.

The wall was four feet thick, the blocks firmly cemented together.

The source of the blocks was easy to find: Contractor Robert S. Miller of Oakland is erecting a new science building for the academy, of concrete blocks.

The reason for walling up the door was obvious too: It's the door through which cadets must pass to report to Colonel Nourse for punishment for infractions of rules.

The only puzzler was how the big job was completed so quietly.

The youthful builders made one error: They forgot to mix sand with the cement used to stick the blocks together. Workmen for contractor Miller were able to take down the wall in short order today.

"We'll handle the discipline ourselves when we find out which boys did it," said Colonel Nourse, a glint in his eyes.

Town Councilmen Delay Leash Law

Man's best friend had practically no friends last night at the Corte Madera Town Council meeting.

At a public hearing on a proposed leash law, at which approximately 50 persons were present, an even dozen residents appealed for an ordinance which would keep dogs on leashes.

Only one spoke in behalf of freedom for the animals.

The hearing was called after two petitions bearing 336 signatures of residents of Marin Estates and Mariners Cove requested a control ordinance.

Unable to reach a decision, the council agreed to continue the hearing until Dec. 5 at 8 p.m.

Most vocal advocate of a leash law was mailman Leonard Swipes, who indicated that being bitten and mauled by large dogs is a commonplace occurrence in his life.

He is invariably bitten by dogs which "do not bite," he said, adding that he has scars to prove it.

"Even while the dog is chewing on me, the owners insist he won't bite but is only trying to play," Swipes said as he massaged his most recent shoulder wound.

Corte Madera Postmaster Edward Victor said three postmen had been severely bitten within the past two months, necessitating medical treatment.

"People come to Marin to have pets for their children," said Mrs. Hugh A. O'Neill of 441 Montecito Drive, the dogs' only outspoken friend at the meeting. "If only everyone would use courtesy to their neighbors, the present ordinance would be enough."

The town is covered by the same dog control ordinance as those of Marin County, Sausalito and San Anselmo, said Councilman Raymond DeYoung.

The law gives the Marin County Humane Society the right to pick up dogs on public property and dogs without licenses, but makes no provision for licensed dogs on pri-

Terra Linda Board Lashed By Mayor

By JOHN CHAMBERS

San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis lashed out at Terra Linda Community Services District directors last night, chastising their recent actions as "juvenile shenanigans in bad faith."

The mayor's biting declaration referred to the services district's transfer of two park sites—Del Ganado and Oleander—to the newly formed Terra Linda Recreational District, in the face of annexation proceedings by the City of San Rafael.

"They have used various efforts on me and the members of this council to circumvent a request by a substantial number of their residents for our acceptance, and our request that the residents decide for themselves whether to annex," said McInnis.

A half-dozen residents of Terra Linda listened in silence to the mayor's remarks.

The chastisement followed approval of a resolution calling for a special election to annex Terra Linda and setting a public hearing for Dec. 19.

The vote was three to none, with Councilmen Fred Jensen and Louis H. Baar absent.

The resolution calling an annextion election and setting a hearing came for a second time last night. Two weeks ago,

Author Observed For Mental Illness

NEW YORK (UPI)—Novelist Norman Mailer, accused of knifing his wife in a wordless rage after a party, was sent to Bellevue Hospital today for observation of a mental condition described as acute paranoia with homicidal tendencies.

The 37-year-old author of "The Naked and the Dead" and other best-sellers insisted that he was sane today when he was arraigned before Magistrate Reuben Levy on charges of stabbing his wife, Adele, 35, twice with a penknife early Sunday morning. (See story on page 2.)

U.N. Officials Beaten After All-Night Fight

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP) — The Congo army forced Ghana's top diplomat to quit the country today after an all-night battle with United Nations troops, then went on a rampage.

After Ghana charge d'affaires Nathaniel Welbeck left for home on a Soviet plane, the soldiers arrested and beat scores of U.N. officials in revenge for the death of their field commander, Col. J. Kokolo, in the battle.

Some U.N. workers were hauled from their cars, others from their houses. Thirty were held at gunpoint throughout the night.

At least 12 officials were still held by the army after a day of futile efforts by the world organization to gain their release.

The United Nations issued a warning that it would continue to carry out its mandate to maintain order in the city. Machine guns were mounted inside U.N. offices throughout this steaming, confused capital.

The victory boosted the standing of Col. Joseph Mobutu in his drive to maintain himself as the Congo's strongman.

The colonel told U.N. officials the soldiers acted without orders in rounding up U.N. personnel and he promised to bring about the release of those detained.

Welbeck said he had decided to leave, after a long and stubborn refusal, "because my government wants me to."

His departure brought to an end a 12-hour battle between United Nation troops and the Congolese army. Fighting broke out after Welbeck refused to leave the Congo as ordered by army commander Mobutu, who accused him of plotting with deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba against Mobutu's regime.

At least five soldiers were killed and nine wounded.

The United Nations said three of its men were killed and seven wounded. The Congolese list one killed, two wounded, four missing.

County Again Plans To Seek Hospital Fund

Marin County will renew its application for Hill-Burton Act federal and state funds to help build a county custodial hospital for the aged at Lucas Valley.

A bond issue to provide funds for the structure was defeated for the second time Nov. 8.

At the suggestion of board charman Walter R. Castro, the supervisors unanimously agreed to renew their application, which previously was approved with such a low priority that funds would not actually be expected.

Asst. County Administrator Alan Bruce noted that up to 25 per cent of the county's $2,000,000 retirement fund reserves might be "borrowed" to build the hospital. But supervisor William D. Fusselman argued that the required legal procedure would "not be good for the taxpayers."

Fusselman said he personally had favored a direct tax to build the hospital "like was done for the civic center."

Supervisor James A. Marshall of Tomales suggested the possibility of aid from the Babcock Memorial Foundation. His suggestion was not acted upon.

Fisherman Injured In Crab Boat Blast

An explosion aboard a crab boat docked at Sausalito last evening blew a Eureka fisherman into the bay and set the vessel afire.

The fisherman, Lauren Pfeffer, 30, was reported in good condition today in Marin General Hospital, with second degree burns on both forearms.

The blaze caused damage estimated by firemen at $4,500 to Pfeffer's boat, the Valerie J.

The blast apparently cause by leaking gasoline fumes which were set off when Pfeffer lighted a match to his wood stove to cook his supper. Hoyt Barnett, employed by Lighthouse Crab Co., said he was sitting in his office nearby and the explosion "reminded me of a five-incher going off."

Lawrence Horstman, on the vessel Irish Rose nearby, reported seeing a four-by-four foot wooden hatch cover blown about 100 feet into the air.

John Frazier of Sausalito, employed by Lighthouse Crab Co., dived into the bay and guided Pfeffer, in the dark, to another craft, Barnett said.

Pfeffer suffering from shock, turned around on the boat and fell back into the bay. Another Lighthouse employee, Dave Hengesbach of Sausalito, pulled him out of the water a second time. In so doing, Hengesbach broke two ribs which had previously been broken in another accident and were on the mend.

Pfeffer is a self-employed fisherman and had been fishing for crab out of Sausalito.

The whole deck of the Valerie J. was ruptured by the explosion. The craft was kept afloat by pumps and was to be taken onto the ways today.

Sausalito firemen, with Alto and San Anselmo fire departments standing by, brought the fire under control in about 20 minutes.

2 Pacifists Board New Sub During Launching

GROTON, Conn. (AP) — The Ethan Allen, first in a new line of Polaris-equipped submarines, slid down the ways today to the traditional reception.

It also got an unexpected reception from two pacifists who climbed aboard after the launching.

The craft, heaviest in the nation's growing fleet of nuclear-powered missile subs, was hailed by the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff as one of a line that will add greatly to United States' defense efforts.

Gen. Lyman J. Lemnitzer made his remarks to a crowd of about 5,000 at launching ceremonies for the new Ethan Allen, a lethal submersible that will be equipped to hurl Polaris missiles 1,500 miles or more.

The self-styled pacifists, William Henry, 27, of Lodi, Wis., and Donald Martin, 20, of Wellesley, Mass., swam out to the craft in the Thames River, and pulled themselves aboard with the bunting still draping the craft. They were quickly taken off by the Coast Guard.

The two pacifists were among a group of nine that earlier was prevented from interfering with the launching itself. They had intended to row three small boats into the path of the huge submersible.

Princess Margaret dances with her husband, Tony Armstrong-Jones, at a ball at the Savoy Hotel in London. When the couple appeared last night some eyebrows were raised because Tony was wearing a dinner jacket and black tie. Apart from him and his party only the waiters wore black ties, and even they wore tails. Nevertheless London society buzzed with excitement at the return of Margaret to social life. (AP Wirephoto)

Kennedy Signals Tossing Out Aide Job To President

PALM BEACH, Fla (AP)—President-elect John F. Kennedy gave priority attention today to filling about 80 top federal jobs after disclosure that he intends to cut the White House staff deeply, starting at the top.

Kennedy expects to abolish, at least so far as title is concerned, what in the Eisenhower administration has been one of the most powerful positions in government. The job is called "the assistant to the president."

SPECIAL COUNSEL

The man who apparently will come closest to filling that role in the new administration is Theodore C. Sorensen, 32, long-time Kennedy aide who already has been named White House special counsel.

These Kennedy plans were announced late yesterday by Clark M. Clifford, Kennedy's chief liaison man with the outgoing Republicans.

Clifford said he gave Kennedy a list of about 80 high level jobs — including cabinet posts — which must be filled first in order to give the new president complete control of the executive branch when he is inaugurated Jan. 20.

SECOND JOBS

Kennedy also got from Clifford a second list of between 400 and 500 jobs of secondary importance, and a third tabulation of about 1,200 lesser positions—all filled by presidential appointment.

As for the possibility Kennedy will retain some personnel who are in career jobs in these categories, Clifford replied in response to a news conference question: "I am sure that he will."

Dealing with reduction of the White House staff, Clifford said Kennedy had told him it will be "nowhere near as large as it is under the present administration."

51 PERSONS

On President Eisenhower's immediate staff there are, Clifford said, 51 persons exclusive of secretarial and clerical workers.

Asked why Kennedy expects to wipe out the position of the assistant to the president, Clifford replied: "I think he said only that certainly at this time he did not contemplate appointing such a man, and I believe that the reasoning was that he did not contemplate setting up a man who would act between him and his staff, as I think the position has existed in this past (Eisenhower) administration."

Under Eisenhower, the job is held at present by Wilton B. Persons, once a major general on Eisenhower's Army staff. Person's predecessor, and perhaps the most powerful man in the position, was Sherman Adams, who resigned under fire in 1958 after charges he had accepted favors and had granted some. Adams denied any wrong-doing.

Report Urges Tight Rein By President

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The president must be the sole maker of national policy and must not come to rely on a super-secretary or super-staff, a Senate subcommittee staff report has declared.

The staff of the Senate subcommittee on national policy machinery said in a study that the executive branch was not organized now in the best way to pull together the programs of various agencies into a "coherent national strategy."

In releasing the report last night, subcommittee chairman Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.), said his personal view was that the White House had no place for a "first secretary of the government"—a new supercabinet post proposed by New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and others.

Jackson is Democratic national chairman and could play a major role in setting up the Kennedy organization.

President-elect John F. Kennedy, acting along lines of the staff report, announced yesterday he would keep tight personal control of his administration by organizing the White House to provide greater direct contact between the chief executive and members of his cabinet and staff.

Kennedy said at his Florida vacation headquarters that as part of this plan he would cut the number of White House personnel and eliminate the powerful post of assistant to the president.

Norman Mailer Charged With Wife Stabbing

NEW YORK (UPI)—Norman Mailer, author of the novel "The Naked and the Dead," faced arraignment today on charges of stabbing his wife at a weekend party.

Mrs. Mailer, who tried to cover up the story of the knifing, was reported in critical condition at University Hospital suffering from two wounds in the back and stomach.

DENIED CHARGE

Mailer denied the charge in his wife's hospital room, but she repeated it to his face, police said.

The author who has been involved in a series of incidents with police recently, will be arraigned on a felonious assault charge. Police said they planned to ask that he undergo psychiatric examination at Bellevue Hospital.

Detectives said the stabbing took place early Sunday morning at the end of a big party at the Mailers' apartment. Three hours later Mailer took his 35-year-old wife—his second—to the hospital where she told doctors she had cut herself with broken glass.

DOUBTED STORY

Hospital authorities doubted her story and notified police, but detectives were not permitted to talk to her until yesterday because of her condition. Reluctantly she told them her 37-year-old husband had stabbed her with a penknife or a claspknife.

"He just looked at me," she said. "He didn't say a word. Then he stabbed me."

Mrs. Mailer, a talented painter, added that she thought her husband has "homicidal" tendencies and that his family has been trying to make him see a psychiatrist.

Fritz Burns, president emeritus of the National Assn. of Home Builders and a Southern California community developer for many years, addressed 600 delegates to the 37th annual congress of the Building Contractors Assn. of California yesterday.

Burns criticized what he called the complexity of America's tax structure, saying it keeps builders from making decisions before all tax problems are fully considered.

Johnson, French Leader Discuss World Affairs

PARIS (AP)—Lyndon B. Johnson, U.S. vice president-elect, and French President Charles de Gaulle had a 45-minute conference today. Johnson said they discussed "the wide range of problems confronting the people of the world."

The two men met in De Gaulle's private office. Although it was billed in advance as a courtesy call, the two men immediately got down to serious talk.

Johnson is in Paris attending a meeting of parliamentarians from NATO countries. He was invited to the palace in order to give de Gaulle his first official contact with the incoming American administration.

On coming from the meeting, Johnson said he had extended his "felicitations and congratulations" to de Gaulle, who is celebrating his 70th birthday today.

Then Johnson drove across the Seine River to lunch with Premier Michel Debre and a dozen or more French political and government figures.

The vice president-elect was accompanied to de Gaulle's residence by U.S. Ambassador Amory Houghton.

In a brief interview in the palace courtyard after the talk Johnson said: "We had a very cordial meeting. I felt very stimulated and deeply appreciative for the opportunity to be in the presence of one of the world's great leaders."

Before the de Gaulle talk, Johnson's aides said the vice president-elect had no intention of bringing up at this time any of the issues on which France and the United States have divergent views. It was an opportunity, however, to sound out de Gaulle.

Johnson indicated in a speech yesterday that the new U.S. administration would be more receptive to some of de Gaulle's ideas than was the Eisenhower administration. In that light, the NATO parliamentarians today examined possible expansion into broader political and economic fields.

The vice president-elect in his speech sounded a call for "new dimensions" for NATO which would "enlarge the community of joint purposes to include new neighbors of the world."

New Device Captures Space Capsule

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force has brought back safely to earth a 500-pound space capsule using a combination of a drag balloon and a parachute.

The device, called a ballute, was tested successfully for the second time yesterday at Santa Rosa Island, Fla. The capsule was shot to a height of 32 miles by a three-stage missile.

The ballute system, developed by Goodyear Aircraft Corp., worked this way:

As the third stage of the rocket reached 75,000 feet, still coasting upward at 1,100 miles an hour, a nine-foot balloon was released from the tail section.

The balloon popped into shape in a tenth of a second and was reeled out on a cable to stabilize the 500-pound capsule and slow it down by atmospheric drag.

A strain gauge measured the amount of drag and radioed the information to the ground, while a camera recorded the balloon's performance.

The capsule eventually reached a height of 170,000 feet. When the balloon had slowed it to less than the speed of sound (760 miles an hour), a parachute popped out and lowered the package into the Gulf of Mexico test range.

Surface crews recovered the capsule 45 minutes after it was launched.

Recount Pleas Could Delay Vote Tallies

GOP Challengers Don't Expect To Overturn Election

WASHINGTON (AP) — Recount requests could delay even longer than usual the final, official tabulation of the vote cast in the Nov. 8 election.

With President-elect John F. Kennedy's popular vote lead now cut below 175,000, Republicans were challenging the results in sections of Illinois, New Jersey and Texas, and looking for possible grounds for similar action elsewhere.

ELECTORAL VOTES

Few, however, expected any overturn of Kennedy's electoral vote margin over Vice President Richard M. Nixon. It is the electoral vote—not the popular vote—which elects a president.

In that tally, Kennedy led Nixon 300 to 223, with 269 needed for election. Fourteen other electors, in Alabama and Mississippi, are not pledged to either.

Latest figures on the popular vote, with more than 1,100 precincts still unreported and some absentee ballots still to be counted, stood this way:

Kennedy—33,919,296
Nixon—33,744,669

BARE MARGIN

Kennedy's margin was a bare 174,627 over Nixon, and his share of the vote cast for the two major candidates was 50.13 per cent, to 49.87 for Nixon.

Partial recounts have been started by Republicans in Illinois, with 27 electoral votes, and New Jersey, with 16. In Texas, with 24 electoral votes, a limited court test was arranged of what the Republicans called "frauds and irregularities" in the election.

Texas Atty. Gen. Will Wilson rejected a Republican request for a statewide investigation, but said a court test of returns from 34 precincts could determine whether the GOP charges justify further investigation.

Even without recounts and challenges, however, some states may not complete their final, official tallies for several more weeks.

KENNEDY 12TH 'MINORITY' PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. John F. Kennedy will be the 12th "minority" president in U.S. history because he received less than half of the votes in the Nov. 8 election.

An unofficial, but almost complete, tabulation showed today that Kennedy fell short by more than 100,000 votes of getting a majority of the ballots cast for president.

The tabulation by United Press International included votes from all but 24 of the nation's 166,264 voting places. It included all but a small portion of the late-counted absentee ballots.

While Kennedy outpolled Nixon in the popular vote, ballots cast for others in the presidential race prevented the Democratic nominee from getting a majority of the total vote.

UNOFFICIAL RETURNS IN STATE GIVE NIXON MARGIN OF 21,657

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon's margin over President-elect John F. Kennedy in California turned out to be 21,657.

This was the figure finally produced by completion of tabulation of unofficial returns from all 58 counties yesterday—two weeks after the Nov. 8 general election.

The final statewide totals gave Nixon 3,240,005; Kennedy 3,218,348.

Puerto Rico Prelate Denies Church Will Punish Voters

CHICAGO (AP)—The archbishop of San Juan, Puerto Rico, has flatly denied that Roman Catholics in that country will be punished for disobeying a church order on voting.

Most Rev. James P. Davis last night said sacraments would not be withheld from Catholics who defied church instructions to vote against Gov. Luis Munoz Marin's Popular Democratic Party in the Nov. 8 election.

His statement followed a report that the Catholic woman mayor of San Juan, Felisa de Gauthier, was ordered by her pastor to do public penance before she can receive communion because of the way she voted.

Archbishop Davis is in Chicago for a meeting of the Catholic Church Extension Society.

Response Good To Idea For Beautifying City

Response to the launching of the San Rafael Beautiful Committee has been so encouraging that the membership may be expanded to include all interested persons in the city, acting chairman Gene F. O'Connor declared today.

The 15 persons attending the second meeting of the committee this morning in the Griddle Restaurant in San Rafael agreed with him.

Since the committee to beautify San Rafael was organized last Tuesday, members have received many calls from persons interested in helping the campaign, O'Connor said.

"The response is very encouraging," he declared.

Guest speaker at today's meeting was James G. Hupp, treasurer of the California Roadside Council and an active member of a beautification committee in Orinda.

He told the group that financing can come from merchants who will realize increased business from an attractive community.

Committee members agreed that interested persons could be included in the membership, but too many persons in the committee itself might bog down the program, O'Connor said.

Following a one and one-half hour meeting, the members decided to meet at 7:30 a.m. Dec. 6 in the chamber of commerce office to elect officers and designate sub-committees to handle specific beautification projects.

DOGS

vate property unless a petition of three persons declares the dog a nuisance.

Even then, councilmen agreed, the machinery for removing the offending dog is cumbersome and relatively ineffective, since written notice must be served on the dog's owner before action is taken.

Town Atty. John B. Ehlen said he had written San Francisco for a copy of its proposed leash ordinance which, according to Ehlen, "has teeth in it." He hoped to have a copy of the ordinance by the Dec. 5 hearing, he said.

The San Francisco Board of Supervisors heard arguments on the proposed ordinance yesterday and set another hearing for tomorrow.

Those speaking in favor of control insisted they were not against dogs as such but only certain chronic offenders.

"I see no reason why I should have to guide my child home safely every day because of vicious dogs in the neighborhood," said Mrs. Marjorie Barnett of 28 Staghound Passage.

"Why confine the leash law only to dogs?" asked one unidentified speaker. "I'm all for leashing all pets—even cats and horses."

PARKS

coucilmen balked when they learned that the city might not get the two park sites in Terra Linda.

Last Friday the two sites were turned over by the community services district to the recreational district.

San Rafael councilmen said they thought the two parcels and other community services district assets were to be included in annexation in lieu of a $75 per lot annexation fee. By law, the community services district will go out of existence if the area annexes to the city; the recreational district, however, will continue.

City Atty. Albert E. Bagshaw last night declared that the city will acquire title to the two lots—with use limited to recreation—if Terra Linda is annexed, regardless of the gift.

He said the two park sites, totaling 4.5 acres, are valued at $45,800.

Automatic Pistols Missing At Shop

Two automatic pistols are missing from the display window at Jim's Sport Shop in Novato, the owner reported to sheriff's deputies yesterday.

One is a .22 caliber Colt worth $34.95, and the other a .25 caliber Browning worth $29.95.

Gordon E. Lackey, owner of the store on Grant Avenue, said the theft must have occurred during the weekend.

Sally Stanford Charges Furrier Nipped Her Mink

Marsha Owen (Sally Stanford) of Sausalito is asking $7,000 damages in a San Francisco court, charging that her furrier lopped too much fur off her diamond black mink full length coat.

She said she had asked Roberts Brothers of Post Street to dye the coat and make alterations on it two years ago. She charges that the coat was cut, shortened and altered to the approximate length of a car coat.

Mrs. Owen said the furrier told her the mink had shrunk. She said she had never heard of shrinking mink.

Irwin Roberts, the furrier, replied that she got exactly what she ordered. He said the coat is two inches shorter, and no fur was lost.

Girl, 15, Missing Since Yesterday

DANA JoLaine Wilkins, 15-year-old Redwood High Sschool student, was reported missing from her Corte Madera home yesterday.

She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Wilkins of 100 Palm Avenue. Her mother told Corte Madera police there had been some trouble over the company the girl had been keeping.

An all-points bulletin was sent out for the missing girl, who is five feet two, weights 100 pounds, has hazel eyes and blonde hair.

Cagwin-Dorward and Paradise Engineering Co. of Corte Madera, bidding as a joint venture, have been awarded a California Department of Public Works contract for grounds improvement for the new juvenile unit at Napa State Hospital, on a bid of $63,800.

WHITE LIGHTS DUE ON BAY, GATE BRIDGES

The yellow vapor lamps on the Bay Bridge and Golden Gate Bridge will be replaced by white lights.

"They used to believe that yellow was a better fog light," said Norman Raab, engineer for the state's bay toll crossing division.

But, Raab said, white lights provide better visibility at lower cost. The present sodium vapor lights will be replaced by either fluorescent or mercury vapor lights.

Golden Gate Bridge manager James Adam said no date has been set for installation of new lights. White lights will soon be installed on the lower deck of the Bay Bridge, officials said.

Novato Council Meets Tonight On Wylie Plans

Novato City councilmen will meet at 8 o'clock tonight with only one item on the agenda: The Wylie subdivision.

Councilmen may hear that two subdividers have come to agreement on how to align the 100-foot right of way of the proposed San Jose Boulevard through their adjoining subdivisions south of San Jose Creek. City officials, representatives of H. C. Wylie and Paul Trousdale have been negotiating for weeks.

If the subdividers' decision meets with council approval, councilmen may reverse a planning commission decision turning down the 11-acre Wylie subdivision.

It got thumbs down because of failure to provide for the street right of way. Wylie representatives say they were not informed of a Trousdale-County agreement extending the street through Wylie property.

Board Seeking Replacement

Reed Union School District trustees are expected to decide on their recommendation for replacement of Dr. Alfred J. Azevedo on the board at tonight's meeting at 8 o'clock in the Reed School auditorium.

Trustees will study the recommendations on the feasibility of a unified school district, Supt. Paul R. Stouffer said.

Also on the agenda is the architect's report on the proposed remodeling and renovation at Belvedere School.

Three Youths Cleared In Beating, Theft

Three youths from Kentfield, questioned yesterday as suspects in the robbing and stripping of a San Rafael laborer, were cleared by lie tests, Sheriff's Inspector William Bradley reported today.

All three had alibis, and they successfully passed lie detector tests administered by Inspector Carl Sears.

John S. Manes, 53, of 36 Bayview Street, told deputies he was drinking Saturday night in San Rafael and in San Anselmo. He then started walking home and was picked up by three youths in a car on the Miracle Mile.

He said they drove him toward Fairfax, robbed him and beat him, and dumped him off, and stripped him of everything except his socks. Manes walked to the home of William H. Behre, 357 Oak Manor Drive, and asked for help.

Theft Charge May Be Filed Against Driver

Bernard Duane Montbriand of San Rafael, who was arrested for the 20th time in five years Sunday after a 90-mile-an-hour chase down Highway 101, may face an additional charge of burglary today.

He was arraigned on five misdemeanor charges yesterday before Judge Joseph G. Wilson in Marin County Municipal Court.

SEEK COMPLAINT

San Rafael police today sought a burglary complaint from the district attorney's office against the 23-year-old laborer for looting the Sherman Clay and Co. music store at 963 Grand Avenue, San Rafael.

The theft of $49 in cash and two musical instruments worth $300 was reported yesterday by Mrs. Rose Johnson of 410 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, manager of the store.

Climbing to the roof of an adjacent building, the burglar crossed the rooftops and pushed in a window screen on the mezzanine of the music store. He took the cash from a desk drawer and a trumpet and clarinet from the display window.

SAW ACCIDENT

Montbriand, of 228 Humboldt Street, was arrested at 2:30 a.m. Sunday after Deputy Sheriff George H. Tsegeletos saw a pickup truck strike another car on Highway 101 near Greenbrae. The deputy and Officer Charles Newman of Corte Madera police pursued the pickup north on the freeway and pulled Montbriand from the vehicle in front of the Marin Motor Movies.

Police said today that the stolen trumpet and clarinet were found in the truck. Montbriand had $60 in his wallet when he was booked at the county jail.

He pleaded guilty yesterday to driving with a suspended license and misdemeanor hit-run driving and innocent to charges of drunken driving, reckless driving and speeding.

Judge Wilson set a court trial on the three charges for 3:30 p.m. Nov. 30.

$8,115 FOR INSPECTION

'Austerity' Budget Gets An Addition

Marin county supervisors today shot an $8,115 hole in the "austerity" budget adopted last summer.

And they shot a $650 hole in building inspector Harry Grieb's personal budget.

It happened this way:

When the budget austerity" push was in full swing last summer, Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham estimated that he could cut his building inspector staff from five to three. Substantial areas of Terra Linda were being annexed to San Rafael and Novato had become incorporated city. Each would have its own municipal building inspection service; the county would no longer have to supply the service, Brigham reasoned.

The board of supervisors took action to reduce the number of jobs authorized for the building inspection department. Brigham discharged Harry Grieb and another inspector resigned.

But the work load dropped only about 10 per cent instead of the anticipated 30 per cent.

The supervisors rescinded their action cutting down the number of jobs.

Grieb appealed to the county personnel commission asking that he be rehired.

Last week, the supervisors ordered Grieb rehired and ordered that he receive approximately $650 back pay for the six weeks he was off.

Today the board of supervisors was advised by County Counsel E. Warren McGuire that Grieb's "termination of employment" was legal and there for it might be an illegal "gift of public funds" to give him back pay.

County Administrator Donald A. Jensen recommended that the supervisors rescind their earlier action voting the back pay for Grieb and just restore the two building inspector jobs previously eliminated. He said this would cost an estimated $8,115.

On motion of Supervisor William D. Fusselman, the board followed Jensen's recommendation.

Housewife Taken To State Hospital

A Terra Linda housewife, who slashed her wrists in an apparent suicide attempt, was taken to Napa State Hospital yesterday under an emergency inebriacy commitment.

She is Judith Ostrup, 30, of 582 Thornwood Terrace. Her mother, Mrs. Mildred B. Johnston of the same address, called the sheriff for help. Sheriff's deputies and San Rafael police restrained Mrs. Ostrup at San Rafael Hospital, where attendants reported they could not control her.

Judge Orders Sandoval To Stand Trial

Jaime Sandoval, Puerto Rican mystery man in the reported accidental death of Mrs. Virginia Douglas of Millbrae and the Marin suicide of her husband, Donald Douglas, must stand trial on two felony morals charges, a San Mateo County judge ruled yesterday.

Judge Aylett R. Cotton of San Mateo County Superior Court refused to dismiss felony charges against Sandoval involving alleged offenses against the Douglases' two sons. The judge granted a request by Sandoval's attorney, Nate Cohn, to continue until Dec. 6 setting of a trial date.

Cohn had requested dismissal of the indictments on the ground that Sandoval had been denied due process of law. The attorney said his client would be unable to get a fair trial in San Mateo County.

Cohn said San Mateo County Dist. Atty. Keith Sorensen had implied to the press and residents of the county that Sandoval was involved in the death of Mrs. Douglas, who reportedly fell from a cliff in Puerto Rico Sept. 28, and the suicide eight days later in Lucas Valley of her husband.

Jury Probing Charge Drug Prices Fixed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The federal grand jury is investigating charges of fixing of prices of prescription drugs in Northern California, it was learned today.

The grand jury has been receiving testimony from individual druggists about alleged circulation of price lists.

There was no indication when the grand jury would complete its inquiry or what conclusions it would reach.

Price fixing could be a violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Law carrying possible maximum penalties of $50,000 fine and one year in prison for an individual or a $50,000 fine for an organization.

A similar grand jury investigation in Arizona resulted last June in a civil suit to bring an injunction to halt fixing of drug prices.

It was understood that witnesses, who appear before the jury with immunity from prosecution, have indicated that drug prices in Northern California are the highest in the nation.

While the grand jury here is concentrating on Northern California prices, its investigation also involves statewide druggists.

Drug prices came to the fore in Marin County last April when Bernard Cassells, president of the Drake Pharmacy at 810 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in San Anselmo, incurred the wrath of Marin County Pharmacists Assn. by advertising prescription drugs.

The association contended Cassells should not be permitted to advertise on the grounds it was "unethical and undignified." Cassells contended he was "only trying to share the profits with the customer.

The State Pharmaceutical Assn. said at the time it could not take action against Cassells because his advertisements did not include items listed under the "dangerous drug act."

Tam Students Will Start Day Earlier

Students in the Tamalpais Union High School District's three schools will return to a starting time of 8:30 a.m. in February, the district board decided last night. Since school opened in September, classes have begun at 9 a.m.

The "pre-period classes before the regular school day will switch from an 8 a.m. start to 7:30.

The earlier starting times were in effect last year, but were changed because more students said they would enroll in the "pre-period" if it were offered at a later time.

Last night, Supt. Chester G. Carlisle told the board the curriculum council, composed of about 15 teachers and representatives of the administration, had studied the later starting time and decided it was detrimental. Carlisle said he had then asked each principal to survey students and faculty in the school, and they had reported general preference for the earlier starting time.

The board also:

1. Authorized payment to the county of Marin of $4,051 for expenses for the Oct. 11 bond election.

2. Authorized payment of $6,634.01 to V. Maggiora and Son, Sausalito, for repair of the Redwood High School sewer line.

3. Accepted book donations for the Tamalpais High library from American Petroleum Institute, Ford Motor Co. and two Tam teachers, Mrs. Molly Boucher and Leon Bennett.

4. Adopted a resolution officially calling for a three million dollar bond election April 18, as approved at its preceding meeting.

5. Authorized Carlisle to negotiate with Fifer properties for a 60-foot strip of land near Redwood High, probably to be used for access purposes.

6. Awarded a contract for a 1961 Chevrolet sedan to Campbell Bishop Chevrolet Co., which submitted a low bid of $2,292.99.

7. Decided to skip its Dec. 5 meeting, and meet Dec. 19.

8. Adjourned to Drake High School for a language laboratory demonstration by students and teachers. Board members also took part in the demonstration.

U.S. Decides Student's Visa Will Be Renewed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The U. S. Immigration Service reversed itself today, and decided not to force John R. Johnston, a Scottish biophysicist, out of the country because he picketed the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Charles J. Beechie, regional immigrational director, said the case had been carefully reconsidered because Johnston's departure would be a loss to the university program and because it would affect the university instructional schedule.

Johnston, 26, has been a teaching and research associate at California since 1956. He needs seven more months at the Berkeley school to gain his doctorate.

The Immigration Service granted Johnston's request to remain in this country until next Aug. 31.

Johnston was notified on Sept. 3 that his visitor's visa, which expired Sept. 15, would not be renewed. This was an administrative action that the U. S. Immigration Service is empowered to take.

Cecil W. Fullilove, deputy district director for the immigration service, gave this explanation for the department's action:

"I thought it was getting out of line for a foreign student to picket a committee of Congress. They are guests of the country, receiving government funds." Immigration officials said other factors were involved, but they would not disclose them.

Johnston participated in a picket line at the San Francisco City Hall last May 13 when police and students clashed at a hearing of the congressional committee. He was not arrested.

Trans-Pacific communications are directed through regional headquarters of five major radio systems at San Francisco.

Councilmen Order Traffic Flow Plan

Notice was served on Corte Madera Shopping Center officials by the Corte Madera Town Council last night to come up with definite plans for traffic flow in and out of the center's parking lot.

Until such information is forthcoming, the council said, the town cannot make plans for proposed traffic signals on Tamalpais Drive.

Up to now, Town Manager Arthur H. Brandow said, the traffic discussion between the town and the center has been an "Alphonse and Gaston" affair, with each party inviting the other to present plans first.

Representing the center last night was Carey Bowles, public relations director, who said the center lease agreement calls for 2,100 parking spaces to be maintained.

"Before we can make plans, we have to know how much of this space the town may need," Bowles said.

The council said it had no plan to alter the parking lot but must know the center's plans regarding redesigning of entrances and exits on Madera Boulevard before plans for Tamalpais Drive signals can be made.

The council accepted an engineering agreement with George S. Nolte for preliminary engineering studies of widening and improving Sausalito Avenue between Buena Vista Avenue and Tamalpais Drive. The studies would not exceed $2,500, Nolte said.

A letter from the State Division of Highways approved acceptance of Sausalito Avenue into the major gasoline tax street system.

Approval was also given an agreement with Nolte for engineering studies on the second phase of Paradise Drive extending from El Camino Street to the Marin Country Day School, a distance of about 3,000 feet. Cost of the engineering studies would not exceed $1,600, the agreement stated. Construction on the project is expected to begin next year, Brandow said.

The Carolands Tract, newly annexed property on Paradise Drive adjoining the Marin Country Day School, was officially withdrawn from the Tiburon Fire District. A public hearing was set for Dec. 5 at 8 p.m. to hear a proposal to re-zone the tract from single family to multiple dwelling.

A public hearing on a recent decision by the planning commission, requested by Councilman Raymond DeYoung, was set for Dec. 5 at 7:30 p.m. The appeal will be on planners' decision to grant side setback variance to John E. Tucker, 359 Chapman Drive. DeYoung said he did not feel the commission was justified in granting the variance.

The council agreed to comply with a request of the Marin County Grand Jury for personnel information on the town's planning commission and public works department. The information, the request stated, was for purposes of a closed investigation of the town bodies. According to Brandow, all Marin County cities have been asked to supply similar information.

In other action last night, the council:

1. Approved issuance of a taxi license to Charles T. Cohen after a police report on Cohen. An application for a second driver to be hired by Cohen was turned down on the recommendation of Police Chief Frank L. Nelson.
2. Returned unopened a bid for a new police car to Ames Ford Co. of San Rafael. The town had not called for bids and will purchase the new car through the county, Brandow said.
3. Agreed to withhold a "cease and desist" order against Dr. Gertrude Casey which would end her osteopathy practice at 22 Mohawk Avenue until the day after a forthcoming court hearing on the doctor's appeal to continue her practice.
4. Accepted dedication of a completed street from Charles Paganini according to an agreement signed with Paganini on April 20, 1959. The street, which was built under town supervision, connects Fifer Avenue and Tamal Vista in the unincorporated Paganini property adjoining Fifer Industrial Park. The town attorney was instructed to draw up the necessary resolution making the acceptance official.
5. Voted to rezone the Northwestern Pacific Railroad property extending from the town limits to the north portal of the tunnel on the Sausalito branch line to single family residential. The order to rezone was tabled "until the day after abandonment of the property by the railroad." A public hearing on the rezoning was set for Dec. 19 at 7:30 p.m.
6. Approved a decision of the planning commission not to rezone to a higher residential density the property of O. E. Carlson at 25 Willow Avenue.

Board Can't Pay Teachers In New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — The New Orleans School Board announced today that the integration crisis has become so bad that it can't pay its teachers and other employees the two million dollars due them tomorrow.

School Supt. Dr. James F. Redmond said the board must "withhold" the two million dollar payroll because it doesn't have the money. Banks won't loan it to the board because of the integration troubles, and the state, angry at the board for allowing integration, won't come up with it.

Redmond said that the action is "unprecedented in state history." It affected about 4,500 teachers and other employees, he said.

"As of this minute, banks can be of no assistance," he said. "Only the governor can solve this problem by rising above noisy emotions of some state legislators," he said.

Redmond asked the teachers —now on a week's holiday—to show up at the regular assignments on Monday although they haven't been paid.

The announcement came while the teachers were in a convention in Baton Rouge, where the legislature meets tomorrow. Citizens' council leaders are trying to organize students and parents to dress in mourning for their two integrated schools and march on the legislature.

Use Permit Approved For New Sabella's

A use permit and architectural supervision were approved by the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday for a new Sebella's restaurant on a location just south of the present building beside Highway 101 at Alto.

The site has had to be previously certified by planners and supervisors as involving no interference with Richardson Bay flood control. This was done for a restaurant only, but the use permit takes in a long list of associated enterprises. These are all marine in nature, including frozen food locker, maps and photography, bait and equipment, surveyor, ship chandlery and other enterprises.

Harry Johnson, associated with Angelo Sabella in the scheme, said 160 parking spaces were being provided—10 more than required.

The program squeezed through with a 5-1 vote, Commissioner Felix M. Warburg dissenting on the ground that the plans were not firm enough.

The planners also:

1. Continued to Dec. 5 consideration of planned residential development plans for two sectors of Red Hill Unit 2, Tiburon, and for architectural supervision of J. B. Williams's 16-unit apartment house near North San Pedro and Merrydale Roads, North San Rafael.
2. Allowed E. Meyer to maintain a trailer as a watchman's residence at Marin Motor Movies, South San Rafael, in a relocated position out of highway view.
3. Denied Fred C. Shumaker's petition to rezone three acres for apartments at Trestle Glen and Tiburon Boulevards, Tiburon, as "visibly out of tune with existing development' according to the planning staff report.
4. Allowed L. Bodian to withdraw his proposed subdivision of 4.7 acres in Tiburon east of Tara Hill subdivision.
5. Allowed Eugene S. Arntz to keep a pony on Lot 4, Bayside Acres, for three years if sanitary conditions are kept up to requirements of the Marin County Health Department.
6. Approved plans for construction of a J. B. Rice Co. building for retail sale of floor coverings on Auburn Street, South San Rafael.

Stinson Beach Development Approved

Second thoughts by the Marin County Planning Commission staff about a 27-acre $200,000 Seadrift Lagoon development at Stinson Beach caused a flurry of consternation on the part of the developers yesterday.

The commission finally approved a tentative map by 5-1 vote, but Commissioner Felix M. Warburg dissented because he thought the staff correct in asking 7,500-square foot lot sizes instead of the 6,000-square feet earlier approved.

The original approval was in January, 1959, with a year's extension granted through next January, and further continuance now sought because the lots are being developed by fill. Meanwhile, the staff said, it has "repented" its approval of the 6,000-square foot lot size.

"If we have to change now, we're going to be hurt!" protested attorney Bryan R. McCarthy for the William Kent Estate Co.

Warburg made a last-minute unsuccessful effort to tack on a condition requiring that "a number of lots be left vacant to avoid monotony." Chairman William Upton said that if the development were coming in for the first time he'd support 7,500-foot lots, but change now seemed unfair.

Power Pole Broken, Fire Horn Sounds

A power pole, broken yesterday afternoon by construction workers of Lee-Mac Paving Co. at Mar East and Solano Street in Tiburon, caused the horn of the Tiburon main fire station and siren of the Trestle Glen Station to sound for 15 minutes.

Many anxious persons telephoned the fire station, fireman Clive Coverdale said.

Lunch Survey Results Due Discussion

Larkspur School District trustees will discuss results of a survey on parents' preferences for a school lunch program at 7:30 p.m. today in the board office in Larkspur-Corte Madera School.

Letters were sent out nearly two weeks ago asking parents if they were willing to pay the full amount of a lunch program so the district does not have to subsidize it; whether they preferred the frozen or kitchen-cooked lunches, and how many of their children would eat regularly in the cafeteria.

The district has been without a lunch program since the opening of this school year.

Board members also will discuss answers to a questionnaire about the district submitted to them by the Marin Estates Homeowners Assn.; and capital outlay items and the Larkspur dump. Donald Fox will report on the newly organized citizens advisory committee.

Lutheran Church Plans Going To Commission

A new location for the Trinity Lutheran Church of San Rafael and construction of a modern church "in the round," parish house and church school will be considered by the San Rafael Planning Commission at its meeting at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the city hall.

The church, now located at 1415 Fifth Avenue, has applied for a use permit to build on a 4.75-acre site on the south side of Woodland Avenue near Octavia Street.

Plans by architect Donald P. Smith of San Francisco indicate a one-story church seating 316 persons. Capping the church, which would cover 5-278 square feet, would be a lofty spire.

The parish house and school would be rectangular-shaped one-story buildings occupying a total of 5,600 square feet. Off street parking spaces would be provided for 62 cars.

Applying for the use permit are Rev. Fred C. Braunschweiger, pastor, and Jack J. Craemer, president of the church's board of directors. The property includes single-family and apartment zoning.

Planning commissioners tonight will consider architectural approval of the 21-unit Canal Garden apartments at 540 Canal Street and a 13,000-square-foot retail store on the west side of Tiburon Street near Francisco Boulevard.

The three-story luxury apartment building plan includes docking facilities on the canal, individual balconies and a swimming pool.

The retail store, planned by Spero Spiliotis and Co. of San Rafael, would be of stucco finish with the front almost entirely of glass. The lot, next to the Montgomery Ward and Co. warehouse, provides for 85 off-street parking spaces.

Rezoning of 16 acres of the Terra Linda Meadows located at the west end of Manuel Freitas Parkway from unclassified to garden apartment will be considered. Applicant is Calvin C. B. Wheeler, the developer of the cooperative Terra Linda Garden apartments on the west side of Highway 101 in Terra Linda. The land is uninhabited.

Signs will be a major item before the commissioners tonight.

Under consideration will be use permits for a 35-by-17-foot Northgate Shopping Center sign on Manuel Freitas Parkway at the entrance to the center, a 6,000-pound revolving Purity Stores' sign reaching a height of 60 feet at the Northgate Center, and a 20-by-4-foot plexiglass sign featuring the San Francisco skyline for the Coldwell, Banker and Co. real estate agents at 1242 Fifth Avenue.

Lagunitas School Site Discussed

Two steps toward acquisition of additional land adjoining the Lagunitas School in San Geronimo Valley were reported at a meeting of the district board last week.

California Pacific Title Co. submitted a favorable report as to status of title. A letter from the county counsel's office volunteered legal aid in the matter and reported receipt of an appraisal.

A Christmas dance by the seventh and eighth grades of the Lagunitas School was approved for 7 p.m. Dec. 16 at the school.

The board decided to hold a single December meeting on Dec. 15, consolidating the two meetings normal in each month.

Sierra Club Balloting On Loyalty Oath

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — California's Sierra Club, devoted by tradition to conservation of natural resources, is engaged in a ballot battle over whether to require new members to submit to a loyalty oath.

The club's 16,000 members began receiving ballots yesterday to determine whether applicants must swear not to advocate the forcible overthrow of the government.

One member said, "A loyalty oath to look at trees, I've never heard of such a thing."

Club directors opposed the measure.

The by-laws amendment was sponsored by Walter Heninger of Los Angeles. His printed statement which accompanied the ballots said, "One and possibly two men will be watching the outcome of this election. To which will your vote give 'aid and comfort'—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover or Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev?"

Naturalist John Muir founded the club 68 years ago to promote the exploration, preservation and enjoyment of national scenic resources.

Sleepy Driver Injured On Road

Frederick Martin Daly, 42, salesman from Daly City, was driving south on Highway 101 half a mile north of the Greenbrae overpass at 3 a.m. today.

"I was very sleepy," he later told the California Highway Patrol, "and the first thing I remember, the car was rolling."

His small imported vehicle had mounted the divider strip and gone into soft dirt. Daly was treated at Marin General Hospital for cuts on both hands and forehead.

MONO AVENUE, MANOR

Planners In Fairfax Given Two Headaches

Center Boulevard property owners gave the Fairfax Planning Commission its first headache last night at the opening of a hearing on the city's long-in-preparation comprehensive zoning ordinance.

In 1958, owners of lots extending from Mono Avenue to what was then an extension of Broadway sold the city frontage for widening the latter street (which became Center Boulevard) at a negotiated price, with a proviso that the first 75 feet north of the boulevard would be rezoned from single-family dwelling to commercial.

In drawing up the comprehensive ordinance, the planners proposed to restore the property to residential zoning.

Last night, the commission was presented with a petition signed by 10 property owners, protesting the change. The name of Mrs. Alice Leonesio, the city clerk, headed the list.

Fire Chief Charles M. Thornton, a voting member of the planning body, subsequently moved that the 75 feet of commercial zoning be restored. But chairman Daniel M. Miller objected that to do so "creates another problem that is worse."

Miller pointed out that if the front 75 feet of the lots were rezoned commercial, and the remainder, to Mono Avenue, remained residential, none could be split into two legal lots. "You're going to create quite a lot of hermaphrodite lots there," he commented.

Thornton said the city had an obligation to grant the commercial zoning. Other members of the commission agreed with this—but also agreed with Miller that the 75-foot commercial strip would make a hodge-podge of the whole row of lots.

At length, the commission decided to invite the property owners on both Center Boulevard and the other side of Mono Avenue to appear at a continuation of the hearing, set for Dec. 5 at 8 p.m. in the city council chambers, to discuss the problem.

The second big headache was presented by Manor Hill.

The planners proposed to rezone Manor Hill from duplex to single-family dwelling. Their principal reason is that the steep terrain is served by narrow streets which, they feel, could not carry the additional traffic created by multiple dwellings.

But 34 property owners, headed by Berry W. Rogers, signed a petition to keep duplex zoning—even though the Manor Hill lots are only 5,000 square feet, while the new zoning ordinance specifies 6,000 square feet minimum for a duplex lot.

The planners put that headache off until Dec. 5 also.

Another argument developed over a proposal for a minimum 10-foot rear yard setback. J. T. Uhte, a member of the planning commission not present at the hearing, complained by letter that this was "depriving the owner of the use of his lot." Robert Roy, building inspector and also a voting member of the planning commission, backed Uhte's stand.

Waldemar E. Radtke, city councilman and planning commissioner, held that the setback is necessary to prevent anyone from building up to the rear property line to the detriment of his neighbor.

Finally, however, he proposed that the 10 feet be imposed only for the dwelling, with small accessory buildings permitted within five feet of the line. Most of the other members went along with this. No vote will be taken until the Dec. 5 session.

Some petitioners fared better.

Mrs. Elsie Creel asked that a 19,000 square foot lot she owns on Olema Drive, next to the Buon Gusto Villa restaurant, be zoned for apartments instead of duplexes. The planners saw nothing wrong with that, and, on suggestion of chairman Miller, agreed to the change.

Twenty-two residents of Wood Lane signed a petition asking their area be zoned for single-family dwellings instead of duplexes, as proposed. Mayor Kenneth M. Edgar and ex-Mayor William R. Hughes, both of Wood Lane residents, backed the petition in person.

They pointed out that the terrain is so steep that "only about a third of each lot is buildable" and many of the lots can be reached only via a 10-foot-wide private road.

"I see no objection to leaving it R-1 if that's what the people want," said Radtke.

"They all do," commented Miller. The commission agreed to the single-family zoning, but as in other cases delayed formal vote until Dec. 5.

Some 70 residents were on hand to hear the ordinance read and ask questions about it. All planning commissioners except Uhte were present. The commission now has eight members, one short of full strength.

The ordinance provides for fairly simple zoning, dividing Fairfax into single-family dwelling, duplex, apartment, limited commercial and industrial zones, with various types of commercial developments and office buildings permitted in the apartment zone at the discretion of the planners and city council. The only area zoned industrial is that now occupied by Fairfax Lumber Co.

East-West Game Most Worthwhile; Not One Cent Of Salary Is Paid

HANLEY

College football, the 1960 edition of which just closed, achieves many worthwhile purposes, but none finer than supplying All-Stars for the annual East-West game that will provide another quarter of a million dollars this year to the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children.

Any day now Bill Coffman, managing director of the game since it was first played Dec. 26, 1925 in almost forgotten Ewing Field, will announce the 48 players selected from both sides of the Mississippi for the 36th East-West game that is scheduled Dec. 31 in Kezar Stadium.

Only on a few occasions has Coffman displayed open anger. Once was after last year's East-West game when the promoter of the Senior Bowl at Mobile, Ala., claimed to have affidavits from 18 players in the 1954 and 1955 Senior Bowl saying they received pay for competing in the East-West game.

"Since the inception of the East-West game in 1925," Coffman snapped, "no coach or player has ever been paid a salary, fee or bonus of any kind. All transportation, housing and hotel bills is paid for directly by the East-West committee.

"EACH PLAYER has always been given $25 when leaving home to cover incidentals and the sum of $100 when returning, a total of $125, as reimbursement for out-of-pocket expense.

"Each coach is provided likewise with transportation, housing and food and turns in an expense account for out-of-pocket expense during the entire training period. This has averaged about $160 and has never exceeded $300 in the case of each coach. Obviously, they work for charity only."

Coffman further explained that the East-West committee's policy of paying expense money to the players long ago had been carefully examined by the NCAA and approved.

"WE HAVE repeatedly turned down offers from Senior Bowl and Hula Bowl officials to pay part of our transportation expenses for players who compete in those games after appearing here," said Coffman.

"We want nothing to do with them. Players in the East-West game are fully eligible under NCAA rules, to compete in spring sports afterwards."

BECAUSE THE Senior Bowl openly pays its players they thereby forfeit their athletic scholarships and eligibility for spring sports.

Orin E. (Babe) Hollingbery, who coached the first West team in 1925 and now is business manager of the East-West game, was much sharper in his comment than Coffman about the Senior Bowl promoter's charge.

"If anyone signed an affidavit he was paid to play in the East-West game, he is a liar, crazy or misinformed. I would like to see such an affidavit."

BOWL BIDS STILL UP FOR GRABS

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Speculation, rather than college football teams, filled most of the available postseason bowl spots today even after Penn State and Baylor announced their willingness to participate in the Liberty and Gator Bowls, respectively.

This pair yesterday joined Washington, Arkansas and Missouri, which over the weekend, announced bowl acceptances. Four of the nine major bowls have yet to fill a spot and it is unlikely that there will be much more action in that direction until after Saturday's games when many of the eligibles wind up the regular 1960 season.

The newly organized Gotham Bowl in New York may not even get off the ground. Syracuse, the defending national and Cotton Bowl champion, and a key to a good "home draw" by the Gathom committee, withdrew from all post-season consideration yesterday.

The committee still hopes to land the winner of the Army-Navy game.

The list of available narrowed down to about 10, which include: Alabama (7-1-1), Tennessee (5-2-2), Mississippi (8-0-1, Minnesota and Iowa, both 8-1, Duke, Florida, Texas and Rice, all 7-2, and Oregon (7-2-1).

Iowa and Minnesota, Big Ten co-champions, must be eliminated if not invited to the Rose Bowl. Conference rules prohibit other bowl play.

Here is the present bowl lineup, including the speculation:

ROSE—Washington (9-1), defending Big Five and Rose Bowl champ, is in. "It's just about narrowed down to Navy, Iowa and Minnesota, with some others under consideration," Huskies coach Jim Owens said last night. Navy gave Washington its only loss, 15-14, this season.

SUGAR—No berths filled. Mississippi is favored to win the Southeastern Conference title, with a victory Saturday over Mississippi State and the SEC champ usually is the host. Florido and Alabama may slip in if Ole Miss falters. The visitor may be Rice if the Owls beat Baylor and tie for the Southwest Conference title.

COTTON—Arkansas (8-2) is the host. Oregon, Alabama and Tennessee have been named as possibilities.

ORANGE—Missouri (9-1), which lost to Georgia 14-0 last New Year's Day, is back. Duke, the Atlantic Coast Conference king, may be the top choice now that Syracuse has declined.

GATOR—Baylor (7-2) is in, and Florida was invited last week but put off a decision until after its final game against Miami this weekend. If Ole Miss wins the SEC title, the Gators will accept.

LIBERTY—Penn State (6-3), is back to defend its title. Texas, Tennessee and Alabama, which lost 7-0 in the inaugural last year, are possibles.

BLUEBONNET—No team has been named, but Texas seems the logical "home" choice. Again Tennessee and Alabama seem to be the choice, depending who's left in the battle with the Liberty Bowl.

Tennessee Tech accepted a berth in the Tangerine Bowl last night.

Iowa, Mississippi Are Close Behind

COMBINED AP & UPI

Minnesota's Golden Gophers leapfrogged back into first place in both the Associated Press sports reporters' and United Press International board of coaches' college football polls this week.

But in both polls the Iowa Hawkeyes were a close second, thus indicating a photo finish in next week's closing votes.

In the A.P. vote, the Gophers had 424½ total points, Iowa 417½. But Iowa received 17½ first place votes as against 13½ for Minnesota. The UPI balloting was equally tight, with Minnesota ahead 314 to 311 in total points, but Iowa holding a 13 to 11 edge in first place votes. Mississippi was a strong third in both polls and Washington placed fourth and Missouri fifth in both.

Kansas, which knocked off last week's leader, Missouri, on Saturday, vaulted into 10th in both ratings.

Both Minnesota and Iowa have now finished their season. But Mississippi has a game remaining—with Mississippi State—and with a good showing this Saturday, could move up on the Big Ten teams.

The A.P. vote with first place tallies in parentheses:

1.	Minnesota 13½	424½
2.	Iowa 17½	417½
3.	Mississippi 13	398
4.	Washington 2	249
5.	Missouri	241
6.	Arkansas	228
7.	Navy	188
8.	Auburn 1	149½
9	Ohio State	117
10.	Kansas	48

Others receiving votes: Duke 36, Rice 34, Yale 30½, Michigan State 19, New Mexico State 9, Penn State 9, Syracuse 6, Florida 6, Texas 3, Purdue 2, Oregon 2, Michigan 2, Oregon State 1. (Yale received one first-place vote.)

The UPI ratings (first-place votes in parenthesis):

1.	Minnesota (11)	314
2.	Iowa (13)	311
3.	Mississippi (11)	267
4.	Washington	170
5	Missouri	167
6.	Arkansas	160
7.	Navy	97
8.	Ohio State	94
9.	Auburn	89
10.	Kansas	62

Second 10-11. Rice, 37; 12. Michigan State, 31; 13. Duke, 25; 14. Syracuse, 17; 15. Baylor, 15; 16. Yale, 14; 17. Purdue, 13; 18. New Mexico State, 10; 19. Tie between Alabama and Florida, 6 each.

Others—Texas, Penn State, and Army, 4 each; Utah State, Oregon and Colorado, 2 each; Ohio Univ. and Georgia Tech, 1 each.

Huskies Place Four On Coast Eleven

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—University of Washington's Rose Bowl-bound Huskies grabbed four places and UCLA, the third-place finisher in the Big Five, got three on the 1960 all-coast college football team named today.

The Huskies, making their second straight trip to Pasadena after posting a 9-1 record this season and going through the second straight year without a loss to a west coast team, got tackle Kurt Gegner, guard Chuck Allen and center Roy McKasson on the first-team line. And George Fleming, the great break-away, went into the backfield.

THE UCLANS

The UCLA men chosen were guard Jack Metcalf, end Marv Luster and Bill Kilmer, the fine tailback.

The other four spots went to four different schools, Hugh Campbell, the national pass-catching champion from Washington State, drew down one end berth; Steve Barnett, 225-pound Oregon sophomore is one of the tackles, and Terry Baker, Oregon State sophomore sensation, is in the backfield.

The fourth backfield post went to a "small" school man for the first time in many years. Dale Messer, who led his Fresno State team to a tremendous season—8-1, with one to go—was an easy choice.

Coach of the year had to be Jim Owens of Washington, who spent a rugged season watching his team win last-minute decisions.

TOP LINEMAN

Lineman of the year honors go to Campbell, who established himself as one of the great pass-catchers in the country—although only a 20-year-old sophomore.

Back of the year selection is Kilmer, the calmest individual in college ranks this year and the man who made a run-away of the individual total-yardage statistics in the Big Five.

In an odd quirk, not a single seniors made the team. There are three sophomores and eight juniors on the squad.

Golden Gate Slates Big Holiday Race

ALBANY (AP) — Golden Gate Fields decides its championship for fillies and mares with a field of 11 expected for the $10,000 Thanksgiving Day Handicap.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Beache's Boston Again, with two victories at the recent Tanforan meeting, rates as the favorite. She's been among the West's top gal racers the past three seasons.

Togetherness may provide the top competition. She won her fourth straight race here last Friday—an allowance at a mile, the same distance as Thursday's feature.

Among those asking for weight assignments were Llangollen Farm's Trying Too, a winner in New York before being shipped West two weeks ago, and Preston Madden's stakes winner, Ruwenzori.

Other entries expected are Commodier, Foreverett, Long Ears, Perizade, Two Dreams, Pink Swan and Summer Story.

In Monday's one-mile feature, Ky. Music won and paid $23.80.

Wilt Takes Point Lead

NEW YORK (AP)—Wilt Chamberlain of Philadelphia has regained the National Basketball Assn. individual scoring lead despite a tremendous scoring spree by Elgin Baylor of Los Angeles.

Chamberlain leads the West Coast flash 549-513, but the Philadelphian has played one more game than Baylor, who set an NBA single game record by scoring 71 points against New York last week, and got 52 in another game.

Baylor, however, has averaged 36.64 points a game to 36.60 for Chamberlain. Both marks are the highest in the 15-year history of the league.

Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati continues in third place with 483 points.

East Selects Bruisers To Man Line Positions

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — One thing you can say about linemen picked for the East squad and the Dec. 31 Shriner benefit game against the West:

These guys are big enough to go bear hunting with a bass fiddle. Fourteen linemen average 224 pounds. The 24-man squad was named Monday. It includes representatives from 18 colleges and universities.

Four of the East tackles weigh more than 240 pounds each.

Bill Coffman, managing director of the 36th annual Crippled Children's Hospital charity, said the West squad would be named next Tuesday.

Coach Milt Bruhn of Wisconsin will pilot the East squad. His backfield will include Wisconsin's Tom Wiesner and Ed Dyas of Auburn, fullbacks; and quarterbacks Tom Matte, Ohio State; Lowndes Shingler, Clemson; and Tom Wilson, Michigan State.

The line includes Dick Grecni, 233 pounds, Ohio University; and Bernie Casey, 210, Bowling Green; Ken Rice, 245, Auburn; Joe Rutgens, 240, Illinois; Bernie Darre, 230, Tulane; Jim Tyrer, 245, Ohio State; and Tom Gilberg, 230, Syracuse.

New Detroit Pilot Says 'No Miracles'

DETROIT (AP) — Bob Scheffing steps into one of baseball's most dangerous managerial jobs in Detroit with no illusions he'll be an overnight miracle man.

The Tigers hired him yesterday as their eighth manager since 1952, knowing it'll take time—perhaps several years—before they can challenge for a pennant.

"I don't feel I'm qualified to talk about the Tigers' problems right now," said Scheffing, who will receive a reported $35,000 a year.

"I'm no miracle man, but I have always wanted to manage a young team and I'm sure it'll improve.

Marin Pirates Finish 4th In Swimfest

Led by Terry Politi, who scored the only first place for the team, Marin Pirates swimmers garnered enough points to bring home a fourth place trophy from the Palo Alo Elks Club swim meet Saturday and Sunday.

Politi's victory was scored in the 13-14 age bracket boys 100 yard backstroke Sunday afternoon, after he qualified third in the morning heats. His winning time was 1:07 flat.

Bob Girvin racked up the highest point score among Marin swimmers taking second places in the 10 and under boys 50-yard free style, 25 free, 25 butterfly, and third in the 25 back.

Eight-year-old Robert Yeager made his debut on the team with two seconds, in the 25-yard free style and 25 breast for his age group.

Jerry Keeler was second in 10 and under boys 25 back, tied for third in 25 free, and was fourth in 25 butterfly.

Candy Beeler was the lone Pirate girl medalist with a third in the 11-12 girls 100 breaststroke.

The FISHIN' FOOL

Fresh Run Of Large Bass Located In Belvedere-Paradise Cove Area

STEVENS

An old-time adage tells us, "If a thing is worth doing it is worth doing well." Hence it behooves an amateur forger to be very careful when raising the figures on a check or the date on a fishing license. Otherwise he may be caught.

One such amateur learned the truth the hard way. He attempted to backdate a fishing license from "9" to "7." Did a fair job of it; only the stub in the license agent's book still showed "9." He was fined $100 for the trying to change the date and an additional $25 for having no license at the time he was checked. Yea verily, crime doesn't pay.

Seems to me that no one should object to buying a sport-fishing license even this late in the year. With such fishing as we have had, are having, and will likely continue having, until March of next year, the small amount of money asked by the state shouldn't be begrudged.

Did I say good fishing? Right! It is just that as far as striped bass are concerned.

OF SPECIAL interest is the swell run of large bass (10, 12 and 15 pounds) now infesting the Belvedere-Paradise Cove-California City sector. Salmon gear with three-pound sinkers on sinker-releasers, and various lures. Could be that the long awaited schools of large bass have at last made it in from the ocean. I talked with Ritchie Jarrett in Berkeley and was told most of the fish being brought from that sector show the red at base of tail and along the fins that indicates these fish are fresh runners.

OUT OF China Camp and Joe's Launching at Santa Venetia Slough, the local anglers have been doing a fine job of fish-getting for the past four days.

Joe Nerviani told me that at least 50 per cent of the anglers who went from his place made the grade, mostly with limits and everyone had fish. The way Joe put it: "Ralph, they've been knocking 'em silly!"

Joe mentioned Joe Mello having taken four limits of bass on four times out; William McGowan, limits for his fishing pal and himself, three times out. Nerviani with brother Bernard, collected limits in 45 minutes of fishing.

Fish haven't been in the lunker class — running in the three-to-five pound class, but apparently are fresh fish.

ONE THING Nerviani told me causes a sadness: Out in the deeper water the fishermen have been hooking quite a few sharks. I asked what species and Joe told me they are leopard sharks. When will the average angler learn that a leopard shark is considered a true delicacy on the table. I personally know of cases where a 20-pound striped bass was traded for a 10 pound leopard shark. Take the next such fish home and try it for eatability — but be sure it is the leopard shark, not the mud or smoothskin species.

One more extremely interesting item Joe released: Those who fish for them properly are coming in with a flock of fine flat flounders. I have always maintained that no tastier bit of fish food can be found than a fillet of flounder. Ever try them?

I repeat — bass fishing is good over a very great range.

How about you, are you getting your share?

A.L. Presses O'Malley For L.A. Franchise

NEW YORK (AP) — Del Webb and Walter O'Malley, the two titans of the major leagues, were expected to hold the center of the stormy stage today as the beleaguered American League resumed its formidable task of locating a franchise in Los Angeles.

Webb, co-owner of the New York Yankees, and O'Malley, head of the Los Angeles Dodgers, arrived here this morning for a summit meeting in Commissioner Ford Frick's office with league presidents Joe Cronin of the American and Warren Giles of the National.

O'Malley made his position quite clear even before he left the West Coast.

'NOT TILL '61'

"I'm not opposed to the expansion of the American League into Los Angeles," he said, "but not in 1961."

The position of Webb and the American League is just as plain. They are determined to grant a franchise to Los Angeles, and in 1961, O'Malley notwithstanding.

Webb was dispatched to the West Coast with instructions to offer what it considers a "reasonable" settlement to O'Malley for any expenses he might have accrued in bringing the Dodgers there three years ago. O'Malley has said that compensation to the Dodgers by the new American League entry would be the least important of the conditions.

"I am opposed to sharing the Los Angeles Coliseum in 1961," he said. "I think a new team should be located in an area 15 miles from the Dodgers home site."

SOMEWHERE ELSE

He mentioned such places as Long Beach and San Bernardino. Some American League owners are wondering why he didn't add Laguna Beach.

"O'Malley just doesn't want the American League in Los Angeles," said Nate Dolan, the blunt-spoken vice president of the Cleveland Indians. "We made an honest attempt to abide by the commissioner's wishes—to affect some kind of a fair and reasonable settlement with O'Malley. Now it's up to the commissioner to weigh all the evidence and make his decision."

NAVE LANES OPENS WITH A BANG

A crowd estimated at 800 bowling fans, city and county officials and sports celebrities were on hand to congratulate the Nave family on their beautiful 32-lane bowling center. Others above the 450 series mark were Jean Vaccaro 470, Lucile Latson 466, Rena Knittel 466, Eloise Simpson 458, Millie Burgess 459, Jane Earley 455 and Bessie Koch 541.

Filipino Gamble On Youth In Davis Cup Play Fails

BRISBANE, Australia (AP)—The Philippines' bold gamble on youth failed today and America zoomed to a 2-0 lead in the Davis Cup interzone semi-finals on smashing singles victories by Barry MacKay and Earl Buchholz.

First MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, crushed 25-year-old Eddie Dungo, playing his first Davis Cup match 6-1, 6-2, 6-0. Then Buchholz of St. Louis, added to the route by humbling 23-year-old Johnny Jose, 7-1, 6-1, 6-0, 6-2.

Jose seized the opening set from Buchholz on some sparkling play. But he lacked the experience to go all the way.

The two top-ranked Filipino aces, Raymundo Deyro, 34, and Felicisimo Ampon, 40, were benched when the nonplaying Philippine captain, Al Del Rio, decided to gamble with his youngsters.

The Americans now need only one more victory, which likely will come tomorrow when Dennis Ralston, Bakersfield, Calif., and Chuck McKinley, St. Louis play Jose and Dungo in doubles, to advance to the interzone final against Italy's European champions.

Cepeda Boosts Public Relations For Giants With Visit To Marin

Orlando Cepeda's fan club has about 175 new members today—and they're all seventh and eighth grade students at Brookside School in San Anselmo.

The "Baby Bull of the San Francisco Giants accepted an invitation to attend the school's student body meeting last Friday and entertained the kids for a solid hour, signing autographs, answering questions and exhibiting his hitting and throwing prowess.

The highlight of his exhibition was when he clouted a baseball clear out of the school property as the youngsters screamed their delight.

During his visit Cepeda told the youngsters that he was quite pleased with the selection of Alvin Dark as the new manager. He also commented about Candlestick Park, that it was too big and too windy and that he preferred old Seals Stadium as home of the Giants.

Cepeda was invited to the school by Miss Tina Press, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Press of San Anselmo, who was entertainment chairman for the assembly.

Orlando punctuated his appearance by planting a big kiss on the cheek of a young polio victim — who promptly broke down and cried from sheer delight.

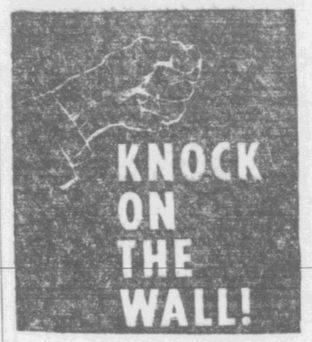

Giants' public relations would soar with more gestures like Cepeda's.

ALL THE boys named on the All-Marin County Athletic League football squad last week deserved the honor, but how the coaches who selected the squad placed Tam High's Pat Morgan as a defensive back is beyond me.

Morgan, in our opinion which is shared by many, just happens to be the best ball carrier in the league, yet no mention on the offensive team.

Rather than sit down and discuss each position, the coaches decided to mail their ballots into Commissioner Victor W. Jones who then was to tally the vote and name offensive and defensive units. Several ties for positions resulted under this voting system.

If the coaches had sat down and discussed matters, 11 offensive and 11 defensive players could have been picked and boys like Pat Morgan would be placed in their correct positions.

Lyle Mackin Given Edge

OAKLAND (AP)—Lyle Mackin of Oakland ranks as a slight favorite to win the California welterweight boxing title from Jerry Hunnicutt of Menlo Park tonight in Oakland Auditorium.

The fight is scheduled for 12 rounds.

Mackin, a smooth boxer and sharp puncher, has lost but once in 21 fights and boasts 14 knockouts.

Hunnicutt, a free swinger, broke the jaw of Tomstone Smith to record a third round kayo and claim the California title in 1959. The chunky battler has scored 16 knockouts in his 25 victories. He has lost three times.

Long Beach Vs. Tyler In Junior Rose Bowl

PASADENA (AP)—Long Beach City College was named yesterday to face Tyler Junior College of Texas in the 15th annual Junior Rose Bowl Dec. 10.

Each school, undefeated and untied this year, has made one previous trip to the bowl. Long Beach stopped Boise, Idaho, J.C. 33-13 in 1950. The next year Tyler lost a tight one, 28-26, to Pasadena City College.

Marinwood Ball League To Grow In 1961 Season

Joe Santiago, recently re-elected president of the Marinwood Little League, today said plans are underway to increase the number of major teams to five next season and the minor league structure to four or five teams.

Santiago said the increased population in the area necessitates the growth and also that additional help is needed from adults to help supervise the baseball program. Anyone interested in helping should contact Santiago.

Other officers elected to 1961 posts recently were Bob Grose, vice president; George Martus, purchasing agent; Liz Brennan, publicity; Howard McKinstry, school-field liason; Dave Grant, chief umpire and Fred Krambs, player agent.

Judo Champions

Southern Marin Recreation Center's judo instructor, Wally Jay, coached his Island Judo Jujitsu Club to the team championship at the recent Palo Alto Invitational Judo tournament.

The Island Club scored 41 victories, 12 losses and 13 draw matches in the meet which drew more than 250 contestants from 21 judo clubs in northern California.

Cal Will Snub L.A. Tourney In The Future

BERKELEY (AP) — California plans to play in the Los Angeles Invitational Basketball tournament Dec. 28-30 — but Athletic Director Pete Newell says it will be the last time.

The reason: Tournament officials last year refused to let the Bears' Straw Hats band play too. The regulation hasn't been changed.

Officials said other college teams were unable to bring musicians, so they ruled out all of them. Neutral high school groups supply the music.

Newell said that next year the Bears have a bid to Portland's Far West Classic "where the band will be welcomed."

Novato JV Grid Team Undefeated

One of the proudest football records in the recently-conducted Marin County season belongs to Novato High School's junior varsity team which went through an eight-game schedule without a defeat.

The Novatans rolled up 204 points to opponents' mere 27, and four of their eight victories were by shutout scores.

Here is the Novato JV record of victories: 13-0 over Analy, 41-0 over Sonoma, 13-7 over John Swett, 14-7 over Ft. Bragg, 28-6 over Terra Linda, 27-7 over Drake, 34-0 over Marin Catholic and 34-0 over San Rafael.

Councilmen Revoke Apartment Permits

The San Rafael City Council last night took a preliminary step toward rezoning the Marin Professional Center across from Terra Linda, directing city planners to revoke two use permits for apartments in the area.

The council action followed an appeal by Dr. William S. Neal, owner of the Marin Medical Center on Professional Center Parkway, against a use permit granted by the planning commission for a 20-unit apartment house on the parkway to Mrs. Herman Graces, 1243 Butterfield Road, San Anselmo.

Dr. Neal showed councilmen a brochure on the center's Unit One which showed it as a location for professional and administrative offices and their allied and supporting uses.

He said the county had zoned the land professional-administrative before it was annexed to the City of San Rafael. He urged that this zoning be reestablished. The area is now unclassified since San Rafael has no professional-administrative zoning.

"We are concerned with proper zoning for the area," declared Mayor John F. McInnis. "I'm abashed to find that the city's zoning out there has not reached this point."

On a motion by Councilman Charles W. Aby, the council voted three to none (Councilmen Fred Jensen and Louis H. Baar absent) to dey the use permit granted to Mrs. Graves.

Mayor McInnis added that the planning commission should revoke any outstanding use permits conflicting with the old county zoning of the area and start public hearings on rezoning the area from its unclassified state.

The two holders of apartment use permits, Mrs. Graves and contractor Parker A. Archer of Belvedere, protested the council's action.

Answered McInnis: "This council has repeatedly urged that zoning be maintained when a territory is annexed by one city and that the use of the land not be changed without a hearing with the property owners."

Also last night, the council by a three-to-one vote accepted the 42-page municipal code.

Acceptance followed a report by City Atty. Albert E. Bagshaw that ordinances not in the code (which presently contains only the charter and punitive ordinances) may be adopted to it after the code is approved. Councilmen agreed.

Councilmen postponed appointing a chief building inspector to fill the vacancy created by death of Clifford Monk until their next meeting on Dec. 5. City Manager Dan E. Andersen reported the assistant inspector Andrew Thomas is working as temporary department head.

In other action, councilmen:

1. Set public hearings for Dec. 5 on the protests of the Villa Real Property Owners Assn. against a nine-foot fence variance granted for the tennis court of Melvin Marlowe of 50 Arguello Circle, and an amendment to the zoning ordinance to permit rubbish dumps in heavy commercial and manufacturing districts. There is no dumping areas in the city limits now.
2. Received an invitation to discuss the possibility of getting a new city hall with the civic affairs committee of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon meeting Dec. 14 in the chamber office.
3. Referred to the traffic committee a 17-signature petition from Laurel Place property owners asking that parkng on Laurel Place from Lincoln Avenue to Nye Street be limited to one side of the street.
4. Asked for study by the traffic committee of changing two-hour meters on city parking lots to four hours and limiting Fourth Street meters to 40 minutes instead of one hour.
5. Approved a two-hour parking limit on both sides of Fifth Avenue between E and G Streets (there is now no restrictions) and a stop sign for southbound traffic on Bayo Vista Way at its intersection with East Crescent
6. Extended the fire zone map to include recently annexed uninhabited areas in the northern section of the city which will enforce more restrictive building conditions for commercial development, but will not change fire insurance rates.
7. Hired eight new firemen, at $447 per month, to start work on Dec. 1. They are Peter D. Fenton, Heber R. Mellor, Dennis A. Jenson, Edward H. Holbrook, Marlen L. Williams, Ronald S. Radley, Claudio F. Casartelli and John D. Landrock.

Woman Admits Check Forgery

A Salinas probation officer's wife admitted yesterday she had forged checks in San Rafael to buy two bicycles at Ed's Auto Supply last Oct. 18.

Mrs. Elizabeth Grace Mauras, 35, pleaded guilty to forgery before Judge Richard M. Sims in Marin Superior Court. She is scheduled to appear in court on Dec. 19 for a probation report and for sentencing.

As soon as the bicycles arrived in Salinas, they were shipped back to San Rafael in their original crates, according to Harry N. Mauras, the woman's husband.

Mrs. Mauras told San Rafael police she forged the $100 check so that she could buy the bicycles for her two daughters.

Tiburon Council Elects Tomorrow

The Tiburon Peninsula Coordinating Council will elect officers and directors at its meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Belvedere Community Hall.

Chairman Peter Macgowan urged delegates from member organizations to attend the meeting, since at "recent meetings, business action has been hampered by lack of quorum."

"There has been talk of removing from our roster, by means designated in the by-laws, those member organizations who are continually not present at meetings," said Macgowan.

1st SCHEDULED PACIFIC FLIGHT 25 YEARS AGO

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — It was 25 years ago today that the flying boat China Clipper lifted off the waters of San Francisco Bay to launch the first scheduled commercial flying service across the Pacific.

The China Clipper was the first of series of flying boats operated by Pan American Airways, with a cruising speed of 130 miles an hour.

About 125,000 persons witnessed the China Clipper's first takeoff for Honolulu. The four-engine ship was the biggest thing in the skies at that time. Carrying less than a ton of mail and no passengers, the plane alighted at Pearl Harbor 21 hours later. Today's jet clippers do it in less than five hours.

Tenants Council Sets District Discussion

The Marin City Tenants Council last night set Dec. 5, its next regular meeting date, as a time to discuss functions of the Marin City Community Services District.

The district board will be invited according to Hardy Westmore, to explain problems and responsibilities of the organization.

Three Named To Novato Hospital Unit

Three new directors have been elected to the Novato General Hospital board: Peter J. Ferrarese, James Grossi and Ed Grundstrom.

They will take the place of directors who have moved from the Novato area since the formation of the board and beginning of construction of the 30-bed hospital.

The hospital will be opened about Feb 1. Ferrarese was named head of a committee planning an open house.

Ferrarese is manager and a vice president of the Novato branch of the First National Bank in San Rafael. He formerly served on the board of the Novato Unified school district and heads a joint chamber of commerce-city council committee on highways.

Grossi was born and reared in the area and is a dairy rancher. He is clerk of the Burdell school district board, a Novato Farm Bureau director and a director of the Sonoma-Marin Dairymen Assn.

Grundstrom is a Novato attorney, former president of the local Kiwanis and Toastmasters clubs. He is treasurer of the and North Marin chairman for Novato chamber of commerce the Republican state central committee. He is a law partner of City Atty. Clark M. Palmer Jr.

Other directors of the hospital are Dr. Ralph Weseman, president of the board; Dr. Joseph Sereda, vice president; Dr. John Siemens, secretary-treasurer; Dr. Merton Shelton, Dr. Leo Wagner and Dr. Frederick Newirth.

PROMOTED — Abraham Hyatt will head the planning of space programs, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced today. He is now deputy director of launch vehicle programs. He was born in Russia. (AP Wirephoto)

Door Opened For Belvedere To Buy Cove Area At 'Fair Market Value'

The Belvedere Land Co. last night opened the door for a city offer to purchase the 500 feet of open area on the cove side of Beach Road at "fair market value."

The offer came after the Belvedere Planning Commission spent three hours debating three possible ways to prevent construction of two-story apartments in the area, while the developers' representatives sat quietly in the back row.

The commission unanimously decided to favor eventual opening of the entire south side of Beach Road. This would mean removal of several houses.

Commissioners, acting on a request by the city council, decided that the land could be secured by (1) condemnation at fair market value; (2) acquiring the visual or scenic easement, which would prevent any construction higher than 42 inches off the ground, and (3) rezoning for recreational, which would entail compensation to the owners for development rights.

Mayor Robert P. Watkins stated the council's views saying "We are administrative custodians of this property . . . the owners are legal custodians." He went on, "I am asking you to find a way to keep this open for the enjoyment of future generations." The audience applauded.

The commission was severely criticized by former council candidate Herbert H. Scheier, who said: "This is not the business of the planning commission . . . you are clearly out of order to recommend condemnation or rezoning. Under the city ordinance of Belvedere, a planning commission has only two functions: to consider subdivisions and to act as a body dealing with the zoning ordiance."

Commissioners said they were acting on request of the city council and that the state ordinance governing planning commissions authorized the discussion. Scheier also pointed out that the statute requires public hearings before any recommendation on rezoning.

Fireworks of the evening came when developer Howard Allen stood up and said, "Although this legal gobbledygook is interesting, we have paid taxes on this property for 90 years and have spent four years of study on this development."

He reprimanded commissioner Kenneth J. Frost for his suggestion that 200 additional boats be berthed in the area. He also criticized Mayor Watkins, saying, "He hasn't even approached us about this property."

Watkins whirled around with, "How much? . . . You've never given us a price." Allen retorted, "I do not know."

Developer Russell Rice angrily interrupted with "You are being unfair . . . we would be stupid to come out with a price at a meeting like this and I resent being put in this position."

Commission chairman George Goddard cut off the remarks and suggested that Watkins and Allen get together. A few minutes later they left the meeting and were still talking outside long after the meeting was over.

In other action the commission approved construction of an additional reading room at the Belvedere Nursery School, and decided to join the Marin Planning Council at $25 a year.

Spreading Move To Any-Season Fashions Is Forecast By Industry

By RUBY WEIL

NEW YORK (AP)—Spring may be a song to the poets, but to the fashion industry it's a headache.

Depending on the area and the time of year, spring doesn't last long enough, starts too late when Easter is in April, or is practically none-existent. As a result, women shoppers are likely to skip from winter to summer.

Unlike those of us who talk about the weather but do nothing about it, some people in the fashion industry are doing something. They're simply out to abolish spring.

The evidence was presented to store buyers and the fashion press who have been looking at spring fashion collections while ordinary mortals were still shaking the mothballs out of their winter wardrobes. They found a spreading movement toward any-season fashions.

The movement has been under way for several seasons. But this year it is crystallizing. Fabrics, colors and types of clothes all contribute to the trend toward clothes that can be worn practically year round.

The weatherman is not entirely responsible. The airplane plays a part. So do modern heating in winter and air conditioning in summer, and the steady increase in vacations any time of the year.

For the airborne traveler, there are more and more costumes with built-in comfort and wrinkle resistance.

The higher priced ones are designed for "the woman who jets from climate to climate," as one designer phrases it. This customer's coordinated costume is brought down to budget level in handy outfits for the coach flight passenger.

The change in heating and cooling pattern of homes, theaters, restaurants, in recent years has brought about a steady increase in the dress-plus costume. Dressing in layers now is recognized as a way to comfort.

FOR RESORTS

And more and more, the anytime vacation is influencing fashion. Resort fashions merge into those for spring and into summer until the line often is wiped out. For the fashion details: Culottes, introduced last year, may become classic in another few seasons. They're still a novelty for street wear. But they are everywhere in sportswear,, in at-home fashions, in travel clothes. Knee pants are around, too, under skirts which may be slit, wrapped, or buttoned.

Knitted dresses, suits, coats and costumes are so all-pervasive that sometimes one wonders whether they will crowd out woven fabrics. They range from the popular Italian flat woolknit to all sorts of novelty textures and the cotton knits.

Costumes, with short or long coats, are everywhere. Sometimes they have a new name—"compositions." Coat dresses appear in new, interesting shapes.

The most interesting prints are vivid and original. Fabrics are in the strictly fabulous category in the designer fashions. More and more, it's hard to tell cottons from silks or wool synthetics from natural fibers. And such combinations as cotton jackets with wool jersey dresses suggest cross-season purposes.

STILL CHIFFON

For evenings, chiffon goes flattering from season to season. Sequins and rhinestones glitter on spring ballgowns instead of going into storage after the "big" season as they once did.

Colors are gay or subtle, again proclaiming freedom from the old customs. Spring's navy blue is likely to be a brightened shade just a bit deeper than royal. Or it may be ignored for the pastels which move more easily into summer. Brown comes out of winter's popularity into unaccustomed prominence for the warmer seasons.

The news is silhouettes is that the relaxed feeling gets more so all the time. The chemise is around, renamed and redesigned. Full skirts continue their return to fashion approval, in pleats, easy gored versions, and occasionally full circles.

And—a note of reassurance to the men—skirts continue short, a little below the knees—and here and there, right at the kneecap.

The Blue Bird Group from Oak Manor School were conducted on a tour recently of the Ross General Hospital by Mrs. Shirlie Page, the hospital dietician.

The final stop of the tour was to the newly decorated dining room where ice cream and cookies were served to the children during which time Mrs. Page gave a lecture nutrition.

The Blue Bird Group included the following: Mrs. Robert Franchini, Mrs. Warren Burr, leaders and Debbie Fox, Sally McLellan, Barbara Perkins, Cathy McDowell, Sharon Hawk, Diane Burr, Kathleen Little, Rickie Franchini, Carolyn Kristinsen and Julie Ann Franchini.

Service, Easter Projects Fill Girl Scout, Brownie Calendar

The winter calendars of Corte Madera-Larkspur Neighborhood Brownie and Girl Scout troops are full of service projects, troop birthday celebrations and even the start of an Easter project.

Corte Madera Intermediate Troop 114 revisited Ross General Hospital this week to present Thanksgiving tray favors which they had made. Taking part in the neighborhood's monthly service project, the seventh graders made ceramic Thanksgiving figures (Puritan hats, cornucopias, loaves of bread) under the direction of Mrs. Raymond Rice. Leaders of Troop 114 are Mrs. Robert Mauch and Mrs. R. J. Beghetti.

Nineteen second grade Brownie Scouts were invested on recently by their leaders, Mesdames Vasileos Kapousouz, W. R. Costello and Louis Cimina. Meeting at Eastman Hall, Larkspur, the members of new Troop 103 invited their mothers to the ceremony, which was preceded by refreshments to celebrate the 100th birthday of founder Juliette Low.

Corte Madera Brownie Scouts of Troop 199 are already looking ahead to Easter. Accompanied by their leaders, Mrs. Paul Gray and Mrs. Walter Kozak, the third and fourth graders visited the Sir Francis Drake Nursery where they purchased tulip bulbs. The nurseryman explained the proper potting procedure to the girls and gave them the potting soil. In the spring, bright flowers will attest to their "green thumbs."

A candlelight ceremony at the home of Mrs. Scott Strathairn highlighted the birthday celebration of Larkspur Troop 140, when the girls received their year pins. The fourth grade Brownie Scouts renewed their Brownie Promise together, sang and enjoyed birthday refreshments with their leaders, Mrs. M. R. McCarty and Mrs. Strathairn.

A Father-Mother-Brownie dinner at the Corte Madera Recreation Center marked the start of the third year together for Troop 125. The 18 girls made wood fiber flower corsages for their mothers, as well as matching flower placecards. Each Brownie participated in the evening's entertainment, and received her year pin from leaders, Mesdames Albert De Mello, Joseph Pedone Clive Mee.

Five new Brownies were invested into Corte Madera Troop 105 when the troop celebrated its birthday at the home of Mrs. R. M. Strittmatter, their leader. Year pins were presented to the troop members by Mrs. K. C. Thompson, and the newly invested Brownies joined the circle after receiving their Brownie pins from Mrs. Strittmatter.

Scholarship Applications Are Asked By Marin Zonta Club

Applications for Amelia Earhart scholarships are now being accepted by Zonta International for the 1961-62 school year. Mrs. Margaret Hedden, president of the Zonta Club of Marin County announced at the recent meeting of the club.

The $2,500.00 grants, offered qualified women for advanced study in aeronautical fields were established in 1938 by the executive women's service organization, as a memorial to Amelia Earhart. The world-famous air pioneer was an active member of Zonta (her only non-professional affiliation) for many years before her disappearance in 1937 in the initial attempt to circle the globe at the equator.

Funds for the annual grants are provided jointly by Zonta's more than 430 clubs in 17 countries. The Marin Zonta Club activities center on scholarships for high school graduates.

Candidates or instructors, wishing to recommend students, can obtain further information about the Amelia Earhart scholarship grants from Zonta's headquarters office, 59 East Van Buren Street, Chicago 5, Ill., or direct from the chairman of Zonta's Amelia Earhart scholarship committee: Dr. Helen Pearce, 490 Oak Street, S.E., Salem, Oregon.

Nursery School Parents Hear Art Professor

Howard A. Slatoff, associate dean of students at Alameda County State College, addressed the members of the Corte Madera, Mill Valley and San Anselmo Cooperative Nursery Schools at a recent meeting held at Olney Hall, College of Marin.

The lecture, "Creativity in the Child," covered many facets of how the nursery school conditions the child to the wide world of learning. The discussion explored creative materials used to provide the child recognition of his own abilities and to give him an awareness of himself and his capabilities.

Slatoff is also associate professor of art at Alameda and has been a speaker at state and national conferences on general education, art education and nursry school education.

Focus Show Will Honor Novato Club

"She who buys her holiday dress in November has something to wear when it comes December." So says the Novato Junior Women's Club on Tuesday, Nov. 29 at the popular Fashion Focus luncheon at Rickey's when they invite you to "Head for the Holidays."

In other words, the early bird does get the worm when it comes to Christmas fashion shopping, and on Tuesday attractive members of the Novato Junior Women's Club will prove the old adage is true.

To keep holiday goers on a carefreeway with no holiday detours, Nancy Levy will unwrap 20 gay and fashionable packages that can be worn to holiday coffee, a school Yuletide party or a gay Christmas dinner. Fashions to get as well as to give will be highlighted, for what delights women of all ages and figures more than a gift that is delightfully wearable.

In a holiday mood will be the Tuesday surprises with proceeds going to aid the work of Muscular Dystrophy in Marin, a cause that has been adopted by the Novato Junior Women's Club as a special Christmas project.

Coiffures to head for the holidays as perfect compliments to the around-the-clock fashions will be styled by a Novato beauty salon.

The holiday luncheon begins at 12:30 P.M. on Tuesday with reservations made by calling Rickey's.

Birth Boom Gloom

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Robert C. Cook, president of the Population Reference Bureau, says that the current increase of 50 million people each year represents much too rapid a growth for the world's resources.

In the bureau's annual report, he also said that universial understanding of the population problem is the first step toward lower birth rates. He said that time is crucial because mounting population pressure could defeat the hope of a better life among millions in underdeveloped areas.

Mistletoe Queen Ready To Harvest Kissing Sprigs

GEORGETOWN, Tex. (UPI) — "Kissin' is pleasin' in any season — but mistletoe makes it more so."

So reads the slogan of the Thies Mistletoe Co., a firm interested in the preservation and aggrandizement of romance as a commercial enterprise.

The firm is a one-woman operation, owned by Mrs. Charles Tucker, known in these parts as "the Mistletoe Queen."

"Mistletoe was sacred with the Druids," Mrs. Tucker said. "It was, and is, believed by many to have medicinal value. Some people felt that a sprig hung over the doorway would ward off evil spirits, and some people who live off the beaten track still think so.

"Of course everybody believes mistletoe stands for tenderness and love. Ah yes, so do I," she added.

For Mrs. Tucker's company, the busy mistletoe season begins in November and continues until a few days before Christmas.

She and her Georgetown neighbors gather mistletoe from all over central Texas for retail distribution. The sprays with their waxy berries are placed in plastic bags and then packed in ventilated cartons for shipment.

Social Secretary To First Lady Expects A Lot Of Entertaining

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—The next first lady will do a lot of entertaining, predicts a long-time friend who on January 1 will join the White House official family.

Letitia Baldrige, who will serve as social secretary to Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, said "I imagine she will entertain a great deal. Jackie has all the gifts, the charm and ability necessary to be a hostess. She was born to the role.

"She knows that entertaining is a powerful weapon in creating good relations among people."

Miss Baldrige, a friend of Mrs. Kennedy's for 20 years, called her a "young woman of many interests and many talents . . . her first thoughts are for her husband and family, of course. But things will be lively at the Wihte House.

Letitia Baldrige, although still in her early 30's, is a veteran in the world of officialdom and diplomacy.

The daughter of a former congressman (Republican), she was social secretary to David K. E. Bruce (Democrat) during his ambassadorship in Paris from 1948 to 1951, and for Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce (Republican) when she was ambassador to Italy from 1953 to 1956.

"I come from a GOP family," she laughed, "but it's quite Democratic now."

"But this job," she added seriously, is one outside politics."

Miss Baldrige—Tish, to her friends—was born in Omaha, Neb., the daughter of a prominent attorney, H. Malcolm Baldrige, who served in congress during the Hoover administration. Her parents now live in Washington. But Tish for the last few weeks has been staying with her brother, Malcolm Jr., and his wife, at their Woodbury, Conn., farm where she is trying to complete a novel before she moves to Washington.

It will be her second book—her first, "Roman Candle," was based on her years in Rome with Mrs. Luce.

In a telephone interview, Miss Baldrige talked of her long friendship with the next First Lady.

They first met in Washington, she said, and the friendship continued through boarding school at the fashionable Miss Porter's in Farmington, Conn., at Vassar College in Poughkeepsie, N.Y., and at the Sorbonne in Paris where Mrs. Kennedy studied for a year. Miss Baldrige was working for Ambassador Bruce at the time.

"I didn't campaign for Jack," she said of the president-elect. "I was too busy with the book and with trying to wind up my job at Tiffany's."

For the last 4½ years she has been head of public relations for the Fifth Avenue jewelry store.

The woman who succeeds Mrs. Mary Jane McCaffree as spokesman for the First Lady is a statuesque (nearly six feet tall) blonde interested in many of the same things as her new boss. Miss Baldrige, like Mrs. Kennedy, is an authority on art. She majored in its history in college.

Both women are linguists — Miss Baldrige speaks fluent French and Italian. Both are to the manner born. Tish's mother was president of the Junior League in Omaha; Tish is a member of the league in Washington.

Tish said she approaches her new job with "absolute joy and awe . . . to be a member of the team of this incredible man and his wife . . . "

Of her new boss, she adds, "She is a woman who has got everything including the next president."

Survey Cites Tales Of Cotton's Worth

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Cotton is regarded by mothers as the outstanding fiber for many items of their children's clothing, but wool and nylon also rate high for some garments, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reports.

The conclusions are based on an analysis of replies made by nearly 2,500 mothers participating in a nationwide survey conducted for the Agricultural Marketing Service.

Cotton was found to be the leading fiber for six clothing items: boy's sport shirts and school pants, girls' blouses, dress-up dresses, slips and skirts. Cotton placed second only to wool for outer jackets or short coats.

Cotton's chief virtues, the mothers said, included ease of care and other laundering properties, plus nice appearance and durability.

Wool was the preferred material for outer jackets and ranked second for skirts mainly because of its warmth, appearance and durability.

Horse Is Girl's Best Friend

By VIVIAN BROWN

A lonely girl can find great companionship in the friendship of an animal, says Meg Hauseman of Kings Point, Long Island.

Meg had no close girl or boy friends and her sister and brother were much older, so she fell in love with a horse when she was 9 years old.

"A horse is a wonderful friend. When I got this pony Cinnamon Sugar, she was just to be a companion, but I learned to ride well enough to go into some horse shows, and she has become more than a friend. She has made me a good rider," says Meg, who becomes a teenager on her next birthday.

For the third year Meg has participated in the National Horse Show in New York. She has won more than 200 ribbons, 11 championships and 10 reserves. She won the large pony championship with another poney she owns, Serendipity. She rides him in winter, and the smaller pony, her room mare, Cinnamon Sugar stays home.

Serendipity boards out, so Meg doesn't assist with those chores. But she helps a good deal with Cinnamon Sugar. Her dad gives her a hand with the water pails she can't lift.

Meg has fun keeping her pony clean. She says it is a real production.

"I tie her to a hitching post. Then I get a bucket of warm water and soap suds, and wash her with a sponge. Her tail and mane must be soaped, and this causes plenty of splashing when she swooshes around. I clean her with the hose and she drinks from it. She likes the cold hose water even though she doesn't like cold weather," Meg explains.

Meg sometimes wins seven or eight ribbons at one show. She wins small money awards.

"I use the money to help pay for the horse. I'm saving up now to buy a horse van."

A horse need not be expensive, she points out, if you can care for him yourself, and have access to hay and oats, "but a horse sure can eat a lot," she says. "It costs about $40 a month."

She also has a French poodle and a cat, and finds that all animals are wonderful friends as well as pets. She knits and cooks, plays baseball, golf and swims, but best of all she likes to be with her animal friends.

Fairfax Club Plans Christmas Party

A Christmas party will be held at the meeting of the Fairfax Women's Club on Dec. 6. Each member is to bring two gifts, one for another member and one for the clubhouse. Serving refreshments will be Mesdames Harold A. Druhan, Floyds Elliott, John T. Fitzhenry, A. E. Frerichs, T. B. Geary and Harry P. Hansell.

At the recent meeting of the club, conducted by Mrs. George Jones, president, a luncheon was served. On the committee were Mrs. C. W. Carle, chairman, and Mesdames DeLos C. Butts, Alfred Wuestefeld, Robert Mullins and L. B. Curtis. Cards were played during the afternoon.

Because of the Christmas holidays, the meeting on Dec. 20 has been cancelled. Instead one will be held on Jan. 3.

Turkey Whist Tonight

Executive Tells How To Select Spouse In New Book

What a rising young salesman should look for in a wife is spelled out by Vincent F. Sullivan, New York newspaper executive, in a book called "How to Sell Your Way into the Big Money," just published by Prentice Hall. He writes —

"A wife must be ambitious not only for herself but for her husband. She must work with him, prod him, push him if he needs it, but never too obviously nor too fast.

"She must be a good sport about disappointments and setbacks. When a real crisis takes place, her philosophy should be, 'Well, I'm on the floor now — I certainly can't fall off from here.'

"She must demonstrate her loyalty to you, and show a deep respect for your abilities and your ambitions.

"If she quibbles about money — drop her fast.

"If she has a good sense of humor, including the ability to laugh at herself, she probably will do.

"She must be big enough in mind to accept your friends and modes of recreation without sarcastically telling you that perhaps they might be improved upon or changed.

"Above all, she must show a keen interest in the man that you are, the problems of your job, and your supreme ambition to reach out for the high salary objective.

"If you can't find a girl with all the aforementioned qualifications, you should just keep trying."

Good luck, young man!

This of course is just one facet of Mr. Sullivan's advice on how to become a super-salesman. After outlining the techniques, from product research to the dotted line, he winds up with a call to "get back to work."

"The secret of Soviet successes," he says, "is that their people work as if coffee breaks didn't exist; our people work as if nothing else existed."

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, Nov. 22, the 327th day of the year with 39 more in 1960.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning stars are Mercury and Mars.

The evening stars are Jupiter, Venus and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1819, George Eliot, an English writer whose real name was Mary Ann Evans, was born.

In 1852, the second French empire received public recognition when more than 7 million persons voted to back the government of Emperor Napoleon III.

In 1860, Lillian Russell made her debut in vaudeville in New York City.

In 1906, delegates to the International Radio Telegraph convention adopted the S-O-S . . . three dots, three dashes, three dots, as a distress signal for ships at sea.

In 1909, Helen Hayes made her New York stage debut.

A thought for today: English writer Anthony Trollope said: "Those who offend us are generally punished for the offense they give; but we so frequently miss the satisfaction of knowing that we are avenged."

Al Bianchi Brings Honor, Recognition To Marin

It is always a great thrill when a member of our community receives recognition.

Last week, the California Farm Bureau Federation presented a gold medal award for distinguished service to agriculture to Alfred J. Bianchi of Pt. Reyes Station.

This is no small honor. He is only the seventh California farmer to be so honored.

Yet many Marin residents don't know Al Bianchi or of his works. In fact, there are many of us who seldom relate Marin County to agriculture at all, much less realize that it is one of the state's leading dairy counties.

Bianchi, a member of the Farm Bureau for 38 years, has served in too many capacities to even list here. Suffice it to say he has effectively handled practically every type of organizational job from heading his own area's Farm Bureau Center to chairmanship of the federation's statewide dairy department.

He has served for a quarter of a century on the San Francisco Milk Production Control Board, much of the time as chairman, heads the Sonoma-Marin Dairyman's Association, is a member of the California Beef Council, a director of the Sonoma-Marin District Fair and was for three years secretary of the American Dairy Association.

When his full range of activities is listed it seems impossible that he would have had time to operate a dairy. But he manages to sandwich it in, between his many other duties, on his 800 acre ranch at Pt. Reyes.

We are proud of Al Bianchi and honored that a citizen of our county has been chosen for such well deserved state-wide recognition.

To you, Al, we offer a respectful, Conngratulations.

Fiddle, Chew; Fiddle, Chew

This is the time of year when the cricket in search of winter warmth invades our Marin homes and delights us with his chirping solos. The males produce their music by vibrating their forewings together.

However endearing his nocturnal song, the cricket is a highly destructive fiddler and is a chewer of many kinds of plants, often doing severe financial damage to crops. Nor is the cricket a respector of man and his works—it eats holes in clothing and has been known to gnaw rugs and drapes.

This was a big year for crickets in northern Marin. Most are dead by now. But a few elderly survivors are still fiddling around, chewing holes in Miladys' party dress and Papa's ski suit.

HELP THEM DON'T HINDER THEM

A young woman admitted touching off no less than nine blazes in Milwaukee recently for the purpose of seeing her boy friend—a fireman—in action.

The judge, unmoved by her romantic reasons, put her on two years' probation.

Firemen, policemen, and all government employees have enough to cope with in carrying out their normal duties. Fortunately, it is only a minority of citizens who go out of their way to make things more difficult.

Much of the edge can be taken off the burdents that public servants assume by encouragement on the part of the people they protect. A friendly greeting, a clear and courteous letter, and a cheerful obedience to the law can all make for the smoother running of our society.

And, if "order is the first law of heaven," we can be sure that God is pleased by our attempt to bring some of His order to the running of things on earth.

"Admonish them to be subject to princes and authorities, obeying commands, ready for every good work."

Never let me forget, O Father, that my actions have effects for better or worse, on others.

Scientific Control Of Weather Might Not Prove Such A Boon

NEW YORK (AP) — Science now holds out the hope that man eventually will be able to control the weather.

This possibility, on the face of it, sounds like a great boon. But is it?

There is no doubt that the achievement of automatic weather by man would offer many advantages.

It would enable him to grow vastly larger crops, thus averting for a longer time the crisis of worldwide hunger brought on by over-population.

It would help reduce his cost of living. He would need less clothing, less fuel for heating purposes—at least in his home. He would spend less for cold cures and cough drops.

It would enable him to reduce the rigors of both heat in summer and cold in winter.

Doesn't it all sound wonderful? But the question remains—would it actually be so wonderful, assuming an unbridled science might manage to achieve these miracles?

We already have done much to ameliorate the extremes of bad weather. We have air-conditioned houses, cars, theaters, offices, factories and bowling alleys to protect us from extreme high temperatures in July and August.

We have marvelous heating systems to warm our autos, our homes and our places of public work and assembly in winter.

It is one thing to air-condition a home. It is quite another thing to seek to air-condition the world — hitherto regarded as a chore of God or nature.

ARE WE WISE enough yet to make our own weather? Do we know enough yet about ourselves to even pick the weather which would be best for us?

Many have dreamed of an earth of flowering plenty bathed forever in a mild and beneficient sunshine. But is a security such as this the real answer to our life's true needs?

IT COULD turn out to be a lotus nightmare.

The rhythm of the changing seasons, some have held, is responsible for the vigor of people who dwell in a temperate clime.

To do our best—and feel our best we need an icicle time as well as a time of sunshine.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Powers That Be Obsolete Too?

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

A large population increase in the San Rafael area is apparent.

It is also apparent that the powers that be in San Rafael ignore the traffic mumbo jumbo during the rush hours particularly. Excepting, of course, the eager Meter Maids; they are consistently efficient.

The free-for-all, jockeying for position to go under Highway 101 to enter the City of San Rafael from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m., is most interesting to the observer and has upset many a working person's equilibrium.

If the ordeal is survived without fender creases, etc., the home-comer takes his or her place on the 2nd Street lineup where coordinated signals are unknown and no-left turn directions enforced (exception—maybe a wandering high school kid).

If the driver selects going from Francisco to 3rd St., he encounters a stop sign misplaced scores of feet before the actual intersection. Evidently the sign was sunk by a person wearing a sleep mask.

Now if one is endeavoring to go south on Highway 101 from 2nd Street, he is of the opinion that the right of way is his. The same illusion appears to the driver on Francisco Street. Never the twain shall meet.

They say that the San Rafaey City Hall is obsolete. How about the powers that be?

Trailer Residents Not Slum Dwellers

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In your issue of Nov. 14 I find under "What Our Readers Think" a letter from Mrs. Everett Petker (without an "i" dotted nor undotted).

In this letter Mrs. Petker states that the County Planning Commission had designated the area where she now lives a "semi-slum" area.

She and others are now objecting to become a "full-slum" area in refusing to let someone invest about $250,000 to develop a "plush" trailer park.

A slum is a "thickly populated, squalid part of a city, inhabited by the poorest people."

As I wrote in my letter of Nov. 3, the persons who are objecting to the establishment of a trailer park do not know what they are talking about.

A 10x50 trailer costs not less than $5,000, sometimes over $10,000. The average rental for trailer space is about $30 to $75. Under these conditions people who are used to living in slums cannot afford such luxuries.

Novato City has at present about four trailer parks and I dare say that you cannot call the dwellers thereof living in a "slum." I think, and in fact I know, that they are just as respectable, law-abiding and community spirited people as those who are now critical of their way of living.

I am incensed about the attitude of some people regarding trailer parks and their dwellers because, as I said in my previous letter, I am seriously thinking of selling my home and purchasing a trailer and live in it to spend my last few years in comfortable retirement.

I might also add that I have looked over the trailer parks in Novato City and had decided to live in one of them. However, I do not believe that I care to live with people who are so bigoted and form their opinions on just hearsay or rumors.

Amazing Attitude Shown In Letter

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

As Dr. Post stated ("Letters," Nov. 16), "election post mortems don't change the vote." He still wrote you, regardless, because he was "deeply disturbed" that the fluoridation proposal was defeated. And I am writing you, now, as a voter who is even more "deeply disturbed" at the amazing attitude toward the democratic process shown in his letter.

In spite of an overwhelming majority against flouridation, he insists that its opponents are merely "misguided followers" who were "misled" by the "distortions" and "lies" of "a very small group." Evidently, the doctor has but little respect for the intelligence of the Marin County voter, if he actually believes that so many could be so bamboozled by so few.

These voters did not, as he claims, "deprive" and "punish all the children of Marin," any one of whom can be dosed with fluorides, readily and inexpensively, by a choice of several different methods —a fact the fluoridationists persistently choose to ignore.

But what is really sinister about the Doctor's letter is his equation of anti-fluoridation publicity with "the big lie" of "Hitler's Germany," and his proposal of laws regulating the conduct of future campaigns to influence votes!

This is still a free country, Dr. Post, where citizens may freely reject the repeated efforts of people like yourself to use political processes as a means of forcing their private viewpoints upon the public at large.

There are many voters who, like the undersigned, did not oppose fluoridation because of the "confusion" and "fear" that you infer, but because we stand for your right to take medicine if you wish to, and our own to refuse it if we wish to.

What really scares us, instead, is that an obviously well-educated letter-writer like the Doctor seeks the aid of legislation to compel others to act as he pleases they should act. This sort of thinking is one of the greatest dangers our nation now faces.

Other Streets Need Cleaning

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In line with your article of yesterday (Nov. 15) about cleaning up the streets, etc., in San Rafael, I urge that you ask San Anselmo to do the same.

One of the dirtiest areas is that three block section on Red Hill Boulevard between Sequoia and Highland stations.

Also the owners of the corner lots along the main highways in Larkspur and Corte Madera should be notified to clean up.

"I come from common stock," confessed Groucho Marx, "and furthermore, in the 1929 Wall Street crash, common stock made a bum out of me."

Groucho recalls "the most sincere compliment" ever paid him. A stout, pleasant faced lady (he never had laid eyes on her before) buttonholed him on a Chicago street and told him earnestly, "Don't die, Mr. Marx. Go on living. While you live, I'll live!"

The girl friend of a far-out beatnik singer burst in on him unexpectedly and caught him playing "Stardust" on his guitar. "For Zen's sake, man," she implored, "don't go commercial! You'll wind up being just another Perry Como!"

Some People Have Hard Time Saying Things That They Mean

You know, some people say what they mean and mean what they say.

And others don't say what they mean. And you've met people who don't mean what they say.

Now the poor military takes a continuous beating over their carefully planned instructions—which can be interpreted only by a Sanskrit scholar with bifocals and three hours of spare time.

For instance, a MAJOR CHANGE NOTICE issued by the Air Force for its manual:

THE NUMBER of volumes in AFM 67-1 is being reduced. This will be accomplished by publication of amendments which will integrate parts of or whole volumes into other volumes which contain procedural or informational data having similar organizational or functional application.

"Amendments published after this date will reflect the consolidation and elimination of duplication, and will provide simplification of procedural material and provide guide lines for maintenance of volumes until all portions have been integrated.

"Section 2, Volume XV, is being published as Chapter 1, Part Two, Volume I, AFM 67-1 in amendment 74, volume I, dated 25 April 1960.

" . . . the page numbers of chapter 1, part two, volume I, which will begin with 1-1, will duplicate the page numbers in chapter 1, part one, volume I (now section 1, volume I)."

And so on and on and on.

THEN THERE is the irate citizen who rises in public wroth. Even with carefully prepared notes, or with no notes, the citizen usually does not say what is planned to be said before the audience.

And the next day, reading it in those nasty newspapers, the citizen denies having said such things. The sad thing is, that the only person taking notes, verbatim, is the newspaper reporter.

And then, if the dumb reporter tries to read the name the citizen has written down —and cannot read the handwriting or find a close facsimile in the telephone book, even though it is there — the result is a mispelling of a name.

THERE IS AN OLD saying among newspapermen. You can get an address, telephone number, age, date, anything wrong — but don't louse up someone's name.

So to Mrs. Everett Petker of Novato (and heaven help us if the lino operator louses up her name), who took the time and effort to check her newspaper twice, and then write a letter to the editor, my apologies.

But only for misspelling her name.

AND SPEAKING of people who say things they don't mean and mean things they don't say.

There was the man who came into the office to say:

"I want to put an ad in to sell my dog." He showed pictures of the dog. He said he was crippled and couldn't take care of the pooch.

He didn't want to put that ad in the paper. He wanted to buy the dog. He wasn't meaning what he was saying or saying what he was meaning.

Winner, Loser Conduct Themselves In Best Tradition Of U.S. Politics

WASHINGTON — Winner and loser alike are conducting themselves in the best tradition of American politics.

By his early appointments —Edgar Hoover, Allen Dulles, Clark Clifford — and by his statements, John Kennedy is showing himself fully aware that, with his two-tenths of one per cent majority, he must create an administration of national consolidation to be effective.

He is also quite right, I think, in insisting that, having outlined his policies quite definitely during the campaign, he expects to press forward with his main measures —defense, outer space, aid to education, minimum wage, and efforts to speed the rate of economic growth.

WITH CONGRESS moving a degree or two to the right by the addition of 23 more Republicans—even somewhat more to the right than during the short post-convention session — President Kennedy is not going to get everything he wants exactly as he wants it.

But despite the narrowness of the vote, he has no reason to proceed on the premise he lost the election. He won. It seems to me that the "Washington Post" is right in saying that "the closeness of the popular vote is perhaps a check on strong partisanship, but it is by no means a deterrent to strong leadership."

RICHARD NIXON, too, is taking a large-minded attitude. His immediate post-election appeal was to rally the country behind the new government. Further, he took no step to slow up the prompt and orderly transition, even though there appeared to be about a 300-to-1 chance that recounting might alter the outcome. Nixon is clearly disposed to use constructively his mammoth popular vote and not heckle or pettily hobble the new Administration. That is greatly to his credit.

Particularly because of his fine showing at the polls, the suggestion has been made that Nixon should be offered, indeed induced to accept a high position in the Kennedy administration. The theory is that this action would help unify the country behind the new government.

I think this would be wrong —wrong for Kennedy and wrong for Nixon and wrong for the country. It would be undesirable, it would be harmful.

AS ONE WHO believes that some Republican appointments would be helpful, I believe that Nixon is from every standpoint exactly the man not to name. Appointees like Douglas Dillon, Thomas Gates, John McClay, or Robert Lovett, yes. Nixon, no.

A Nixon appointment—and I can't believe he would accept —would serve to divide the country, not unite it. It would deny to the millions of Americans who wanted him President the feeling that they can have in Nixon an independent voice through whom to bring their views to bear upon the government. Nixon's voice ought to be responsible and constructive—but not muted by participating in the administration.

Men Encounter Health Hazards That Women Don't Have To Face

We're a healthy bunch of humans. Did you know that?

I've been checking the studies of our American bodies, male and female. We're downright impressive.

Ladies, you are taller, wider and stronger than your mothers. You'll live longer—you're practically indestructible. You withstand disease remarkably well and bear children with little risk You'll die from six to 10 years later than your husband.

We men will live longer than our fathers did. We are bigger than they were, and stronger. But our progress has not been as striking as women's. Modern medicine hasn't helped us as much as it has our wives.

Men who are successes in their work run some special risks. If they aren't careful they'll fall over with a heart attack, or a stroke. Many leaders will die early that way.

Our children? They're really superior. They had the best of pre-natal care. They were born husky and well. They are getting better medical attention than any large group of children has had. They eat balanced diets. They receive mineral and vitamin supplements. They are maturing faster than we did. They'll break all athletic records. They'll seem brighter than we are, because they're going through better schools. They'll be quite free from disease.

The future looks very rosy for them.

Our grandchildren? I'm afraid to predict. There's almost no limit to their possibilities.

We Americans are lucky, aren't we?

(Q) "We have one child, a baby boy. Should we raise him to believe in Santa Claus? Or should we be strictly truthful with him?" —Mrs. R. L.

(A) It doesn't make much difference. If the other children in the neighborhood believe in Santa Claus you might raise him that way. Then he will not feel too different, and you'll avoid embarrassing arguments. On the other hand, if you believe strongly that the Santa legend should not be taught, don't teach it. He'll enjoy Christmas either way.

Tighter Rules On Aid To Needy Children Urged

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A drastic tightening of the state welfare code covering aid to needy children was advocated yesterday at a state senate hearing by Jay R. Ballantyne, district attorney of Tulare County.

Ballantyne spoke as a representative of the District Attorneys Assn. of California. He accused the State Social Welfare Board of enacting rules "which have recognized and encouraged men living in the home of recipient mothers in illicit relationships which have created immoral environments" for innocent children.

He told the Senate Fact-Finding Committee on Labor and Welfare that legislation should be enacted which would require a six months' period of separation by a father from the home as an eligibility requirement for families receiving aid to needy children.

The Word REALTOR MEANS Service!

The services performed by realtors are both expensive to render, and important to everyone.

It is the function of a realtor to see that a buyer is found for his client's property, that the best possible fair price is paid, and that the maze of legal and technical detail is properly handled.

To find buyers, the members of the real estate profession actively create a demand for real property. To do it, they incur heavy expenses for advertising. In the process, they constantly improve the American standard of living, by persuading people to live in better homes.

The average seller has no very clear idea of how much his property is worth. He is apt to overvalue it, and thus make it impossible to sell, as he is to under-value it and thus deprive himself of a fair return. Realtors, with first-hand day-to-day knowledge of property values, perform a valuable service in suggesting the best fair price for any particular property.

Like almost everything else, real property these days is purchased on the installment plan. How he finances his purchase is up to the buyer, of course. But to conclude a sale on behalf of the seller, a real estate broker frequently is called upon to assist the purchaser in locating the most attractive financing to suit the particular transaction. A realtor must have a vast and up-to-date knowledge of the money-markets as well as of the property-markets.

Hike In Auto Taxes Urged

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California motorists face the prospect of a 66-million-dollar increase in car taxes.

The Senate Transportation Committee, meeting here yesterday, raised that possibility to finance improvements in county roads and city streets.

Car owners now pay $2 per $100 of assessed vlauation, in addition to the flat $8 registration fee, in lieu of a personal property tax.

Sen. Randolph Collier (D-Yreka), the chairman, said the committee prefers a 50 per cent increase in the in lieu tax from $2 to $3 to a one-cent jump in the state gasoline tax.

Richard M. Zettel, committee constultant, said the step-up would cost an average of $7.22 a year. It would bring in an estimated 66 million dollars the first year.

Christmas Opera

This year's Christmas production of the San Francisco Children's Opera Company will be "Santa Claus' Beard," a two-act musical to be presented on Dec. 11 at 2:30 p.m. in the Marines' Memorial Theater in San Francisco.

State Official Cites Gas Octane Cheating

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Some California service station operators misrepresent the octane rating of the gasoline they sell, the head of the state Bureau of Weights and Measures charged yesterday.

William A. Kerlin told the Assembly Committee on Manufacturing, Oil and Mining Industries that unscrupulous operators often put a high number on a gas pump, intimating it represents the octane of the fuel.

One station, he said, placed the figure 94 on one pump, 96 on another and 98 on a third. This operator charge different prices for the fuel from each pump, although the gasoline all had the same octane rating, Kerlin said.

He asked for a "truth in advertising" law to cover such practices.

Otis Wright, senior petroleum investigator for the bureau, said it's hard to prosecute such cases because station operators contend the numbers on the pump do not actually refer to octane ratings.

Kerlin said he expects the problem to get worse in the next few years if gasoline companies continue to stress octane ratings in their advertising.

A good portion of the complaints, he said, come from the Southern California area.

A spokesman for the California Federation of Service Stations, asked for the state to adopt a standard method to measure octane ratings.

The committee is conducting hearings on marketing practices.

State To Tighten Up On Nursery Teachers

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — State officials are moving to stiffen the license requirements of teachers in California's rapidly growing day nurseries.

Mrs. Eunice B. Evans, deputy director of social welfare, said today that a committee will soon be named to bring up teacher training standards "just as high and as fast as we can."

The social welfare department licenses more than 1,000 private, parent - cooperative, church and non-profit nurseries serving 60,000 children annually in California.

With a steady rise in the number of working mothers, the number of nurseries has jumped 60 per cent in the last 10 years. New schools sprout up every month.

A departmental survey of nearly 1,000 nursery teachers and directors indicates that the staffs of these schools differ widely in education and training.

About 35 per cent of the teachers had high school or less; only 21 per cent had four years of college or more.

Among directors, 19 per cent had high school or less, and 42 per cent had four years of college or more.

About 66 per cent of the teachers reported no previous nursery experience. Among teachers with experience, approximately two-thirds had less than three years.

Among directors, 49 per cent reported previous nursery experience.

Mrs. Evans said that during the past few years, nursery staff members have turned out enthusiastically for training programs at Mills College, and San Jose, San Diego and Sacramento State Colleges. She said that more than four out of five of the surveyed teachers and directors wanted additional training.

Fort Mason at San Francisco was set aside as a United States military reserve by proclamation of President Millard Fillmore Nov. 6, 1850.

Science, Public Get Blame In Smog Problem

PASADENA (AP) — A Caltech professor blames not only industry, but scientists and the public as well, for the continuing smog problem.

Dr. Fritz Zwicky, in an article published by a Caltech alumni magazine, proposes a crash research program as a first step toward solution of the problem.

He also said no one should be allowed to drive a car alone without paying a special tax. This would be an incentive for car pools. The special tax revenue would be used to help finance the research program.

He said presidents of local universities should put their men to work on the problem.

Dr. Zwicky, professor of astro-physics, said the auto industry has failed to face the facts of air polution. "Indeed . . . the automobile industry, instead of developing better engines and smog suppressors, concerned itself with the styling of mammoth cars."

But, Zwicky said, industry alone is not to blame. "The scientists themselves and, in particular, the administrators of scientific institutions . . . have dismally failed in their responsibility to organize their manpower and technical sources."

Some 12 million persons in the United States purchase hunting licenses each year.

Solon Will Ask School Bond Use

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The legislature will be asked to authorize immediate use of 30 million dollars in state school bonds and to boost the monthly rate of loans from 10 million dollars to 12 million.

Assemblyman Vernon Kilpatrick (D-Lynwood) announced yesterday he would introduce the bills at the request of the California Teachers Association when the legislature convenes in January.

The proposed 30-million dollar allocation would meet a backlog of school construction projects and school site purchases which Kilpatrick said already totals more than 25 million dollars.

More than 200 steamship lines maintain offices in the port of San Francisco.

Congolese Army Forces Top Ghana Envoy From Country

TONY STAYS HOME—Antonio Di Tardo, who at 85 is the oldest man in San Quentin Prison, sits in his cell in the prison hospital after turning down parole for the 27th time. Picture of Christ decorates wall. Although all his days for 40 years have been spent in prison—and he expects to spend the rest of them there—Di Tardo has carefully crossed off each date on his calendar, as do many felons who count the days until they will be free. OLDEST AT QUENTIN

Prisoner Rejects Parole 27th Time

As he has done 26 times before, Antonio (Tony) Di Tardo yesterday refused a parole from San Quentin Prison.

Di Tardo, who at 85 is the oldest resident within the great gray walls, made his annual appearance before the California Adult Authority. Members asked him his desire as to being freed from the prison on parole. He replied, as he has each year, that he preferred to remain in prison.

Di Tardo was given a life sentence in 1920 for the fatal shooting of his wife in San Jose. He entered San Quentin the same year.

He was first offered parole in 1931, but rejected it. Twenty-five times since, he has turned down the chance for freedom.

The Adult Authority's minutes in each case show "parole denied; further consideration postponed one year." But the denial has been by Di Tardo, not by the Adult Authority.

San Quentin has become home to Di Tardo, explained Associate Warden Dale B. Frady.

"Tony is not physically able to work anymore," Frady not-

Move To Curb Vehicle Chief's Power Started

Bill Would Detail Action On Drunk Drivers' Licenses

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A legislative committee moved today to curb the state motor vehicles director's power to suspend arbitrarily the licenses of convicted drunken drivers.

The Senate Fact Finding Committee on Transportation and Public Utilities ordered a bill drafted permitting the director to act only if a court had failed to do so. It would be introduced at the 1961 session.

UP TO COURTS

Committee members said it should be up to the courts to determine whether licenses should be suspended and for how long.

Robert I. McCarthy, state motor vehicles director, touched off the controversy July 4, 1959, when he ordered arbitrary six-month suspensions for all convicted drunken drivers, including first offenders. The program has been upheld by the State Supreme Court.

ROOM FOR EXCEPTIONS

"Even though drunk driving is a serious offense, there is room for exceptions and the courts should have discrimination to make such determinations," said Sen. Richard Richards (D-Los Angeles.)

Richards said courts should be able to take special actions where a man's employment is jeopardized by the suspension — possibly a weekends-only suspension.

McCarthy defended the suspensions as a traffic safety measure, and said he doesn't care who suspends licenses as long as it is done.

U.S. Prepared To Keep Up Naval Patrol

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department said today the United States was prepared to keep its special task force off Guatemala and Nicaragua indefinitely or "as long as is considered necessary."

However, one department source said the planes and warships might be withdrawn in a week or so barring some new outbreak of violence in the restless Caribbean area. He said President Eisenhower was expected to consider the possibility soon.

The president ordered the force into the area after Nicaragua and Guatemala, then battling local revolutions, said they feared Cuba would send reinforcements to the guerrillas. They asked the United States for help.

Asked how long the ships might remain, State Department spokesman Lincoln White said "There is no present intention to withdraw this force."

The Navy said it had received no orders to pull out. In fact, the aircraft carrier Wasp sailed from Boston today to relieve the carrier Shangri-La on patrol duty. The naval units consist of a carrier, five destroyers and two radar planes.

Assembly Rejects Red Move

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The U.N. General Assembly today rejected a demand by Ghana that the Congo debate be adjourned pending a full report on the clash between Congolese and U.N. forces in Leopoldville.

The defeat of the Soviet-backed move opened the way for a speedy decision on a credentials committee recommendation that a delegation headed by President Joseph Kasavubu be given the Congo's vacant seat.

34 IN FAVOR

The vote was 34 in favor of the adjournment, 50 against and 13 abstaining.

It appeared to foreshadow a victory by the United States and others supporting the Kasavubu delegation.

Khana's J. E. Jantuah said it was impossible to resolve the question until it had full information from on the scene.

"We cannot sit here in this assembly and debate and discuss the seating of a government which has attacked this very organization," he declared.

'REGRETTABLE'

U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold spoke of the clash as "a most regrettable incident." He said he had requested a report from the U.N. command and he hoped to have it during the day.

Yugoslav delegate Dobrivoje Vidic supported Ghana's adjournment motion. Under the circumstances, he said, "It would be senseless and improper to continue debate."

Vidic called for a quick departure of the U.N.'s 15-nation conciliation commission.

U.S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth blamed Ghana for the current situation. He said that if Ghana had observed the normal procedure and recalled its charge d'affaires, Nathanial Welbeck, there would have been no difficulty.

CADETS BUILD WALL OF BLOCKS; IT DOESN'T CEMENT RELATIONS

All was quiet at the San Rafael Military Academy. The cadets, presumably, were all slumbering soundly beneath neatly tucked-in blankets, dreaming of Thanksgiving vacation which starts at 3:30 p.m. today.

But at 12:57 a.m. today, night watchman George Velasco rubbed his eyes at what he saw behind the main building at the head of Cottage Avenue.

A 10-foot wall of concrete blocks barred the rear entrance to the office of Col. R. S. Nourse, the commandant.

The wall was four feet thick, the blocks firmly cemented together.

The source of the blocks was easy to find: Contractor Robert S. Miller of Oakland is erecting a new science building for the academy, of concrete blocks.

The reason for walling up the door was obvious too: It's the door through which cadets must pass to report to Colonel Nourse for punishment for infractions of rules.

The only puzzler was how the big job was completed so quietly.

The youthful builders made one error: They forgot to mix sand with the cement used to stick the blocks together. Workmen for contractor Miller were able to take down the wall in short order today.

"We'll handle the discipline ourselves when we find out which boys did it," said Colonel Nourse, a glint in his eyes.

U.N. Officials Beaten After All-Night Fight

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP) — The Congo army forced Ghana's top diplomat to quit the country today after an all-night battle with United Nations troops, then went on a rampage.

After Ghana charge d'affaires Nathaniel Welbeck left for home on a Soviet plane, the soldiers arrested and beat scores of U.N. officials in revenge for the death of their field commander, Col. J. Kokolo, in the battle.

Some U.N. workers were hauled from their cars, others from their houses. Thirty were held at gunpoint throughout the night.

At least 12 officials were still held by the army after a day of futile efforts by the world organization to gain their release.

The United Nations issued a warning that it would continue to carry out its mandate to maintain order in the city. Machine guns were mounted inside U.N. offices throughout this steaming, confused capital.

The victory boosted the standing of Col. Joseph Mobutu in his drive to maintain himself as the Congo's strongman.

The colonel told U.N. officials the soldiers acted without orders in rounding up U.N. personnel and he promised to bring about the release of those detained.

Welbeck said he had decided to leave, after a long and stubborn refusal, "because my government wants me to."

His departure brought to an end a 12-hour battle between United Nation troops and the Congolese army. Fighting broke out after Welbeck refused to leave the Congo as ordered by army commander Mobutu, who accused him of plotting with deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba against Mobutu's regime.

At least five soldiers were killed and nine wounded.

The United Nations said three of its men were killed and seven wounded. The Congolese list one killed, two wounded, four missing.

Town Councilmen Delay Leash Law

Man's best friend had practically no friends last night at the Corte Madera Town Council meeting.

At a public hearing on a proposed leash law, at which approximately 50 persons were present, an even dozen residents appealed for an ordinance which would keep dogs on leashes.

Only one spoke in behalf of freedom for the animals.

The hearing was called after two petitions bearing 336 signatures of residents of Marin Estates and Mariners Cove requested a control ordinance.

Unable to reach a decision, the council agreed to continue the hearing until Dec. 5 at 8 p.m.

Most vocal advocate of a leash law was mailman Leonard Swipes, who indicated that being bitten and mauled by large dogs is a commonplace occurrence in his life.

He is invariably bitten by dogs which "do not bite," he said, adding that he has scars to prove it.

"Even while the dog is chewing on me, the owners insist he won't bite but is only trying to play," Swipes said as he massaged his most recent shoulder wound.

Corte Madera Postmaster Edward Victor said three postmen had been severely bitten within the past two months, necessitating medical treatment.

"People come to Marin to have pets for their children," said Mrs. Hugh A. O'Neill of 441 Montecito Drive, the dogs' only outspoken friend at the meeting. "If only everyone would use courtesy to their neighbors, the present ordinance would be enough."

The town is covered by the same dog control ordinance as those of Marin County, Sausalito and San Anselmo, said Councilman Raymond DeYoung.

The law gives the Marin County Humane Society the right to pick up dogs on public property and dogs without licenses, but makes no provision for licensed dogs on pri-

County Again Plans To Seek Hospital Fund

Marin County will renew its application for Hill-Burton Act federal and state funds to help build a county custodial hospital for the aged at Lucas Valley.

A bond issue to provide funds for the structure was defeated for the second time Nov. 8.

At the suggestion of board charman Walter R. Castro, the supervisors unanimously agreed to renew their application, which previously was approved with such a low priority that funds would not actually be expected.

Asst. County Administrator Alan Bruce noted that up to 25 per cent of the county's $2,000,000 retirement fund reserves might be "borrowed" to build the hospital. But supervisor William D. Fusselman argued that the required legal procedure would "not be good for the taxpayers."

Fusselman said he personally had favored a direct tax to build the hospital "like was done for the civic center."

Supervisor James A. Marshall of Tomales suggested the possibility of aid from the Babcock Memorial Foundation. His suggestion was not acted upon.

Fisherman Injured In Crab Boat Blast

An explosion aboard a crab boat docked at Sausalito last evening blew a Eureka fisherman into the bay and set the vessel afire.

The fisherman, Lauren Pfeffer, 30, was reported in good condition today in Marin General Hospital, with second degree burns on both forearms.

The blaze caused damage estimated by firemen at $4,500 to Pfeffer's boat, the Valerie J.

The blast apparently cause by leaking gasoline fumes which were set off when Pfeffer lighted a match to his wood stove to cook his supper. Hoyt Barnett, employed by Lighthouse Crab Co., said he was sitting in his office nearby and the explosion "reminded me of a five-incher going off."

Lawrence Horstman, on the vessel Irish Rose nearby, reported seeing a four-by-four foot wooden hatch cover blown about 100 feet into the air.

John Frazier of Sausalito, employed by Lighthouse Crab Co., dived into the bay and guided Pfeffer, in the dark, to another craft, Barnett said.

Pfeffer suffering from shock, turned around on the boat and fell back into the bay. Another Lighthouse employee, Dave Hengesbach of Sausalito, pulled him out of the water a second time. In so doing, Hengesbach broke two ribs which had previously been broken in another accident and were on the mend.

Pfeffer is a self-employed fisherman and had been fishing for crab out of Sausalito.

The whole deck of the Valerie J. was ruptured by the explosion. The craft was kept afloat by pumps and was to be taken onto the ways today.

Sausalito firemen, with Alto and San Anselmo fire departments standing by, brought the fire under control in about 20 minutes.

'JUVENILE SHENANIGANS'

By JOHN CHAMBERS

San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis lashed out at Terra Linda Community Services District directors last night, chastising their recent actions as "juvenile shenanigans in bad faith."

The mayor's biting declaration referred to the services district's transfer of two park sites—Del Ganado and Oleander—to the newly formed Terra Linda Recreational District, in the face of annexation proceedings by the City of San Rafael.

"They have used various efforts on me and the members of this council to circumvent a request by a substantial number of their residents for our acceptance, and our request that the residents decide for themselves whether to annex," said McInnis.

A half-dozen residents of Terra Linda listened in silence to the mayor's remarks.

The chastisement followed approval of a resolution calling for a special election to annex Terra Linda and setting a public hearing for Dec. 19.

The vote was three to none, with Councilmen Fred Jensen and Louis H. Baar absent.

The resolution calling an annextion election and setting a hearing came for a second time last night. Two weeks ago,

Author Observed For Mental Illness

NEW YORK (UPI)—Novelist Norman Mailer, accused of knifing his wife in a wordless rage after a party, was sent to Bellevue Hospital today for observation of a mental condition described as acute paranoia with homicidal tendencies.

The 37-year-old author of "The Naked and the Dead" and other best-sellers insisted that he was sane today when he was arraigned before Magistrate Reuben Levy on charges of stabbing his wife, Adele, 35, twice with a penknife early Sunday morning. (See story on page 2.)

2 Pacifists Board New Sub During Launching

GROTON, Conn. (AP) — The Ethan Allen, first in a new line of Polaris-equipped submarines, slid down the ways today to the traditional reception.

It also got an unexpected reception from two pacifists who climbed aboard after the launching.

The craft, heaviest in the nation's growing fleet of nuclear-powered missile subs, was hailed by the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff as one of a line that will add greatly to United States' defense efforts.

Gen. Lyman J. Lemnitzer made his remarks to a crowd of about 5,000 at launching ceremonies for the new Ethan Allen, a lethal submersible that will be equipped to hurl Polaris missiles 1,500 miles or more.

The self-styled pacifists, William Henry, 27, of Lodi, Wis., and Donald Martin, 20, of Wellesley, Mass., swam out to the craft in the Thames River, and pulled themselves aboard with the bunting still draping the craft. They were quickly taken off by the Coast Guard.

The two pacifists were among a group of nine that earlier was prevented from interfering with the launching itself. They had intended to row three small boats into the path of the huge submersible.

Princess Margaret dances with her husband, Tony Armstrong-Jones, at a ball at the Savoy Hotel in London. When the couple appeared last night some eyebrows were raised because Tony was wearing a dinner jacket and black tie. Kennedy Signals Tossing Out Aide Job To President

PALM BEACH, Fla (AP)—President-elect John F. Kennedy gave priority attention today to filling about 80 top federal jobs after disclosure that he intends to cut the White House staff deeply, starting at the top.

Kennedy expects to abolish, at least so far as title is concerned, what in the Eisenhower administration has been one of the most powerful positions in government. The job is called "the assistant to the president."

SPECIAL COUNSEL

The man who apparently will come closest to filling that role in the new administration is Theodore C. Sorensen, 32, long-time Kennedy aide who already has been named White House special counsel.

These Kennedy plans were announced late yesterday by Clark M. Clifford, Kennedy's chief liaison man with the outgoing Republicans.

Clifford said he gave Kennedy a list of about 80 high level jobs — including cabinet posts — which must be filled first in order to give the new president complete control of the executive branch when he is inaugurated Jan. 20.

SECOND JOBS

Kennedy also got from Clifford a second list of between 400 and 500 jobs of secondary importance, and a third tabulation of about 1,200 lesser positions—all filled by presidential appointment.

As for the possibility Kennedy will retain some personnel who are in career jobs in these categories, Clifford replied in response to a news conference question: "I am sure that he will."

Dealing with reduction of the White House staff, Clifford said Kennedy had told him it will be "nowhere near as large as it is under the present administration."

51 PERSONS

On President Eisenhower's immediate staff there are, Clifford said, 51 persons exclusive of secretarial and clerical workers.

Asked why Kennedy expects to wipe out the position of the assistant to the president, Clifford replied: "I think he said only that certainly at this time he did not contemplate appointing such a man, and I believe that the reasoning was that he did not contemplate setting up a man who would act between him and his staff, as I think the position has existed in this past (Eisenhower) administration."

Under Eisenhower, the job is held at present by Wilton B. Persons, once a major general on Eisenhower's Army staff. Person's predecessor, and perhaps the most powerful man in the position, was Sherman Adams, who resigned under fire in 1958 after charges he had accepted favors and had granted some. Adams denied any wrong-doing.

Report Urges Tight Rein By President

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The president must be the sole maker of national policy and must not come to rely on a super-secretary or super-staff, a Senate subcommittee staff report has declared.

The staff of the Senate subcommittee on national policy machinery said in a study that the executive branch was not organized now in the best way to pull together the programs of various agencies into a "coherent national strategy."

In releasing the report last night, subcommittee chairman Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.), said his personal view was that the White House had no place for a "first secretary of the government"—a new supercabinet post proposed by New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and others.

Jackson is Democratic national chairman and could play a major role in setting up the Kennedy organization.

President-elect John F. Kennedy, acting along lines of the staff report, announced yesterday he would keep tight personal control of his administration by organizing the White House to provide greater direct contact between the chief executive and members of his cabinet and staff.

Kennedy said at his Florida vacation headquarters that as part of this plan he would cut the number of White House personnel and eliminate the powerful post of assistant to the president.

Norman Mailer Charged With Wife Stabbing

NEW YORK (UPI)—Norman Mailer, author of the novel "The Naked and the Dead," faced arraignment today on charges of stabbing his wife at a weekend party.

Mrs. Mailer, who tried to cover up the story of the knifing, was reported in critical condition at University Hospital suffering from two wounds in the back and stomach.

DENIED CHARGE

Mailer denied the charge in his wife's hospital room, but she repeated it to his face, police said.

The author who has been involved in a series of incidents with police recently, will be arraigned on a felonious assault charge. Police said they planned to ask that he undergo psychiatric examination at Bellevue Hospital.

Detectives said the stabbing took place early Sunday morning at the end of a big party at the Mailers' apartment. Three hours later Mailer took his 35-year-old wife—his second—to the hospital where she told doctors she had cut herself with broken glass.

DOUBTED STORY

Hospital authorities doubted her story and notified police, but detectives were not permitted to talk to her until yesterday because of her condition. Reluctantly she told them her 37-year-old husband had stabbed her with a penknife or a claspknife.

"He just looked at me," she said. "He didn't say a word. Then he stabbed me."

Mrs. Mailer, a talented painter, added that she thought her husband has "homicidal" tendencies and that his family has been trying to make him see a psychiatrist.

Income Tax Hit

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A prominent builder says, "Our income tax is the greatest saboteur of time ever invented outside the Iron Curtain."

Fritz Burns, president emeritus of the National Assn. of Home Builders and a Southern California community developer for many years, addressed 600 delegates to the 37th annual congress of the Building Contractors Assn. of California yesterday.

Burns criticized what he called the complexity of America's tax structure, saying it keeps builders from making decisions before all tax problems are fully considered.

BEVERLY HILLS (AP) — The Screen Actors Guild last night authorized a strike against producers of spot television announcements. The mail vote, 4,369 to 540, was announced at a mass meeting.

A similar action has been taken by the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists.

A guild spokesman said a walkout would halt live performances on network radio and TV stations, and would also halt the filming of new commercials and pre-taped programs.

Johnson, French Leader Discuss World Affairs

PARIS (AP)—Lyndon B. Johnson, U.S. vice president-elect, and French President Charles de Gaulle had a 45-minute conference today. Johnson said they discussed "the wide range of problems confronting the people of the world."

The two men met in De Gaulle's private office. Although it was billed in advance as a courtesy call, the two men immediately got down to serious talk.

Johnson is in Paris attending a meeting of parliamentarians from NATO countries. He was invited to the palace in order to give de Gaulle his first official contact with the incoming American administration.

On coming from the meeting, Johnson said he had extended his "felicitations and congratulations" to de Gaulle, who is celebrating his 70th birthday today.

Then Johnson drove across the Seine River to lunch with Premier Michel Debre and a dozen or more French political and government figures.

The vice president-elect was accompanied to de Gaulle's residence by U.S. Ambassador Amory Houghton.

In a brief interview in the palace courtyard after the talk Johnson said: "We had a very cordial meeting. I felt very stimulated and deeply appreciative for the opportunity to be in the presence of one of the world's great leaders."

Before the de Gaulle talk, Johnson's aides said the vice president-elect had no intention of bringing up at this time any of the issues on which France and the United States have divergent views. It was an opportunity, however, to sound out de Gaulle.

Johnson indicated in a speech yesterday that the new U.S. administration would be more receptive to some of de Gaulle's ideas than was the Eisenhower administration. In that light, the NATO parliamentarians today examined possible expansion into broader political and economic fields.

The vice president-elect in his speech sounded a call for "new dimensions" for NATO which would "enlarge the community of joint purposes to include new neighbors of the world."

New Device Captures Space Capsule

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force has brought back safely to earth a 500-pound space capsule using a combination of a drag balloon and a parachute.

The device, called a ballute, was tested successfully for the second time yesterday at Santa Rosa Island, Fla. The capsule was shot to a height of 32 miles by a three-stage missile.

The ballute system, developed by Goodyear Aircraft Corp., worked this way:

As the third stage of the rocket reached 75,000 feet, still coasting upward at 1,100 miles an hour, a nine-foot balloon was released from the tail section.

The balloon popped into shape in a tenth of a second and was reeled out on a cable to stabilize the 500-pound capsule and slow it down by atmospheric drag.

A strain gauge measured the amount of drag and radioed the information to the ground, while a camera recorded the balloon's performance.

The capsule eventually reached a height of 170,000 feet. When the balloon had slowed it to less than the speed of sound (760 miles an hour), a parachute popped out and lowered the package into the Gulf of Mexico test range.

Surface crews recovered the capsule 45 minutes after it was launched.

Recount Pleas Could Delay Vote Tallies

GOP Challengers Don't Expect To Overturn Election

WASHINGTON (AP) — Recount requests could delay even longer than usual the final, official tabulation of the vote cast in the Nov. 8 election.

With President-elect John F. Kennedy's popular vote lead now cut below 175,000, Republicans were challenging the results in sections of Illinois, New Jersey and Texas, and looking for possible grounds for similar action elsewhere.

ELECTORAL VOTES

Few, however, expected any overturn of Kennedy's electoral vote margin over Vice President Richard M. Nixon. It is the electoral vote—not the popular vote—which elects a president.

In that tally, Kennedy led Nixon 300 to 223, with 269 needed for election. Fourteen other electors, in Alabama and Mississippi, are not pledged to either.

Latest figures on the popular vote, with more than 1,100 precincts still unreported and some absentee ballots still to be counted, stood this way:

Kennedy—33,919,296
Nixon—33,744,669

BARE MARGIN

Kennedy's margin was a bare 174,627 over Nixon, and his share of the vote cast for the two major candidates was 50.13 per cent, to 49.87 for Nixon.

Partial recounts have been started by Republicans in Illinois, with 27 electoral votes, and New Jersey, with 16. In Texas, with 24 electoral votes, a limited court test was arranged of what the Republicans called "frauds and irregularities" in the election.

Texas Atty. Gen. Will Wilson rejected a Republican request for a statewide investigation, but said a court test of returns from 34 precincts could determine whether the GOP charges justify further investigation.

Even without recounts and challenges, however, some states may not complete their final, official tallies for several more weeks.

KENNEDY 12TH 'MINORITY' PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. John F. Kennedy will be the 12th "minority" president in U.S. history because he received less than half of the votes in the Nov. 8 election.

An unofficial, but almost complete, tabulation showed today that Kennedy fell short by more than 100,000 votes of getting a majority of the ballots cast for president.

The tabulation by United Press International included votes from all but 24 of the nation's 166,264 voting places. It included all but a small portion of the late-counted absentee ballots.

While Kennedy outpolled Nixon in the popular vote, ballots cast for others in the presidential race prevented the Democratic nominee from getting a majority of the total vote.

UNOFFICIAL RETURNS IN STATE GIVE NIXON MARGIN OF 21,657

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon's margin over President-elect John F. Kennedy in California turned out to be 21,657.

This was the figure finally produced by completion of tabulation of unofficial returns from all 58 counties yesterday—two weeks after the Nov. 8 general election.

The final statewide totals gave Nixon 3,240,005; Kennedy 3,218,348.

Puerto Rico Prelate Denies Church Will Punish Voters

CHICAGO (AP)—The archbishop of San Juan, Puerto Rico, has flatly denied that Roman Catholics in that country will be punished for disobeying a church order on voting.

Most Rev. James P. Davis last night said sacraments would not be withheld from Catholics who defied church instructions to vote against Gov. Luis Munoz Marin's Popular Democratic Party in the Nov. 8 election.

His statement followed a report that the Catholic woman mayor of San Juan, Felisa de Gauthier, was ordered by her pastor to do public penance before she can receive communion because of the way she voted.

Archbishop Davis is in Chicago for a meeting of the Catholic Church Extension Society.

Response Good To Idea For Beautifying City

Response to the launching of the San Rafael Beautiful Committee has been so encouraging that the membership may be expanded to include all interested persons in the city, acting chairman Gene F. O'Connor declared today.

The 15 persons attending the second meeting of the committee this morning in the Griddle Restaurant in San Rafael agreed with him.

Since the committee to beautify San Rafael was organized last Tuesday, members have received many calls from persons interested in helping the campaign, O'Connor said.

"The response is very encouraging," he declared.

Guest speaker at today's meeting was James G. Hupp, treasurer of the California Roadside Council and an active member of a beautification committee in Orinda.

He told the group that financing can come from merchants who will realize increased business from an attractive community.

Committee members agreed that interested persons could be included in the membership, but too many persons in the committee itself might bog down the program, O'Connor said.

Following a one and one-half hour meeting, the members decided to meet at 7:30 a.m. Dec. 6 in the chamber of commerce office to elect officers and designate sub-committees to handle specific beautification projects.

DOGS

vate property unless a petition of three persons declares the dog a nuisance.

Even then, councilmen agreed, the machinery for removing the offending dog is cumbersome and relatively ineffective, since written notice must be served on the dog's owner before action is taken.

Town Atty. John B. Ehlen said he had written San Francisco for a copy of its proposed leash ordinance which, according to Ehlen, "has teeth in it." He hoped to have a copy of the ordinance by the Dec. 5 hearing, he said.

The San Francisco Board of Supervisors heard arguments on the proposed ordinance yesterday and set another hearing for tomorrow.

Those speaking in favor of control insisted they were not against dogs as such but only certain chronic offenders.

"I see no reason why I should have to guide my child home safely every day because of vicious dogs in the neighborhood," said Mrs. Marjorie Barnett of 28 Staghound Passage.

"Why confine the leash law only to dogs?" asked one unidentified speaker. "I'm all for leashing all pets—even cats and horses."

PARKS

coucilmen balked when they learned that the city might not get the two park sites in Terra Linda.

Last Friday the two sites were turned over by the community services district to the recreational district.

San Rafael councilmen said they thought the two parcels and other community services district assets were to be included in annexation in lieu of a $75 per lot annexation fee. By law, the community services district will go out of existence if the area annexes to the city; the recreational district, however, will continue.

City Atty. Albert E. Bagshaw last night declared that the city will acquire title to the two lots—with use limited to recreation—if Terra Linda is annexed, regardless of the gift.

He said the two park sites, totaling 4.5 acres, are valued at $45,800.

Automatic Pistols Missing At Shop

Two automatic pistols are missing from the display window at Jim's Sport Shop in Novato, the owner reported to sheriff's deputies yesterday.

One is a .22 caliber Colt worth $34.95, and the other a .25 caliber Browning worth $29.95.

Gordon E. Lackey, owner of the store on Grant Avenue, said the theft must have occurred during the weekend.

WHITE LIGHTS DUE ON BAY, GATE BRIDGES

The yellow vapor lamps on the Bay Bridge and Golden Gate Bridge will be replaced by white lights.

"They used to believe that yellow was a better fog light," said Norman Raab, engineer for the state's bay toll crossing division.

But, Raab said, white lights provide better visibility at lower cost. The present sodium vapor lights will be replaced by either fluorescent or mercury vapor lights.

Golden Gate Bridge manager James Adam said no date has been set for installation of new lights. White lights will soon be installed on the lower deck of the Bay Bridge, officials said.

Novato Council Meets Tonight On Wylie Plans

Novato City councilmen will meet at 8 o'clock tonight with only one item on the agenda: The Wylie subdivision.

Councilmen may hear that two subdividers have come to agreement on how to align the 100-foot right of way of the proposed San Jose Boulevard through their adjoining subdivisions south of San Jose Creek. City officials, representatives of H. C. Wylie and Paul Trousdale have been negotiating for weeks.

If the subdividers' decision meets with council approval, councilmen may reverse a planning commission decision turning down the 11-acre Wylie subdivision.

It got thumbs down because of failure to provide for the street right of way. Wylie representatives say they were not informed of a Trousdale-County agreement extending the street through Wylie property.

Sally Stanford Charges Furrier Nipped Her Mink

Marsha Owen (Sally Stanford) of Sausalito is asking $7,000 damages in a San Francisco court, charging that her furrier lopped too much fur off her diamond black mink full length coat.

She said she had asked Roberts Brothers of Post Street to dye the coat and make alterations on it two years ago. She charges that the coat was cut, shortened and altered to the approximate length of a car coat.

Mrs. Owen said the furrier told her the mink had shrunk. She said she had never heard of shrinking mink.

Irwin Roberts, the furrier, replied that she got exactly what she ordered. He said the coat is two inches shorter, and no fur was lost.

Board Seeking Replacement

Reed Union School District trustees are expected to decide on their recommendation for replacement of Dr. Alfred J. Azevedo on the board at tonight's meeting at 8 o'clock in the Reed School auditorium.

Trustees will study the recommendations on the feasibility of a unified school district, Supt. Paul R. Stouffer said.

Also on the agenda is the architect's report on the proposed remodeling and renovation at Belvedere School.

Three Youths Cleared In Beating, Theft

Three youths from Kentfield, questioned yesterday as suspects in the robbing and stripping of a San Rafael laborer, were cleared by lie tests, Sheriff's Inspector William Bradley reported today.

All three had alibis, and they successfully passed lie detector tests administered by Inspector Carl Sears.

John S. Manes, 53, of 36 Bayview Street, told deputies he was drinking Saturday night in San Rafael and in San Anselmo. He then started walking home and was picked up by three youths in a car on the Miracle Mile.

He said they drove him toward Fairfax, robbed him and beat him, and dumped him off, and stripped him of everything except his socks. Manes walked to the home of William H. Behre, 357 Oak Manor Drive, and asked for help.

TO VISIT HISTORICAL
MOUNT TAMALPAIS CEMETERY

A Peaceful Place of Rest
Serving all Faiths

Here, within view of Marin's famous mountain, is a lovely setting guarded by gracious trees. Quiet and beauty speak of peace and rest, just as they did 80 years ago when Marin pioneers chose it as a final resting place for their families.

Here, all faiths will find that which meets their own needs and preferences. Here are well-kept grounds and gardens, the beautiful Angelus Garden mausoleum for above-ground burial, as well as Marin County's modern new crematorium, and the lovely Chapel of Light columbarium.

At Mount Tamalpais, careful provisions assure lasting care. An Endowment Care fund of a quarter-million dollars—growing year by year—will keep this site serene and beautiful. And with less than a tenth of its large acreage yet used, Tamalpais will be able to serve Marin communities for generations to come.

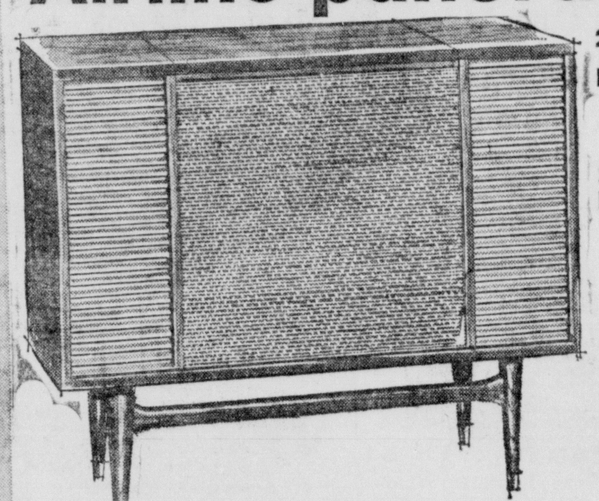

A five-minute drive from downtown San Rafael brings you to this secluded spot of ages old beauty. We welcome your visit any day... so you can consider arrangements in advance of need, as so many Marin families are doing today.

Theft Charge May Be Filed Against Driver

Bernard Duane Montbriand of San Rafael, who was arrested for the 20th time in five years Sunday after a 90-mile-an-hour chase down Highway 101, may face an additional charge of burglary today.

He was arraigned on five misdemeanor charges yesterday before Judge Joseph G. Wilson in Marin County Municipal Court.

SEEK COMPLAINT

San Rafael police today sought a burglary complaint from the district attorney's office against the 23-year-old laborer for looting the Sherman Clay and Co. music store at 963 Grand Avenue, San Rafael.

The theft of $49 in cash and two musical instruments worth $300 was reported yesterday by Mrs. Rose Johnson of 410 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, manager of the store.

Climbing to the roof of an adjacent building, the burglar crossed the rooftops and pushed in a window screen on the mezzanine of the music store. He took the cash from a desk drawer and a trumpet and clarinet from the display window.

SAW ACCIDENT

Montbriand, of 228 Humboldt Street, was arrested at 2:30 a.m. Sunday after Deputy Sheriff George H. Tsegeletos saw a pickup truck strike another car on Highway 101 near Greenbrae. The deputy and Officer Charles Newman of Corte Madera police pursued the pickup north on the freeway and pulled Montbriand from the vehicle in front of the Marin Motor Movies.

Police said today that the stolen trumpet and clarinet were found in the truck. Montbriand had $60 in his wallet when he was booked at the county jail.

He pleaded guilty yesterday to driving with a suspended license and misdemeanor hit-run driving and innocent to charges of drunken driving, reckless driving and speeding.

Judge Wilson set a court trial on the three charges for 3:30 p.m. Nov. 30.

$8,115 FOR INSPECTION

'Austerity' Budget Gets An Addition

Marin county supervisors today shot an $8,115 hole in the "austerity" budget adopted last summer.

And they shot a $650 hole in building inspector Harry Grieb's personal budget.

It happened this way:

When the budget austerity" push was in full swing last summer, Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham estimated that he could cut his building inspector staff from five to three. Substantial areas of Terra Linda were being annexed to San Rafael and Novato had become incorporated city. Each would have its own municipal building inspection service; the county would no longer have to supply the service, Brigham reasoned.

The board of supervisors took action to reduce the number of jobs authorized for the building inspection department. Brigham discharged Harry Grieb and another inspector resigned.

But the work load dropped only about 10 per cent instead of the anticipated 30 per cent.

The supervisors rescinded their action cutting down the number of jobs.

Grieb appealed to the county personnel commission asking that he be rehired.

Last week, the supervisors ordered Grieb rehired and ordered that he receive approximately $650 back pay for the six weeks he was off.

Today the board of supervisors was advised by County Counsel E. Warren McGuire that Grieb's "termination of employment" was legal and there for it might be an illegal "gift of public funds" to give him back pay.

County Administrator Donald A. Jensen recommended that the supervisors rescind their earlier action voting the back pay for Grieb and just restore the two building inspector jobs previously eliminated. He said this would cost an estimated $8,115.

On motion of Supervisor William D. Fusselman, the board followed Jensen's recommendation.

Housewife Taken To State Hospital

A Terra Linda housewife, who slashed her wrists in an apparent suicide attempt, was taken to Napa State Hospital yesterday under an emergency inebriacy commitment.

She is Judith Ostrup, 30, of 582 Thornwood Terrace. Her mother, Mrs. Mildred B. Johnston of the same address, called the sheriff for help. Sheriff's deputies and San Rafael police restrained Mrs. Ostrup at San Rafael Hospital, where attendants reported they could not control her.

Judge Orders Sandoval To Stand Trial

Jaime Sandoval, Puerto Rican mystery man in the reported accidental death of Mrs. Virginia Douglas of Millbrae and the Marin suicide of her husband, Donald Douglas, must stand trial on two felony morals charges, a San Mateo County judge ruled yesterday.

Judge Aylett R. Cotton of San Mateo County Superior Court refused to dismiss felony charges against Sandoval involving alleged offenses against the Douglases' two sons. The judge granted a request by Sandoval's attorney, Nate Cohn, to continue until Dec. 6 setting of a trial date.

Cohn had requested dismissal of the indictments on the ground that Sandoval had been denied due process of law. The attorney said his client would be unable to get a fair trial in San Mateo County.

Cohn said San Mateo County Dist. Atty. Keith Sorensen had implied to the press and residents of the county that Sandoval was involved in the death of Mrs. Douglas, who reportedly fell from a cliff in Puerto Rico Sept. 28, and the suicide eight days later in Lucas Valley of her husband.

Jury Probing Charge Drug Prices Fixed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The federal grand jury is investigating charges of fixing of prices of prescription drugs in Northern California, it was learned today.

The grand jury has been receiving testimony from individual druggists about alleged circulation of price lists.

There was no indication when the grand jury would complete its inquiry or what conclusions it would reach.

Price fixing could be a violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Law carrying possible maximum penalties of $50,000 fine and one year in prison for an individual or a $50,000 fine for an organization.

A similar grand jury investigation in Arizona resulted last June in a civil suit to bring an injunction to halt fixing of drug prices.

It was understood that witnesses, who appear before the jury with immunity from prosecution, have indicated that drug prices in Northern California are the highest in the nation.

While the grand jury here is concentrating on Northern California prices, its investigation also involves statewide druggists.

Drug prices came to the fore in Marin County last April when Bernard Cassells, president of the Drake Pharmacy at 810 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in San Anselmo, incurred the wrath of Marin County Pharmacists Assn. by advertising prescription drugs.

The association contended Cassells should not be permitted to advertise on the grounds it was "unethical and undignified." Cassells contended he was "only trying to share the profits with the customer.

The State Pharmaceutical Assn. said at the time it could not take action against Cassells because his advertisements did not include items listed under the "dangerous drug act."

Tam Students Will Start Day Earlier

Students in the Tamalpais Union High School District's three schools will return to a starting time of 8:30 a.m. in February, the district board decided last night. Since school opened in September, classes have begun at 9 a.m.

The "pre-period classes before the regular school day will switch from an 8 a.m. start to 7:30.

The earlier starting times were in effect last year, but were changed because more students said they would enroll in the "pre-period" if it were offered at a later time.

Last night, Supt. Chester G. Carlisle told the board the curriculum council, composed of about 15 teachers and representatives of the administration, had studied the later starting time and decided it was detrimental. Carlisle said he had then asked each principal to survey students and faculty in the school, and they had reported general preference for the earlier starting time.

The board also:

1. Authorized payment to the county of Marin of $4,051 for expenses for the Oct. 11 bond election.

2. Authorized payment of $6,634.01 to V. Maggiora and Son, Sausalito, for repair of the Redwood High School sewer line.

3. Accepted book donations for the Tamalpais High library from American Petroleum Institute, Ford Motor Co. and two Tam teachers, Mrs. Molly Boucher and Leon Bennett.

4. Adopted a resolution officially calling for a three million dollar bond election April 18, as approved at its preceding meeting.

5. Authorized Carlisle to negotiate with Fifer properties for a 60-foot strip of land near Redwood High, probably to be used for access purposes.

6. Awarded a contract for a 1961 Chevrolet sedan to Campbell Bishop Chevrolet Co., which submitted a low bid of $2,292.99.

7. Decided to skip its Dec. 5 meeting, and meet Dec. 19.

8. Adjourned to Drake High School for a language laboratory demonstration by students and teachers. Board members also took part in the demonstration.

Produces Plays

Michael Leibert of Belvedere, junior at Whitman College, Walla Walla, Wash., is the producer of three one-act plays which opened at the Whitman Theater last Thursday. Leibert is a 1958 graduate of Tamalpais High School and a son of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Leibert of Belvedere.

U.S. Decides Student's Visa Will Be Renewed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The U. S. Immigration Service reversed itself today, and decided not to force John R. Johnston, a Scottish biophysicist, out of the country because he picketed the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Charles J. Beechie, regional immigrational director, said the case had been carefully reconsidered because Johnston's departure would be a loss to the university program and because it would affect the university instructional schedule.

Johnston, 26, has been a teaching and research associate at California since 1956. He needs seven more months at the Berkeley school to gain his doctorate.

The Immigration Service granted Johnston's request to remain in this country until next Aug. 31.

Johnston was notified on Sept. 3 that his visitor's visa, which expired Sept. 15, would not be renewed. This was an administrative action that the U. S. Immigration Service is empowered to take.

Cecil W. Fullilove, deputy district director for the immigration service, gave this explanation for the department's action:

"I thought it was getting out of line for a foreign student to picket a committee of Congress. They are guests of the country, receiving government funds." Immigration officials said other factors were involved, but they would not disclose them.

Johnston participated in a picket line at the San Francisco City Hall last May 13 when police and students clashed at a hearing of the congressional committee. He was not arrested.

Trans-Pacific communications are directed through regional headquarters of five major radio systems at San Francisco.

Councilmen Order Traffic Flow Plan

Notice was served on Corte Madera Shopping Center officials by the Corte Madera Town Council last night to come up with definite plans for traffic flow in and out of the center's parking lot.

Until such information is forthcoming, the council said, the town cannot make plans for proposed traffic signals on Tamalpais Drive.

Up to now, Town Manager Arthur H. Brandow said, the traffic discussion between the town and the center has been an "Alphonse and Gaston" affair, with each party inviting the other to present plans first.

Representing the center last night was Carey Bowles, public relations director, who said the center lease agreement calls for 2,100 parking spaces to be maintained.

"Before we can make plans, we have to know how much of this space the town may need," Bowles said.

The council said it had no plan to alter the parking lot but must know the center's plans regarding redesigning of entrances and exits on Madera Boulevard before plans for Tamalpais Drive signals can be made.

The council accepted an engineering agreement with George S. Nolte for preliminary engineering studies of widening and improving Sausalito Avenue between Buena Vista Avenue and Tamalpais Drive. The studies would not exceed $2,500, Nolte said.

A letter from the State Division of Highways approved acceptance of Sausalito Avenue into the major gasoline tax street system.

Approval was also given an agreement with Nolte for engineering studies on the second phase of Paradise Drive extending from El Camino Street to the Marin Country Day School, a distance of about 3,000 feet. Cost of the engineering studies would not exceed $1,600, the agreement stated. Construction on the project is expected to begin next year, Brandow said.

The Carolands Tract, newly annexed property on Paradise Drive adjoining the Marin Country Day School, was officially withdrawn from the Tiburon Fire District. A public hearing was set for Dec. 5 at 8 p.m. to hear a proposal to re-zone the tract from single family to multiple dwelling.

A public hearing on a recent decision by the planning commission, requested by Councilman Raymond DeYoung, was set for Dec. 5 at 7:30 p.m. The appeal will be on planners' decision to grant side setback variance to John E. Tucker, 359 Chapman Drive. DeYoung said he did not feel the commission was justified in granting the variance.

The council agreed to comply with a request of the Marin County Grand Jury for personnel information on the town's planning commission and public works department. The information, the request stated, was for purposes of a closed investigation of the town bodies. According to Brandow, all Marin County cities have been asked to supply similar information.

In other action last night, the council:

1. Approved issuance of a taxi license to Charles T. Cohen after a police report on Cohen. An application for a second driver to be hired by Cohen was turned down on the recommendation of Police Chief Frank L. Nelson.
2. Returned unopened a bid for a new police car to Ames Ford Co. of San Rafael. The town had not called for bids and will purchase the new car through the county, Brandow said.
3. Agreed to withhold a "cease and desist" order against Dr. Gertrude Casey which would end her osteopathy practice at 22 Mohawk Avenue until the day after a forthcoming court hearing on the doctor's appeal to continue her practice.
4. Accepted dedication of a completed street from Charles Paganini according to an agreement signed with Paganini on April 20, 1959. The street, which was built under town supervision, connects Fifer Avenue and Tamal Vista in the unincorporated Paganini property adjoining Fifer Industrial Park. The town attorney was instructed to draw up the necessary resolution making the acceptance official.
5. Voted to rezone the Northwestern Pacific Railroad property extending from the town limits to the north portal of the tunnel on the Sausalito branch line to single family residential. The order to rezone was tabled "until the day after abandonment of the property by the railroad." A public hearing on the rezoning was set for Dec. 19 at 7:30 p.m.
6. Approved a decision of the planning commission not to rezone to a higher residential density the property of O. E. Carlson at 25 Willow Avenue.

Board Can't Pay Teachers In New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — The New Orleans School Board announced today that the integration crisis has become so bad that it can't pay its teachers and other employees the two million dollars due them tomorrow.

School Supt. Dr. James F. Redmond said the board must "withhold" the two million dollar payroll because it doesn't have the money. Banks won't loan it to the board because of the integration troubles, and the state, angry at the board for allowing integration, won't come up with it.

Redmond said that the action is "unprecedented in state history." It affected about 4,500 teachers and other employees, he said.

"As of this minute, banks can be of no assistance," he said. "Only the governor can solve this problem by rising above noisy emotions of some state legislators," he said.

Redmond asked the teachers —now on a week's holiday—to show up at the regular assignments on Monday although they haven't been paid.

The announcement came while the teachers were in a convention in Baton Rouge, where the legislature meets tomorrow. Citizens' council leaders are trying to organize students and parents to dress in mourning for their two integrated schools and march on the legislature.

Use Permit Approved For New Sabella's

A use permit and architectural supervision were approved by the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday for a new Sebella's restaurant on a location just south of the present building beside Highway 101 at Alto.

The site has had to be previously certified by planners and supervisors as involving no interference with Richardson Bay flood control. This was done for a restaurant only, but the use permit takes in a long list of associated enterprises. These are all marine in nature, including frozen food locker, maps and photography, bait and equipment, surveyor, ship chandlery and other enterprises.

Harry Johnson, associated with Angelo Sabella in the scheme, said 160 parking spaces were being provided—10 more than required.

The program squeezed through with a 5-1 vote, Commissioner Felix M. Warburg dissenting on the ground that the plans were not firm enough.

The planners also:

1. Continued to Dec. 5 consideration of planned residential development plans for two sectors of Red Hill Unit 2, Tiburon, and for architectural supervision of J. B. Williams's 16-unit apartment house near North San Pedro and Merrydale Roads, North San Rafael.
2. Allowed E. Meyer to maintain a trailer as a watchman's residence at Marin Motor Movies, South San Rafael, in a relocated position out of highway view.
3. Denied Fred C. Shumaker's petition to rezone three acres for apartments at Trestle Glen and Tiburon Boulevards, Tiburon, as "visibly out of tune with existing development' according to the planning staff report.
4. Allowed L. Bodian to withdraw his proposed subdivision of 4.7 acres in Tiburon east of Tara Hill subdivision.
5. Allowed Eugene S. Arntz to keep a pony on Lot 4, Bayside Acres, for three years if sanitary conditions are kept up to requirements of the Marin County Health Department.
6. Approved plans for construction of a J. B. Rice Co. building for retail sale of floor coverings on Auburn Street, South San Rafael.

Stinson Beach Development Approved

Second thoughts by the Marin County Planning Commission staff about a 27-acre $200,000 Seadrift Lagoon development at Stinson Beach caused a flurry of consternation on the part of the developers yesterday.

The commission finally approved a tentative map by 5-1 vote, but Commissioner Felix M. Warburg dissented because he thought the staff correct in asking 7,500-square foot lot sizes instead of the 6,000-square feet earlier approved.

The original approval was in January, 1959, with a year's extension granted through next January, and further continuance now sought because the lots are being developed by fill. Meanwhile, the staff said, it has "repented" its approval of the 6,000-square foot lot size.

"If we have to change now, we're going to be hurt!" protested attorney Bryan R. McCarthy for the William Kent Estate Co.

Warburg made a last-minute unsuccessful effort to tack on a condition requiring that "a number of lots be left vacant to avoid monotony." Chairman William Upton said that if the development were coming in for the first time he'd support 7,500-foot lots, but change now seemed unfair.

Power Pole Broken, Fire Horn Sounds

A power pole, broken yesterday afternoon by construction workers of Lee-Mac Paving Co. at Mar East and Solano Street in Tiburon, caused the horn of the Tiburon main fire station and siren of the Trestle Glen Station to sound for 15 minutes.

Many anxious persons telephoned the fire station, fireman Clive Coverdale said.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court sentenced him yesterday for driving while intoxicated along Virginia Avenue in Novato on Nov. 9.

Lunch Survey Results Due Discussion

Larkspur School District trustees will discuss results of a survey on parents' preferences for a school lunch program at 7:30 p.m. today in the board office in Larkspur-Corte Madera School.

Letters were sent out nearly two weeks ago asking parents if they were willing to pay the full amount of a lunch program so the district does not have to subsidize it; whether they preferred the frozen or kitchen-cooked lunches, and how many of their children would eat regularly in the cafeteria.

The district has been without a lunch program since the opening of this school year.

Board members also will discuss answers to a questionnaire about the district submitted to them by the Marin Estates Homeowners Assn.; and capital outlay items and the Larkspur dump. Donald Fox will report on the newly organized citizens advisory committee.

Lutheran Church Plans Going To Commission

A new location for the Trinity Lutheran Church of San Rafael and construction of a modern church "in the round," parish house and church school will be considered by the San Rafael Planning Commission at its meeting at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the city hall.

The church, now located at 1415 Fifth Avenue, has applied for a use permit to build on a 4.75-acre site on the south side of Woodland Avenue near Octavia Street.

Plans by architect Donald P. Smith of San Francisco indicate a one-story church seating 316 persons. Capping the church, which would cover 5-278 square feet, would be a lofty spire.

The parish house and school would be rectangular-shaped one-story buildings occupying a total of 5,600 square feet. Off street parking spaces would be provided for 62 cars.

Applying for the use permit are Rev. Fred C. Braunschweiger, pastor, and Jack J. Craemer, president of the church's board of directors. The property includes single-family and apartment zoning.

Planning commissioners tonight will consider architectural approval of the 21-unit Canal Garden apartments at 540 Canal Street and a 13,000-square-foot retail store on the west side of Tiburon Street near Francisco Boulevard.

The three-story luxury apartment building plan includes docking facilities on the canal, individual balconies and a swimming pool.

The retail store, planned by Spero Spiliotis and Co. of San Rafael, would be of stucco finish with the front almost entirely of glass. The lot, next to the Montgomery Ward and Co. warehouse, provides for 85 off-street parking spaces.

Rezoning of 16 acres of the Terra Linda Meadows located at the west end of Manuel Freitas Parkway from unclassified to garden apartment will be considered. Applicant is Calvin C. B. Wheeler, the developer of the cooperative Terra Linda Garden apartments on the west side of Highway 101 in Terra Linda. The land is uninhabited.

Signs will be a major item before the commissioners tonight.

Under consideration will be use permits for a 35-by-17-foot Northgate Shopping Center sign on Manuel Freitas Parkway at the entrance to the center, a 6,000-pound revolving Purity Stores' sign reaching a height of 60 feet at the Northgate Center, and a 20-by-4-foot plexiglass sign featuring the San Francisco skyline for the Coldwell, Banker and Co. real estate agents at 1242 Fifth Avenue.

Lagunitas School Site Discussed

Two steps toward acquisition of additional land adjoining the Lagunitas School in San Geronimo Valley were reported at a meeting of the district board last week.

California Pacific Title Co. submitted a favorable report as to status of title. A letter from the county counsel's office volunteered legal aid in the matter and reported receipt of an appraisal.

A Christmas dance by the seventh and eighth grades of the Lagunitas School was approved for 7 p.m. Dec. 16 at the school.

The board decided to hold a single December meeting on Dec. 15, consolidating the two meetings normal in each month.

Sierra Club Balloting On Loyalty Oath

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — California's Sierra Club, devoted by tradition to conservation of natural resources, is engaged in a ballot battle over whether to require new members to submit to a loyalty oath.

The club's 16,000 members began receiving ballots yesterday to determine whether applicants must swear not to advocate the forcible overthrow of the government.

One member said, "A loyalty oath to look at trees, I've never heard of such a thing."

Club directors opposed the measure.

The by-laws amendment was sponsored by Walter Heninger of Los Angeles. His printed statement which accompanied the ballots said, "One and possibly two men will be watching the outcome of this election. To which will your vote give 'aid and comfort'—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover or Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev?"

Naturalist John Muir founded the club 68 years ago to promote the exploration, preservation and enjoyment of national scenic resources.

Sleepy Driver Injured On Road

Frederick Martin Daly, 42, salesman from Daly City, was driving south on Highway 101 half a mile north of the Greenbrae overpass at 3 a.m. today.

"I was very sleepy," he later told the California Highway Patrol, "and the first thing I remember, the car was rolling."

His small imported vehicle had mounted the divider strip and gone into soft dirt. Daly was treated at Marin General Hospital for cuts on both hands and forehead.

MONO AVENUE, MANOR

Planners In Fairfax Given Two Headaches

Center Boulevard property owners gave the Fairfax Planning Commission its first headache last night at the opening of a hearing on the city's long-in-preparation comprehensive zoning ordinance.

In 1958, owners of lots extending from Mono Avenue to what was then an extension of Broadway sold the city frontage for widening the latter street (which became Center Boulevard) at a negotiated price, with a proviso that the first 75 feet north of the boulevard would be rezoned from single-family dwelling to commercial.

In drawing up the comprehensive ordinance, the planners proposed to restore the property to residential zoning.

Last night, the commission was presented with a petition signed by 10 property owners, protesting the change. The name of Mrs. Alice Leonesio, the city clerk, headed the list.

Fire Chief Charles M. Thornton, a voting member of the planning body, subsequently moved that the 75 feet of commercial zoning be restored. But chairman Daniel M. Miller objected that to do so "creates another problem that is worse."

Miller pointed out that if the front 75 feet of the lots were rezoned commercial, and the remainder, to Mono Avenue, remained residential, none could be split into two legal lots. "You're going to create quite a lot of hermaphrodite lots there," he commented.

Thornton said the city had an obligation to grant the commercial zoning. Other members of the commission agreed with this—but also agreed with Miller that the 75-foot commercial strip would make a hodge-podge of the whole row of lots.

At length, the commission decided to invite the property owners on both Center Boulevard and the other side of Mono Avenue to appear at a continuation of the hearing, set for Dec. 5 at 8 p.m. in the city council chambers, to discuss the problem.

The second big headache was presented by Manor Hill.

The planners proposed to rezone Manor Hill from duplex to single-family dwelling. Their principal reason is that the steep terrain is served by narrow streets which, they feel, could not carry the additional traffic created by multiple dwellings.

But 34 property owners, headed by Berry W. Rogers, signed a petition to keep duplex zoning—even though the Manor Hill lots are only 5,000 square feet, while the new zoning ordinance specifies 6,000 square feet minimum for a duplex lot.

The planners put that headache off until Dec. 5 also.

Another argument developed over a proposal for a minimum 10-foot rear yard setback. J. T. Uhte, a member of the planning commission not present at the hearing, complained by letter that this was "depriving the owner of the use of his lot." Robert Roy, building inspector and also a voting member of the planning commission, backed Uhte's stand.

Waldemar E. Radtke, city councilman and planning commissioner, held that the setback is necessary to prevent anyone from building up to the rear property line to the detriment of his neighbor.

Finally, however, he proposed that the 10 feet be imposed only for the dwelling, with small accessory buildings permitted within five feet of the line. Most of the other members went along with this. No vote will be taken until the Dec. 5 session.

Some petitioners fared better.

Mrs. Elsie Creel asked that a 19,000 square foot lot she owns on Olema Drive, next to the Buon Gusto Villa restaurant, be zoned for apartments instead of duplexes. The planners saw nothing wrong with that, and, on suggestion of chairman Miller, agreed to the change.

Twenty-two residents of Wood Lane signed a petition asking their area be zoned for single-family dwellings instead of duplexes, as proposed. Mayor Kenneth M. Edgar and ex-Mayor William R. Hughes, both of Wood Lane residents, backed the petition in person.

They pointed out that the terrain is so steep that "only about a third of each lot is buildable" and many of the lots can be reached only via a 10-foot-wide private road.

"I see no objection to leaving it R-1 if that's what the people want," said Radtke.

"They all do," commented Miller. The commission agreed to the single-family zoning, but as in other cases delayed formal vote until Dec. 5.

Some 70 residents were on hand to hear the ordinance read and ask questions about it. All planning commissioners except Uhte were present. The commission now has eight members, one short of full strength.

The ordinance provides for fairly simple zoning, dividing Fairfax into single-family dwelling, duplex, apartment, limited commercial and industrial zones, with various types of commercial developments and office buildings permitted in the apartment zone at the discretion of the planners and city council. The only area zoned industrial is that now occupied by Fairfax Lumber Co.

East-West Game Most Worthwhile; Not One Cent Of Salary Is Paid

HANLEY

College football, the 1960 edition of which just closed, achieves many worthwhile purposes, but none finer than supplying All-Stars for the annual East-West game that will provide another quarter of a million dollars this year to the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children.

Any day now Bill Coffman, managing director of the game since it was first played Dec. 26, 1925 in almost forgotten Ewing Field, will announce the 48 players selected from both sides of the Mississippi for the 36th East-West game that is scheduled Dec. 31 in Kezar Stadium.

Only on a few occasions has Coffman displayed open anger. Once was after last year's East-West game when the promoter of the Senior Bowl at Mobile, Ala., claimed to have affidavits from 18 players in the 1954 and 1955 Senior Bowl saying they received pay for competing in the East-West game.

"Since the inception of the East-West game in 1925," Coffman snapped, "no coach or player has ever been paid a salary, fee or bonus of any kind. All transportation, housing and hotel bills is paid for directly by the East-West committee.

"EACH PLAYER has always been given $25 when leaving home to cover incidentals and the sum of $100 when returning, a total of $125, as reimbursement for out-of-pocket expense.

"Each coach is provided likewise with transportation, housing and food and turns in an expense account for out-of-pocket expense during the entire training period. This has averaged about $160 and has never exceeded $300 in the case of each coach. Obviously, they work for charity only."

Coffman further explained that the East-West committee's policy of paying expense money to the players long ago had been carefully examined by the NCAA and approved.

"WE HAVE repeatedly turned down offers from Senior Bowl and Hula Bowl officials to pay part of our transportation expenses for players who compete in those games after appearing here," said Coffman.

"We want nothing to do with them. Players in the East-West game are fully eligible under NCAA rules, to compete in spring sports afterwards."

BECAUSE THE Senior Bowl openly pays its players they thereby forfeit their athletic scholarships and eligibility for spring sports.

Orin E. (Babe) Hollingbery, who coached the first West team in 1925 and now is business manager of the East-West game, was much sharper in his comment than Coffman about the Senior Bowl promoter's charge.

"If anyone signed an affidavit he was paid to play in the East-West game, he is a liar, crazy or misinformed. I would like to see such an affidavit."

BOWL BIDS STILL UP FOR GRABS

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Speculation, rather than college football teams, filled most of the available postseason bowl spots today even after Penn State and Baylor announced their willingness to participate in the Liberty and Gator Bowls, respectively.

This pair yesterday joined Washington, Arkansas and Missouri, which over the weekend, announced bowl acceptances. Four of the nine major bowls have yet to fill a spot and it is unlikely that there will be much more action in that direction until after Saturday's games when many of the eligibles wind up the regular 1960 season.

The newly organized Gotham Bowl in New York may not even get off the ground. Syracuse, the defending national and Cotton Bowl champion, and a key to a good "home draw" by the Gathom committee, withdrew from all post-season consideration yesterday.

The committee still hopes to land the winner of the Army-Navy game.

The list of available narrowed down to about 10, which include: Alabama (7-1-1), Tennessee (5-2-2), Mississippi (8-0-1, Minnesota and Iowa, both 8-1, Duke, Florida, Texas and Rice, all 7-2, and Oregon (7-2-1).

Iowa and Minnesota, Big Ten co-champions, must be eliminated if not invited to the Rose Bowl. Conference rules prohibit other bowl play.

Here is the present bowl lineup, including the speculation:

ROSE—Washington (9-1), defending Big Five and Rose Bowl champ, is in. "It's just about narrowed down to Navy, Iowa and Minnesota, with some others under consideration," Huskies coach Jim Owens said last night. Navy gave Washington its only loss, 15-14, this season.

SUGAR—No berths filled. Mississippi is favored to win the Southeastern Conference title, with a victory Saturday over Mississippi State and the SEC champ usually is the host. Florido and Alabama may slip in if Ole Miss falters. The visitor may be Rice if the Owls beat Baylor and tie for the Southwest Conference title.

COTTON—Arkansas (8-2) is the host. Oregon, Alabama and Tennessee have been named as possibilities.

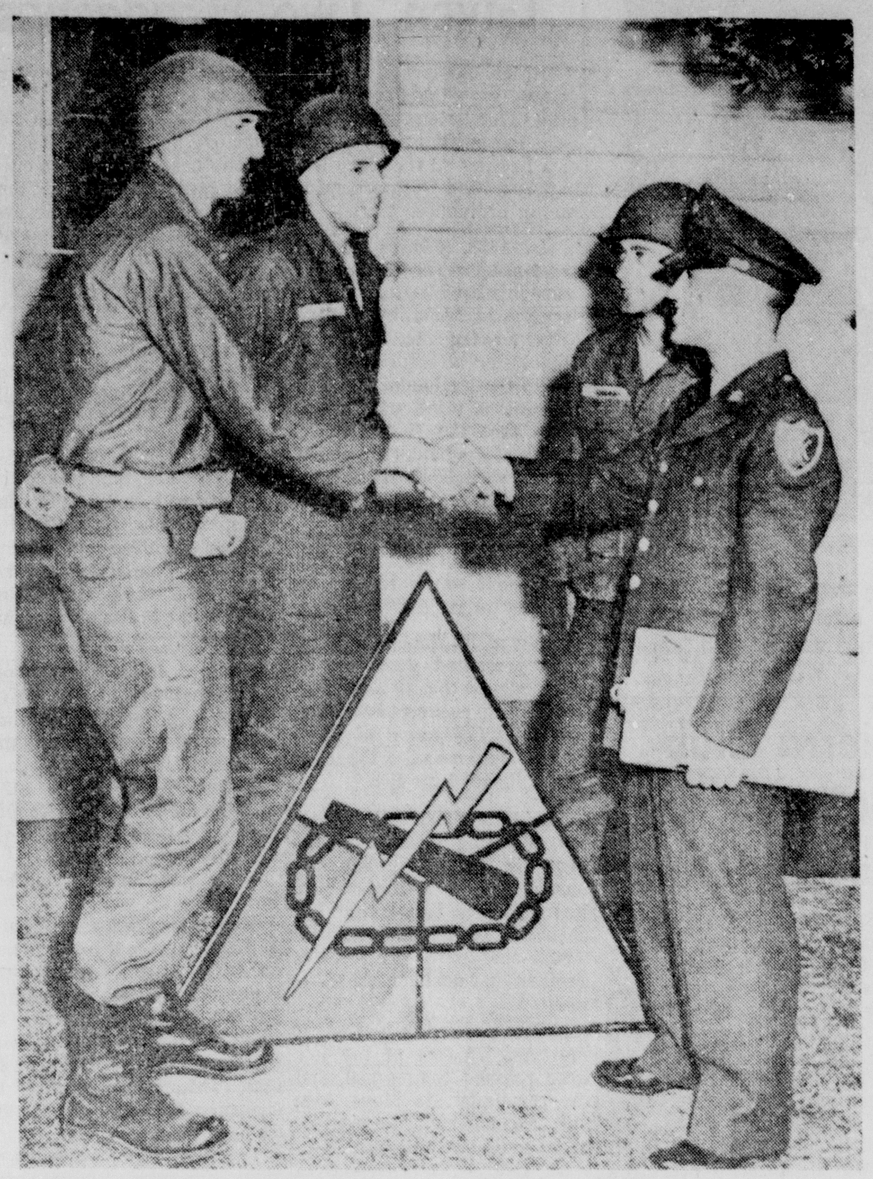

ORANGE—Missouri (9-1), which lost to Georgia 14-0 last New Year's Day, is back. Duke, the Atlantic Coast Conference king, may be the top choice now that Syracuse has declined.

GATOR—Baylor (7-2) is in, and Florida was invited last week but put off a decision until after its final game against Miami this weekend. If Ole Miss wins the SEC title, the Gators will accept.

LIBERTY—Penn State (6-3), is back to defend its title. Texas, Tennessee and Alabama, which lost 7-0 in the inaugural last year, are possibles.

BLUEBONNET—No team has been named, but Texas seems the logical "home" choice. Again Tennessee and Alabama seem to be the choice, depending who's left in the battle with the Liberty Bowl.

Tennessee Tech accepted a berth in the Tangerine Bowl last night.

Iowa, Mississippi Are Close Behind

COMBINED AP & UPI

Minnesota's Golden Gophers leapfrogged back into first place in both the Associated Press sports reporters' and United Press International board of coaches' college football polls this week.

But in both polls the Iowa Hawkeyes were a close second, thus indicating a photo finish in next week's closing votes.

In the A.P. vote, the Gophers had 424½ total points, Iowa 417½. But Iowa received 17½ first place votes as against 13½ for Minnesota. The UPI balloting was equally tight, with Minnesota ahead 314 to 311 in total points, but Iowa holding a 13 to 11 edge in first place votes. Mississippi was a strong third in both polls and Washington placed fourth and Missouri fifth in both.

Kansas, which knocked off last week's leader, Missouri, on Saturday, vaulted into 10th in both ratings.

Both Minnesota and Iowa have now finished their season. But Mississippi has a game remaining—with Mississippi State—and with a good showing this Saturday, could move up on the Big Ten teams.

The A.P. vote with first place tallies in parentheses:

1.	Minnesota 13½	424½
2.	Iowa 17½	417½
3.	Mississippi 13	398
4.	Washington 2	249

6.	Arkansas	228
7.	Navy	188
8.	Auburn 1	149½
9	Ohio State	117
10.	Kansas	48

Others receiving votes: Duke 36, Rice 34, Yale 30½, Michigan State 19, New Mexico State 9, Penn State 9, Syracuse 6, Florida 6, Texas 3, Purdue 2, Oregon 2, Michigan 2, Oregon State 1. (Yale received one first-place vote.)

The UPI ratings (first-place votes in parenthesis):

1.	Minnesota (11)	314
2.	Iowa (13)	311
3.	Mississippi (11)	267
4.	Washington	170
5	Missouri	167
6.	Arkansas	160
7.	Navy	97
8.	Ohio State	94
9.	Auburn	89

Second 10-11. Rice, 37; 12. Michigan State, 31; 13. Duke, 25; 14. Syracuse, 17; 15. Baylor, 15; 16. Yale, 14; 17. Purdue, 13; 18. New Mexico State, 10; 19. Tie between Alabama and Florida, 6 each.

Others—Texas, Penn State, and Army, 4 each; Utah State, Oregon and Colorado, 2 each; Ohio Univ. and Georgia Tech, 1 each.

Huskies Place Four On Coast Eleven

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—University of Washington's Rose Bowl-bound Huskies grabbed four places and UCLA, the third-place finisher in the Big Five, got three on the 1960 all-coast college football team named today.

The Huskies, making their second straight trip to Pasadena after posting a 9-1 record this season and going through the second straight year without a loss to a west coast team, got tackle Kurt Gegner, guard Chuck Allen and center Roy McKasson on the first-team line. And George Fleming, the great break-away, went into the backfield.

THE UCLANS

The UCLA men chosen were guard Jack Metcalf, end Marv Luster and Bill Kilmer, the fine tailback.

The other four spots went to four different schools, Hugh Campbell, the national pass-catching champion from Washington State, drew down one end berth; Steve Barnett, 225-pound Oregon sophomore is one of the tackles, and Terry Baker, Oregon State sophomore sensation, is in the backfield.

The fourth backfield post went to a "small" school man for the first time in many years. Dale Messer, who led his Fresno State team to a tremendous season—8-1, with one to go—was an easy choice.

Coach of the year had to be Jim Owens of Washington, who spent a rugged season watching his team win last-minute decisions.

TOP LINEMAN

Lineman of the year honors go to Campbell, who established himself as one of the great pass-catchers in the country—although only a 20-year-old sophomore.

Back of the year selection is Kilmer, the calmest individual in college ranks this year and the man who made a run-away of the individual total-yardage statistics in the Big Five.

In an odd quirk, not a single seniors made the team. There are three sophomores and eight juniors on the squad.

Golden Gate Slates Big Holiday Race

ALBANY (AP) — Golden Gate Fields decides its championship for fillies and mares with a field of 11 expected for the $10,000 Thanksgiving Day Handicap.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Beache's Boston Again, with two victories at the recent Tanforan meeting, rates as the favorite. She's been among the West's top gal racers the past three seasons.

Togetherness may provide the top competition. She won her fourth straight race here last Friday—an allowance at a mile, the same distance as Thursday's feature.

Among those asking for weight assignments were Llangollen Farm's Trying Too, a winner in New York before being shipped West two weeks ago, and Preston Madden's stakes winner, Ruwenzori.

Other entries expected are Commodier, Foreverett, Long Ears, Perizade, Two Dreams, Pink Swan and Summer Story.

In Monday's one-mile feature, Ky. Music won and paid $23.80.

East Selects Bruisers To Man Line Positions

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — One thing you can say about linemen picked for the East squad and the Dec. 31 Shriner benefit game against the West:

These guys are big enough to go bear hunting with a bass fiddle. Fourteen linemen average 224 pounds. The 24-man squad was named Monday. It includes representatives from 18 colleges and universities.

Four of the East tackles weigh more than 240 pounds each.

Bill Coffman, managing director of the 36th annual Crippled Children's Hospital charity, said the West squad would be named next Tuesday.

Coach Milt Bruhn of Wisconsin will pilot the East squad. His backfield will include Wisconsin's Tom Wiesner and Ed Dyas of Auburn, fullbacks; and quarterbacks Tom Matte, Ohio State; Lowndes Shingler, Clemson; and Tom Wilson, Michigan State.

The line includes Dick Grecni, 233 pounds, Ohio University; and Bernie Casey, 210, Bowling Green; Ken Rice, 245, Auburn; Joe Rutgens, 240, Illinois; Bernie Darre, 230, Tulane; Jim Tyrer, 245, Ohio State; and Tom Gilberg, 230, Syracuse.

Marin Pirates Finish 4th In Swimfest

Led by Terry Politi, who scored the only first place for the team, Marin Pirates swimmers garnered enough points to bring home a fourth place trophy from the Palo Alo Elks Club swim meet Saturday and Sunday.

Politi's victory was scored in the 13-14 age bracket boys 100 yard backstroke Sunday afternoon, after he qualified third in the morning heats. His winning time was 1:07 flat.

Bob Girvin racked up the highest point score among Marin swimmers taking second places in the 10 and under boys 50-yard free style, 25 free, 25 butterfly, and third in the 25 back.

Eight-year-old Robert Yeager made his debut on the team with two seconds, in the 25-yard free style and 25 breast for his age group.

Jerry Keeler was second in 10 and under boys 25 back, tied for third in 25 free, and was fourth in 25 butterfly.

Candy Beeler was the lone Pirate girl medalist with a third in the 11-12 girls 100 breaststroke.

Lynne Keeler tied for fourth in the 13-14 girls 50 free. Bill Anderson was fifth in the 15-16 boys 100 and 400 free races, and Denny Arms was fifth in the 11-12 boys 50 yard free style and sixth in the 100 free style.

Southwest Grid Stars Snapped Up In Draft

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Five outstanding Southwest Conference football players were snapped up yesterday by the American Football League's early draft. The sixth round of the drafting, being conducted by telephone, will be completed today.

E. J. Holub, Texas Tech center; Bob Lilly, Texas Christian tackle; Jerry Mays, Southern Methodist tackle; Arnold Davis, Baylor end; and Monte Lee, Texas guard; were drafted by the AFL teams.

The Dallas Texans grabbed Holub, Lilly and Mays; Houston took Lee; and New York got Arnold Davis but traded him to Buffalo.

Auburn tackle Ken Rice was the first draft choice, drawn by Buffalo, which got the first pick due to its standings in the race.

First choices of the other seven clubs in the league were Tom Brown, Minnesota guard; Tommy Mason, Tulane halfback; Bob Gaiters; New Mexico State halfback; Joe Rutgens, Illinois tackle; Holub, Earl Faison, Indiana end; and Mike Ditka, Pittsburgh.

Brown was drawn by New York, Mason by Boston, Gaiters by Denver, Rutgens by Oakland, Faison by Los Angeles and Ditka by Houston.

Commissioner Joe Foss said no players could be signed to contracts before completing their college eligibility, including bowl games.

Draft choices of the Oakland Raiders were Joe Rutgens, tackle, Illinois; George Fleming, halfback, Washington; Myron Pottios, guard, Notre Dame; Elbert Kimbrough, end, Northwestern; Dick Norman, quarterback, Stanford; Johnny Brewer, end, Mississippi.

Los Angeles Chargers—Earl Raison, end, Indiana; Keith Lincoln, halfback, Washington State; Marlin McKeever, end, Southern California; James Johnson, halfback, UCLA; Bill Kilmer, halfback-quarterback, UCLA.

Wilt Takes Point Lead

NEW YORK (AP)—Wilt Chamberlain of Philadelphia has regained the National Basketball Assn. individual scoring lead despite a tremendous scoring spree by Elgin Baylor of Los Angeles.

Chamberlain leads the West Coast flash 549-513, but the Philadelphian has played one more game than Baylor, who set an NBA single game record by scoring 71 points against New York last week, and got 52 in another game.

Baylor, however, has averaged 36.64 points a game to 36.60 for Chamberlain. Both marks are the highest in the 15-year history of the league.

Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati continues in third place with 483 points.

New Detroit Pilot Says 'No Miracles'

DETROIT (AP) — Bob Scheffing steps into one of baseball's most dangerous managerial jobs in Detroit with no illusions he'll be an overnight miracle man.

The Tigers hired him yesterday as their eighth manager since 1952, knowing it'll take time—perhaps several years—before they can challenge for a pennant.

"I don't feel I'm qualified to talk about the Tigers' problems right now," said Scheffing, who will receive a reported $35,000 a year.

"I'm no miracle man, but I have always wanted to manage a young team and I'm sure it'll improve.

The FISHIN' FOOL

STEVENS

An old-time adage tells us, "If a thing is worth doing it is worth doing well." Hence it behooves an amateur forger to be very careful when raising the figures on a check or the date on a fishing license. Otherwise he may be caught.

One such amateur learned the truth the hard way. He attempted to backdate a fishing license from "9" to "7." Did a fair job of it; only the stub in the license agent's book still showed "9." He was fined $100 for the trying to change the date and an additional $25 for having no license at the time he was checked. Yea verily, crime doesn't pay.

Seems to me that no one should object to buying a sport-fishing license even this late in the year. With such fishing as we have had, are having, and will likely continue having, until March of next year, the small amount of money asked by the state shouldn't be begrudged.

Did I say good fishing? Right! It is just that as far as striped bass are concerned.

OF SPECIAL interest is the swell run of large bass (10, 12 and 15 pounds) now infesting the Belvedere-Paradise Cove-California City sector. Salmon gear with three-pound sinkers on sinker-releasers, and various lures. Could be that the long awaited schools of large bass have at last made it in from the ocean. I talked with Ritchie Jarrett in Berkeley and was told most of the fish being brought from that sector show the red at base of tail and along the fins that indicates these fish are fresh runners.

OUT OF China Camp and Joe's Launching at Santa Venetia Slough, the local anglers have been doing a fine job of fish-getting for the past four days.

Joe Nerviani told me that at least 50 per cent of the anglers who went from his place made the grade, mostly with limits and everyone had fish. The way Joe put it: "Ralph, they've been knocking 'em silly!"

Joe mentioned Joe Mello having taken four limits of bass on four times out; William McGowan, limits for his fishing pal and himself, three times out. Nerviani with brother Bernard, collected limits in 45 minutes of fishing.

Fish haven't been in the lunker class — running in the three-to-five pound class, but apparently are fresh fish.

ONE THING Nerviani told me causes a sadness: Out in the deeper water the fishermen have been hooking quite a few sharks. I asked what species and Joe told me they are leopard sharks. When will the average angler learn that a leopard shark is considered a true delicacy on the table. I personally know of cases where a 20-pound striped bass was traded for a 10 pound leopard shark. Take the next such fish home and try it for eatability — but be sure it is the leopard shark, not the mud or smoothskin species.

One more extremely interesting item Joe released: Those who fish for them properly are coming in with a flock of fine flat flounders. I have always maintained that no tastier bit of fish food can be found than a fillet of flounder. Ever try them?

I repeat — bass fishing is good over a very great range.

How about you, are you getting your share?

A.L. Presses O'Malley For L.A. Franchise

NEW YORK (AP) — Del Webb and Walter O'Malley, the two titans of the major leagues, were expected to hold the center of the stormy stage today as the beleaguered American League resumed its formidable task of locating a franchise in Los Angeles.

Webb, co-owner of the New York Yankees, and O'Malley, head of the Los Angeles Dodgers, arrived here this morning for a summit meeting in Commissioner Ford Frick's office with league presidents Joe Cronin of the American and Warren Giles of the National.

O'Malley made his position quite clear even before he left the West Coast.

'NOT TILL '61'

"I'm not opposed to the expansion of the American League into Los Angeles," he said, "but not in 1961."

The position of Webb and the American League is just as plain. They are determined to grant a franchise to Los Angeles, and in 1961, O'Malley notwithstanding.

Webb was dispatched to the West Coast with instructions to offer what it considers a "reasonable" settlement to O'Malley for any expenses he might have accrued in bringing the Dodgers there three years ago. O'Malley has said that compensation to the Dodgers by the new American League entry would be the least important of the conditions.

"I am opposed to sharing the Los Angeles Coliseum in 1961," he said. "I think a new team should be located in an area 15 miles from the Dodgers home site."

SOMEWHERE ELSE

He mentioned such places as Long Beach and San Bernardino. Some American League owners are wondering why he didn't add Laguna Beach.

"O'Malley just doesn't want the American League in Los Angeles," said Nate Dolan, the blunt-spoken vice president of the Cleveland Indians. "We made an honest attempt to abide by the commissioner's wishes—to affect some kind of a fair and reasonable settlement with O'Malley. Now it's up to the commissioner to weigh all the evidence and make his decision."

NAVE LANES OPENS WITH A BANG

William Nave Sr. gets plenty of assistance from his three sons in the grand opening of their Nave Lanes at Ignacio Friday night. Flanking the senior Nave is Richard (left) and William Jr. while Bob watches the action from the rear. A crowd estimated at 800 bowling fans, city and county officials and sports celebrities were on hand to congratulate the Nave family on their beautiful 32-lane bowling center. Completion of restaurant and cocktail lounge brought about the grand opening. Actual bowling has been going on since September. (Ken Molino photo)

BOWLING

Marin Felt and Needle Nook team, led by Barbara Hettrick, set season high game of 652 and high series of 1798 last week in the Splitniks women's league at Greenbrae Lanes.

Mrs. Hettrick's games of 201, 138 and 173 for a high series of 512 led her team to games of 600, 546 and 652 for a 1798 series. Her teammates' series were Evelyn Cusimano 489, Corina Bacigalupi 426 and Betty Lytle 371.

Others above the 450 series mark were Jean Vaccaro 470, Lucile Latson 466, Rena Knittel 466, Eloise Simpson 458, Millie Burgess 459, Jane Earley 455 and Bessie Koch 541.

Filipino Gamble On Youth In Davis Cup Play Fails

BRISBANE, Australia (AP)—The Philippines' bold gamble on youth failed today and America zoomed to a 2-0 lead in the Davis Cup interzone semi-finals on smashing singles victories by Barry MacKay and Earl Buchholz.

First MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, crushed 25-year-old Eddie Dungo, playing his first Davis Cup match 6-1, 6-2, 6-0. Then Buchholz of St. Louis, added to the route by humbling 23-year-old Johnny Jose, 7-1, 6-1, 6-0, 6-2.

Jose seized the opening set from Buchholz on some sparkling play. But he lacked the experience to go all the way.

The two top-ranked Filipino aces, Raymundo Deyro, 34, and Felicisimo Ampon, 40, were benched when the nonplaying Philippine captain, Al Del Rio, decided to gamble with his youngsters.

The Americans now need only one more victory, which likely will come tomorrow when Dennis Ralston, Bakersfield, Calif., and Chuck McKinley, St. Louis play Jose and Dungo in doubles, to advance to the interzone final against Italy's European champions.

Lyle Mackin Given Edge

OAKLAND (AP)—Lyle Mackin of Oakland ranks as a slight favorite to win the California welterweight boxing title from Jerry Hunnicutt of Menlo Park tonight in Oakland Auditorium.

The fight is scheduled for 12 rounds.

Mackin, a smooth boxer and sharp puncher, has lost but once in 21 fights and boasts 14 knockouts.

Hunnicutt, a free swinger, broke the jaw of Tomstone Smith to record a third round kayo and claim the California title in 1959. The chunky battler has scored 16 knockouts in his 25 victories. He has lost three times.

Long Beach Vs. Tyler In Junior Rose Bowl

PASADENA (AP)—Long Beach City College was named yesterday to face Tyler Junior College of Texas in the 15th annual Junior Rose Bowl Dec. 10.

Each school, undefeated and untied this year, has made one previous trip to the bowl. Long Beach stopped Boise, Idaho, J.C. 33-13 in 1950. The next year Tyler lost a tight one, 28-26, to Pasadena City College.

Basketball Managers Meet Tomorrow Night

A meeting of teams in the class B and C divisions of the San Rafael Recreational Department's 1960-61 basketball leagues is scheduled tomorrow night, 7:30 o'clock, at Albert Field.

On the agenda is discussion of schedules, entry fees and playing dates. All managers are asked to attend.

Marinwood Ball League To Grow In 1961 Season

Joe Santiago, recently re-elected president of the Marinwood Little League, today said plans are underway to increase the number of major teams to five next season and the minor league structure to four or five teams.

Santiago said the increased population in the area necessitates the growth and also that additional help is needed from adults to help supervise the baseball program. Anyone interested in helping should contact Santiago.

Other officers elected to 1961 posts recently were Bob Grose, vice president; George Martus, purchasing agent; Liz Brennan, publicity; Howard McKinstry, school-field liason; Dave Grant, chief umpire and Fred Krambs, player agent.

Judo Champions

Southern Marin Recreation Center's judo instructor, Wally Jay, coached his Island Judo Jujitsu Club to the team championship at the recent Palo Alto Invitational Judo tournament.

The Island Club scored 41 victories, 12 losses and 13 draw matches in the meet which drew more than 250 contestants from 21 judo clubs in northern California.

Cal Will Snub L.A. Tourney In The Future

BERKELEY (AP) — California plans to play in the Los Angeles Invitational Basketball tournament Dec. 28-30 — but Athletic Director Pete Newell says it will be the last time.

The reason: Tournament officials last year refused to let the Bears' Straw Hats band play too. The regulation hasn't been changed.

Officials said other college teams were unable to bring musicians, so they ruled out all of them. Neutral high school groups supply the music.

Newell said that next year the Bears have a bid to Portland's Far West Classic "where the band will be welcomed."

Novato JV Grid Team Undefeated

One of the proudest football records in the recently-conducted Marin County season belongs to Novato High School's junior varsity team which went through an eight-game schedule without a defeat.

The Novatans rolled up 204 points to opponents' mere 27, and four of their eight victories were by shutout scores.

Here is the Novato JV record of victories: 13-0 over Analy, 41-0 over Sonoma, 13-7 over John Swett, 14-7 over Ft. Bragg, 28-6 over Terra Linda, 27-7 over Drake, 34-0 over Marin Catholic and 34-0 over San Rafael.

Cepeda Boosts Public Relations For Giants With Visit To Marin

Orlando Cepeda's fan club has about 175 new members today—and they're all seventh and eighth grade students at Brookside School in San Anselmo.

The "Baby Bull of the San Francisco Giants accepted an invitation to attend the school's student body meeting last Friday and entertained the kids for a solid hour, signing autographs, answering questions and exhibiting his hitting and throwing prowess.

The highlight of his exhibition was when he clouted a baseball clear out of the school property as the youngsters screamed their delight.

During his visit Cepeda told the youngsters that he was quite pleased with the selection of Alvin Dark as the new manager. He also commented about Candlestick Park, that it was too big and too windy and that he preferred old Seals Stadium as home of the Giants.

Cepeda was invited to the school by Miss Tina Press, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Press of San Anselmo, who was entertainment chairman for the assembly.

Orlando punctuated his appearance by planting a big kiss on the cheek of a young polio victim — who promptly broke down and cried from sheer delight.

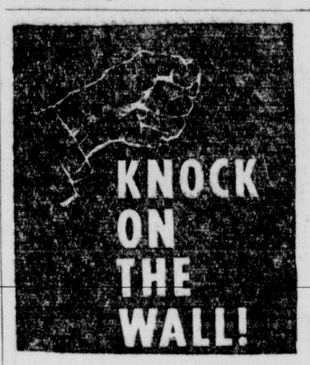

Giants' public relations would soar with more gestures like Cepeda's.

ALL THE boys named on the All-Marin County Athletic League football squad last week deserved the honor, but how the coaches who selected the squad placed Tam High's Pat Morgan as a defensive back is beyond me.

Morgan, in our opinion which is shared by many, just happens to be the best ball carrier in the league, yet no mention on the offensive team.

Rather than sit down and discuss each position, the coaches decided to mail their ballots into Commissioner Victor W. Jones who then was to tally the vote and name offensive and defensive units. Several ties for positions resulted under this voting system.

If the coaches had sat down and discussed matters, 11 offensive and 11 defensive players could have been picked and boys like Pat Morgan would be placed in their correct positions.

Councilmen Revoke Apartment Permits

The San Rafael City Council last night took a preliminary step toward rezoning the Marin Professional Center across from Terra Linda, directing city planners to revoke two use permits for apartments in the area.

The council action followed an appeal by Dr. William S. Neal, owner of the Marin Medical Center on Professional Center Parkway, against a use permit granted by the planning commission for a 20-unit apartment house on the parkway to Mrs. Herman Graces, 1243 Butterfield Road, San Anselmo.

Dr. Neal showed councilmen a brochure on the center's Unit One which showed it as a location for professional and administrative offices and their allied and supporting uses.

He said the county had zoned the land professional-administrative before it was annexed to the City of San Rafael. He urged that this zoning be reestablished. The area is now unclassified since San Rafael has no professional-administrative zoning.

"We are concerned with proper zoning for the area," declared Mayor John F. McInnis. "I'm abashed to find that the city's zoning out there has not reached this point."

On a motion by Councilman Charles W. Aby, the council voted three to none (Councilmen Fred Jensen and Louis H. Baar absent) to dey the use permit granted to Mrs. Graves.

Mayor McInnis added that the planning commission should revoke any outstanding use permits conflicting with the old county zoning of the area and start public hearings on rezoning the area from its unclassified state.

The two holders of apartment use permits, Mrs. Graves and contractor Parker A. Archer of Belvedere, protested the council's action.

Answered McInnis: "This council has repeatedly urged that zoning be maintained when a territory is annexed by one city and that the use of the land not be changed without a hearing with the property owners."

Also last night, the council by a three-to-one vote accepted the 42-page municipal code.

Acceptance followed a report by City Atty. Albert E. Bagshaw that ordinances not in the code (which presently contains only the charter and punitive ordinances) may be adopted to it after the code is approved. Councilmen agreed.

Councilmen postponed appointing a chief building inspector to fill the vacancy created by death of Clifford Monk until their next meeting on Dec. 5. City Manager Dan E. Andersen reported the assistant inspector Andrew Thomas is working as temporary department head.

In other action, councilmen:

1. Set public hearings for Dec. 5 on the protests of the Villa Real Property Owners Assn. against a nine-foot fence variance granted for the tennis court of Melvin Marlowe of 50 Arguello Circle, and an amendment to the zoning ordinance to permit rubbish dumps in heavy commercial and manufacturing districts. There is no dumping areas in the city limits now.

2. Received an invitation to discuss the possibility of getting a new city hall with the civic affairs committee of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon meeting Dec. 14 in the chamber office.

3. Referred to the traffic committee a 17-signature petition from Laurel Place property owners asking that parkng on Laurel Place from Lincoln Avenue to Nye Street be limited to one side of the street.

4. Asked for study by the traffic committee of changing two-hour meters on city parking lots to four hours and limiting Fourth Street meters to 40 minutes instead of one hour.

5. Approved a two-hour parking limit on both sides of Fifth Avenue between E and G Streets (there is now no restrictions) and a stop sign for southbound traffic on Bayo Vista Way at its intersection with East Crescent

6. Extended the fire zone map to include recently annexed uninhabited areas in the northern section of the city which will enforce more restrictive building conditions for commercial development, but will not change fire insurance rates.

7. Hired eight new firemen, at $447 per month, to start work on Dec. 1. They are Peter D. Fenton, Heber R. Mellor, Dennis A. Jenson, Edward H. Holbrook, Marlen L. Williams, Ronald S. Radley, Claudio F. Casartelli and John D. Landrock.

Woman Admits Check Forgery

A Salinas probation officer's wife admitted yesterday she had forged checks in San Rafael to buy two bicycles at Ed's Auto Supply last Oct. 18.

Mrs. Elizabeth Grace Mauras, 35, pleaded guilty to forgery before Judge Richard M. Sims in Marin Superior Court. She is scheduled to appear in court on Dec. 19 for a probation report and for sentencing.

As soon as the bicycles arrived in Salinas, they were shipped back to San Rafael in their original crates, according to Harry N. Mauras, the woman's husband.

Mrs. Mauras told San Rafael police she forged the $100 check so that she could buy the bicycles for her two daughters.

Tiburon Council Elects Tomorrow

The Tiburon Peninsula Coordinating Council will elect officers and directors at its meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Belvedere Community Hall.

Chairman Peter Macgowan urged delegates from member organizations to attend the meeting, since at "recent meetings, business action has been hampered by lack of quorum."

"There has been talk of removing from our roster, by means designated in the by-laws, those member organizations who are continually not present at meetings," said Macgowan.

1st SCHEDULED PACIFIC FLIGHT 25 YEARS AGO

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — It was 25 years ago today that the flying boat China Clipper lifted off the waters of San Francisco Bay to launch the first scheduled commercial flying service across the Pacific.

The China Clipper was the first of series of flying boats operated by Pan American Airways, with a cruising speed of 130 miles an hour.

About 125,000 persons witnessed the China Clipper's first takeoff for Honolulu. The four-engine ship was the biggest thing in the skies at that time. Carrying less than a ton of mail and no passengers, the plane alighted at Pearl Harbor 21 hours later. Today's jet clippers do it in less than five hours.

Tenants Council Sets District Discussion

The Marin City Tenants Council last night set Dec. 5, its next regular meeting date, as a time to discuss functions of the Marin City Community Services District.

The district board will be invited according to Hardy Westmore, to explain problems and responsibilities of the organization.

Three Named To Novato Hospital Unit

Three new directors have been elected to the Novato General Hospital board: Peter J. Ferrarese, James Grossi and Ed Grundstrom.

They will take the place of directors who have moved from the Novato area since the formation of the board and beginning of construction of the 30-bed hospital.

The hospital will be opened about Feb 1. Ferrarese was named head of a committee planning an open house.

Ferrarese is manager and a vice president of the Novato branch of the First National Bank in San Rafael. He formerly served on the board of the Novato Unified school district and heads a joint chamber of commerce-city council committee on highways.

Grossi was born and reared in the area and is a dairy rancher. He is clerk of the Burdell school district board, a Novato Farm Bureau director and a director of the Sonoma-Marin Dairymen Assn.

Other directors of the hospital are Dr. Ralph Weseman, president of the board; Dr. Joseph Sereda, vice president; Dr. John Siemens, secretary-treasurer; Dr. Merton Shelton, Dr. Leo Wagner and Dr. Frederick Newirth.

PROMOTED — Abraham Hyatt will head the planning of space programs, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced today. He is now deputy director of launch vehicle programs. He was born in Russia. (AP Wirephoto)

Door Opened For Belvedere To Buy Cove Area At 'Fair Market Value'

The Belvedere Land Co. last night opened the door for a city offer to purchase the 500 feet of open area on the cove side of Beach Road at "fair market value."

The offer came after the Belvedere Planning Commission spent three hours debating three possible ways to prevent construction of two-story apartments in the area, while the developers' representatives sat quietly in the back row.

The commission unanimously decided to favor eventual opening of the entire south side of Beach Road. This would mean removal of several houses.

Commissioners, acting on a request by the city council, decided that the land could be secured by (1) condemnation at fair market value; (2) acquiring the visual or scenic easement, which would prevent any construction higher than 42 inches off the ground, and (3) rezoning for recreational, which would entail compensation to the owners for development rights.

Mayor Robert P. Watkins stated the council's views saying "We are administrative custodians of this property . . . the owners are legal custodians." He went on, "I am asking you to find a way to keep this open for the enjoyment of future generations." The audience applauded.

The commission was severely criticized by former council candidate Herbert H. Scheier, who said: "This is not the business of the planning commission . . . you are clearly out of order to recommend condemnation or rezoning. Under the city ordinance of Belvedere, a planning commission has only two functions: to consider subdivisions and to act as a body dealing with the zoning ordiance."

Commissioners said they were acting on request of the city council and that the state ordinance governing planning commissions authorized the discussion. Scheier also pointed out that the statute requires public hearings before any recommendation on rezoning.

Fireworks of the evening came when developer Howard Allen stood up and said, "Although this legal gobbledygook is interesting, we have paid taxes on this property for 90 years and have spent four years of study on this development."

He reprimanded commissioner Kenneth J. Frost for his suggestion that 200 additional boats be berthed in the area. He also criticized Mayor Watkins, saying, "He hasn't even approached us about this property."

Watkins whirled around with, "How much? . . . You've never given us a price." Allen retorted, "I do not know."

Developer Russell Rice angrily interrupted with "You are being unfair . . . we would be stupid to come out with a price at a meeting like this and I resent being put in this position."

Commission chairman George Goddard cut off the remarks and suggested that Watkins and Allen get together. A few minutes later they left the meeting and were still talking outside long after the meeting was over.

In other action the commission approved construction of an additional reading room at the Belvedere Nursery School, and decided to join the Marin Planning Council at $25 a year.

Spreading Move To Any-Season Fashions Is Forecast By Industry

By RUBY WEIL

NEW YORK (AP)—Spring may be a song to the poets, but to the fashion industry it's a headache.

Depending on the area and the time of year, spring doesn't last long enough, starts too late when Easter is in April, or is practically none-existent. As a result, women shoppers are likely to skip from winter to summer.

Unlike those of us who talk about the weather but do nothing about it, some people in the fashion industry are doing something. They're simply out to abolish spring.

The evidence was presented to store buyers and the fashion press who have been looking at spring fashion collections while ordinary mortals were still shaking the mothballs out of their winter wardrobes. They found a spreading movement toward any-season fashions.

The movement has been under way for several seasons. But this year it is crystallizing. Fabrics, colors and types of clothes all contribute to the trend toward clothes that can be worn practically year round.

The weatherman is not entirely responsible. The airplane plays a part. So do modern heating in winter and air conditioning in summer, and the steady increase in vacations any time of the year.

For the airborne traveler, there are more and more costumes with built-in comfort and wrinkle resistance.

The higher priced ones are designed for "the woman who jets from climate to climate," as one designer phrases it. This customer's coordinated costume is brought down to budget level in handy outfits for the coach flight passenger.

The change in heating and cooling pattern of homes, theaters, restaurants, in recent years has brought about a steady increase in the dress-plus costume. Dressing in layers now is recognized as a way to comfort.

FOR RESORTS

And more and more, the anytime vacation is influencing fashion Resort fashions merge into those for spring and into summer until the line often is wiped out. For the fashion details: Culottes, introduced last year, may become classic in another few seasons. They're still a novelty for street wear. But they are everywhere in sportswear,, in at-home fashions, in travel clothes. Knee pants are around, too, under skirts which may be slit, wrapped, or buttoned.

Knitted dresses, suits, coats and costumes are so all-pervasive that sometimes one wonders whether they will crowd out woven fabrics. They range from the popular Italian flat woolknit to all sorts of novelty textures and the cotton knits.

Costumes, with short or long coats, are everywhere. Sometimes they have a new name—"compositions." Coat dresses appear in new, interesting shapes.

The most interesting prints are vivid and original. Fabrics are in the strictly fabulous category in the designer fashions. More and more, it's hard to tell cottons from silks or wool synthetics from natural fibers. And such combinations as cotton jackets with wool jersey dresses suggest cross-season purposes.

STILL CHIFFON

For evenings, chiffon goes flattering from season to season. Sequins and rhinestones glitter on spring ballgowns instead of going into storage after the "big" season as they once did.

Colors are gay or subtle, again proclaiming freedom from the old customs. Spring's navy blue is likely to be a brightened shade just a bit deeper than royal. Or it may be ignored for the pastels which move more easily into summer. Brown comes out of winter's popularity into unaccustomed prominence for the warmer seasons.

The news is silhouettes is that the relaxed feeling gets more so all the time. The chemise is around, renamed and redesigned. Full skirts continue their return to fashion approval, in pleats, easy gored versions, and occasionally full circles.

And—a note of reassurance to the men—skirts continue short, a little below the knees—and here and there, right at the kneecap.

Service, Easter Projects Fill Girl Scout, Brownie Calendar

The winter calendars of Corte Madera-Larkspur Neighborhood Brownie and Girl Scout troops are full of service projects, troop birthday celebrations and even the start of an Easter project.

Corte Madera Intermediate Troop 114 revisited Ross General Hospital this week to present Thanksgiving tray favors which they had made. Taking part in the neighborhood's monthly service project, the seventh graders made ceramic Thanksgiving figures (Puritan hats, cornucopias, loaves of bread) under the direction of Mrs. Raymond Rice. Leaders of Troop 114 are Mrs. Robert Mauch and Mrs. R. J. Beghetti.

Nineteen second grade Brownie Scouts were invested on recently by their leaders, Mesdames Vasileos Kapousouz, W. R. Costello and Louis Cimina. Meeting at Eastman Hall, Larkspur, the members of new Troop 103 invited their mothers to the ceremony, which was preceded by refreshments to celebrate the 100th birthday of founder Juliette Low.

Corte Madera Brownie Scouts of Troop 199 are already looking ahead to Easter. Accompanied by their leaders, Mrs. Paul Gray and Mrs. Walter Kozak, the third and fourth graders visited the Sir Francis Drake Nursery where they purchased tulip bulbs. The nurseryman explained the proper potting procedure to the girls and gave them the potting soil. In the spring, bright flowers will attest to their "green thumbs."

A candlelight ceremony at the home of Mrs. Scott Strathairn highlighted the birthday celebration of Larkspur Troop 140, when the girls received their year pins. The fourth grade Brownie Scouts renewed their Brownie Promise together, sang and enjoyed birthday refreshments with their leaders, Mrs. M. R. McCarty and Mrs. Strathairn.

A Father-Mother-Brownie dinner at the Corte Madera Recreation Center marked the start of the third year together for Troop 125. The 18 girls made wood fiber flower corsages for their mothers, as well as matching flower placecards. Each Brownie participated in the evening's entertainment, and received her year pin from leaders, Mesdames Albert De Mello, Joseph Pedone Clive Mee.

Five new Brownies were invested into Corte Madera Troop 105 when the troop celebrated its birthday at the home of Mrs. R. M. Strittmatter, their leader. Year pins were presented to the troop members by Mrs. K. C. Thompson, and the newly invested Brownies joined the circle after receiving their Brownie pins from Mrs. Strittmatter.

Scholarship Applications Are Asked By Marin Zonta Club

Applications for Amelia Earhart scholarships are now being accepted by Zonta International for the 1961-62 school year. Mrs. Margaret Hedden, president of the Zonta Club of Marin County announced at the recent meeting of the club.

The $2,500.00 grants, offered qualified women for advanced study in aeronautical fields were established in 1938 by the executive women's service organization, as a memorial to Amelia Earhart. The world-famous air pioneer was an active member of Zonta (her only non-professional affiliation) for many years before her disappearance in 1937 in the initial attempt to circle the globe at the equator.

Funds for the annual grants are provided jointly by Zonta's more than 430 clubs in 17 countries. The Marin Zonta Club activities center on scholarships for high school graduates.

Candidates or instructors, wishing to recommend students, can obtain further information about the Amelia Earhart scholarship grants from Zonta's headquarters office, 59 East Van Buren Street, Chicago 5, Ill., or direct from the chairman of Zonta's Amelia Earhart scholarship committee: Dr. Helen Pearce, 490 Oak Street, S.E., Salem, Oregon.

Nursery School Parents Hear Art Professor

Howard A. Slatoff, associate dean of students at Alameda County State College, addressed the members of the Corte Madera, Mill Valley and San Anselmo Cooperative Nursery Schools at a recent meeting held at Olney Hall, College of Marin.

The lecture, "Creativity in the Child," covered many facets of how the nursery school conditions the child to the wide world of learning. The discussion explored creative materials used to provide the child recognition of his own abilities and to give him an awareness of himself and his capabilities.

Slatoff is also associate professor of art at Alameda and has been a speaker at state and national conferences on general education, art education and nursry school education.

Focus Show Will Honor Novato Club

"She who buys her holiday dress in November has something to wear when it comes December." So says the Novato Junior Women's Club on Tuesday, Nov. 29 at the popular Fashion Focus luncheon at Rickey's when they invite you to "Head for the Holidays."

In other words, the early bird does get the worm when it comes to Christmas fashion shopping, and on Tuesday attractive members of the Novato Junior Women's Club will prove the old adage is true.

To keep holiday goers on a carefreeway with no holiday detours, Nancy Levy will unwrap 20 gay and fashionable packages that can be worn to holiday coffee, a school Yuletide party or a gay Christmas dinner. Fashions to get as well as to give will be highlighted, for what delights women of all ages and figures more than a gift that is delightfully wearable.

In a holiday mood will be the Tuesday surprises with proceeds going to aid the work of Muscular Dystrophy in Marin, a cause that has been adopted by the Novato Junior Women's Club as a special Christmas project.

Coiffures to head for the holidays as perfect compliments to the around-the-clock fashions will be styled by a Novato beauty salon.

The holiday luncheon begins at 12:30 P.M. on Tuesday with reservations made by calling Rickey's.

Birth Boom Gloom

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Robert C. Cook, president of the Population Reference Bureau, says that the current increase of 50 million people each year represents much too rapid a growth for the world's resources.

In the bureau's annual report, he also said that universial understanding of the population problem is the first step toward lower birth rates. He said that time is crucial because mounting population pressure could defeat the hope of a better life among millions in underdeveloped areas.

Mistletoe Queen Ready To Harvest Kissing Sprigs

GEORGETOWN, Tex. (UPI) — "Kissin' is pleasin' in any season — but mistletoe makes it more so."

So reads the slogan of the Thies Mistletoe Co., a firm interested in the preservation and aggrandizement of romance as a commercial enterprise.

The firm is a one-woman operation, owned by Mrs. Charles Tucker, known in these parts as "the Mistletoe Queen."

"Mistletoe was sacred with the Druids," Mrs. Tucker said. "It was, and is, believed by many to have medicinal value. Some people felt that a sprig hung over the doorway would ward off evil spirits, and some people who live off the beaten track still think so.

"Of course everybody believes mistletoe stands for tenderness and love. Ah yes, so do I," she added.

For Mrs. Tucker's company, the busy mistletoe season begins in November and continues until a few days before Christmas.

Social Secretary To First Lady Expects A Lot Of Entertaining

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—The next first lady will do a lot of entertaining, predicts a long-time friend who on January 1 will join the White House official family.

Letitia Baldrige, who will serve as social secretary to Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, said "I imagine she will entertain a great deal. Jackie has all the gifts, the charm and ability necessary to be a hostess. She was born to the role.

"She knows that entertaining is a powerful weapon in creating good relations among people."

Miss Baldrige, a friend of Mrs. Kennedy's for 20 years, called her a "young woman of many interests and many talents . . . her first thoughts are for her husband and family, of course. But things will be lively at the Wihte House.

Letitia Baldrige, although still in her early 30's, is a veteran in the world of officialdom and diplomacy.

The daughter of a former congressman (Republican), she was social secretary to David K. E. Bruce (Democrat) during his ambassadorship in Paris from 1948 to 1951, and for Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce (Republican) when she was ambassador to Italy from 1953 to 1956.

"I come from a GOP family," she laughed, "but it's quite Democratic now."

"But this job," she added seriously, is one outside politics."

Miss Baldrige—Tish, to her friends—was born in Omaha, Neb., the daughter of a prominent attorney, H. Malcolm Baldrige, who served in congress during the Hoover administration. Her parents now live in Washington. But Tish for the last few weeks has been staying with her brother, Malcolm Jr., and his wife, at their Woodbury, Conn., farm where she is trying to complete a novel before she moves to Washington.

It will be her second book—her first, "Roman Candle," was based on her years in Rome with Mrs. Luce.

In a telephone interview, Miss Baldrige talked of her long friendship with the next First Lady.

They first met in Washington, she said, and the friendship continued through boarding school at the fashionable Miss Porter's in Farmington, Conn., at Vassar College in Poughkeepsie, N.Y., and at the Sorbonne in Paris where Mrs. Kennedy studied for a year. Miss Baldrige was working for Ambassador Bruce at the time.

"I didn't campaign for Jack," she said of the president-elect. "I was too busy with the book and with trying to wind up my job at Tiffany's."

For the last 4½ years she has been head of public relations for the Fifth Avenue jewelry store.

The woman who succeeds Mrs. Mary Jane McCaffree as spokesman for the First Lady is a statuesque (nearly six feet tall) blonde interested in many of the same things as her new boss. Miss Baldrige, like Mrs. Kennedy, is an authority on art. She majored in its history in college.

Both women are linguists — Miss Baldrige speaks fluent French and Italian. Both are to the manner born. Tish's mother was president of the Junior League in Omaha; Tish is a member of the league in Washington.

Tish said she approaches her new job with "absolute joy and awe . . . to be a member of the team of this incredible man and his wife . . . "

Of her new boss, she adds, "She is a woman who has got everything including the next president."

Survey Cites Tales Of Cotton's Worth

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Cotton is regarded by mothers as the outstanding fiber for many items of their children's clothing, but wool and nylon also rate high for some garments, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reports.

The conclusions are based on an analysis of replies made by nearly 2,500 mothers participating in a nationwide survey conducted for the Agricultural Marketing Service.

Cotton was found to be the leading fiber for six clothing items: boy's sport shirts and school pants, girls' blouses, dress-up dresses, slips and skirts. Cotton placed second only to wool for outer jackets or short coats.

Cotton's chief virtues, the mothers said, included ease of care and other laundering properties, plus nice appearance and durability.

Wool was the preferred material for outer jackets and ranked second for skirts mainly because of its warmth, appearance and durability.

Horse Is Girl's Best Friend

By VIVIAN BROWN

A lonely girl can find great companionship in the friendship of an animal, says Meg Hauseman of Kings Point, Long Island.

Meg had no close girl or boy friends and her sister and brother were much older, so she fell in love with a horse when she was 9 years old.

"A horse is a wonderful friend. When I got this pony Cinnamon Sugar, she was just to be a companion, but I learned to ride well enough to go into some horse shows, and she has become more than a friend. She has made me a good rider," says Meg, who becomes a teenager on her next birthday.

For the third year Meg has participated in the National Horse Show in New York. She has won more than 200 ribbons, 11 championships and 10 reserves. She won the large pony championship with another poney she owns, Serendipity. She rides him in winter, and the smaller pony, her room mare, Cinnamon Sugar stays home.

Serendipity boards out, so Meg doesn't assist with those chores. But she helps a good deal with Cinnamon Sugar. Her dad gives her a hand with the water pails she can't lift.

Meg has fun keeping her pony clean. She says it is a real production.

"I tie her to a hitching post. Then I get a bucket of warm water and soap suds, and wash her with a sponge. Her tail and mane must be soaped, and this causes plenty of splashing when she swooshes around. I clean her with the hose and she drinks from it. She likes the cold hose water even though she doesn't like cold weather," Meg explains.

Meg sometimes wins seven or eight ribbons at one show. She wins small money awards.

"I use the money to help pay for the horse. I'm saving up now to buy a horse van."

A horse need not be expensive, she points out, if you can care for him yourself, and have access to hay and oats, "but a horse sure can eat a lot," she says. "It costs about $40 a month."

She also has a French poodle and a cat, and finds that all animals are wonderful friends as well as pets. She knits and cooks, plays baseball, golf and swims, but best of all she likes to be with her animal friends.

At the recent meeting of the club, conducted by Mrs. George Jones, president, a luncheon was served. On the committee were Mrs. C. W. Carle, chairman, and Mesdames DeLos C. Butts, Alfred Wuestefeld, Robert Mullins and L. B. Curtis. Cards were played during the afternoon.

Because of the Christmas holidays, the meeting on Dec. 20 has been cancelled. Instead one will be held on Jan. 3.

Executive Tells How To Select Spouse In New Book

What a rising young salesman should look for in a wife is spelled out by Vincent F. Sullivan, New York newspaper executive, in a book called "How to Sell Your Way into the Big Money," just published by Prentice Hall. He writes —

"A wife must be ambitious not only for herself but for her husband. She must work with him, prod him, push him if he needs it, but never too obviously nor too fast.

"She must be a good sport about disappointments and setbacks. When a real crisis takes place, her philosophy should be, 'Well, I'm on the floor now — I certainly can't fall off from here.'

"She must demonstrate her loyalty to you, and show a deep respect for your abilities and your ambitions.

"If she quibbles about money — drop her fast.

"If she has a good sense of humor, including the ability to laugh at herself, she probably will do.

"She must be big enough in mind to accept your friends and modes of recreation without sarcastically telling you that perhaps they might be improved upon or changed.

"Above all, she must show a keen interest in the man that you are, the problems of your job, and your supreme ambition to reach out for the high salary objective.

"If you can't find a girl with all the aforementioned qualifications, you should just keep trying."

Good luck, young man!

This of course is just one facet of Mr. Sullivan's advice on how to become a super-salesman. After outlining the techniques, from product research to the dotted line, he winds up with a call to "get back to work."

"The secret of Soviet successes," he says, "is that their people work as if coffee breaks didn't exist: our people work as if nothing else existed."

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, Nov. 22, the 327th day of the year with 39 more in 1960.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning stars are Mercury and Mars.

The evening stars are Jupiter, Venus and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1819, George Eliot, an English writer whose real name was Mary Ann Evans, was born.

In 1852, the second French empire received public recognition when more than 7 million persons voted to back the government of Emperor Napoleon III.

In 1880, Lillian Russell made her debut in vaudeville in New York City.

In 1906, delegates to the International Radio Telegraph convention adopted the S-O-S . . . three dots, three dashes, three dots, as a distress signal for ships at sea.

In 1909, Helen Hayes made her New York stage debut.

A thought for today: English writer Anthony Trollope said: "Those who offend us are generally punished for the offense they give; but we so frequently miss the satisfaction of knowing that we are avenged."

Al Bianchi Brings Honor, Recognition To Marin

It is always a great thrill when a member of our community receives recognition.

Last week, the California Farm Bureau Federation presented a gold medal award for distinguished service to agriculture to Alfred J. Bianchi of Pt. Reyes Station.

This is no small honor. He is only the seventh California farmer to be so honored.

Yet many Marin residents don't know Al Bianchi or of his works. In fact, there are many of us who seldom relate Marin County to agriculture at all, much less realize that it is one of the state's leading dairy counties.

Bianchi, a member of the Farm Bureau for 38 years, has served in too many capacities to even list here. Suffice it to say he has effectively handled practically every type of organizational job from heading his own area's Farm Bureau Center to chairmanship of the federation's statewide dairy department.

He has served for a quarter of a century on the San Francisco Milk Production Control Board, much of the time as chairman, heads the Sonoma-Marin Dairyman's Association, is a member of the California Beef Council, a director of the Sonoma-Marin District Fair and was for three years secretary of the American Dairy Association.

When his full range of activities is listed it seems impossible that he would have had time to operate a dairy. But he manages to sandwich it in, between his many other duties, on his 800 acre ranch at Pt. Reyes.

We are proud of Al Bianchi and honored that a citizen of our county has been chosen for such well deserved state-wide recognition.

To you, Al, we offer a respectful, Conngratulations.

Fiddle, Chew; Fiddle, Chew

This is the time of year when the cricket in search of winter warmth invades our Marin homes and delights us with his chirping solos. The males produce their music by vibrating their forewings together.

However endearing his nocturnal song, the cricket is a highly destructive fiddler and is a chewer of many kinds of plants, often doing severe financial damage to crops. Nor is the cricket a respector of man and his works—it eats holes in clothing and has been known to gnaw rugs and drapes.

This was a big year for crickets in northern Marin. Most are dead by now. But a few elderly survivors are still fiddling around, chewing holes in Miladys' party dress and Papa's ski suit.

Fiddle, chew . . . Fiddle, chew . . . Fiddle, chew . . .

HELP THEM DON'T HINDER THEM

A young woman admitted touching off no less than nine blazes in Milwaukee recently for the purpose of seeing her boy friend—a fireman—in action.

The judge, unmoved by her romantic reasons, put her on two years' probation.

Firemen, policemen, and all government employees have enough to cope with in carrying out their normal duties. Fortunately, it is only a minority of citizens who go out of their way to make things more difficult.

Much of the edge can be taken off the burdents that public servants assume by encouragement on the part of the people they protect. A friendly greeting, a clear and courteous letter, and a cheerful obedience to the law can all make for the smoother running of our society.

And, if "order is the first law of heaven," we can be sure that God is pleased by our attempt to bring some of His order to the running of things on earth.

"Admonish them to be subject to princes and authorities, obeying commands, ready for every good work."

(Titus 3:1)

Never let me forget, O Father, that my actions have effects for better or worse, on others.

Scientific Control Of Weather Might Not Prove Such A Boon

NEW YORK (AP) — Science now holds out the hope that man eventually will be able to control the weather.

This possibility, on the face of it, sounds like a great boon. But is it?

There is no doubt that the achievement of automatic weather by man would offer many advantages.

It would enable him to grow vastly larger crops, thus averting for a longer time the crisis of worldwide hunger brought on by over-population.

It would help reduce his cost of living. He would need less clothing, less fuel for heating purposes—at least in his home. He would spend less for cold cures and cough drops.

It would enable him to reduce the rigors of both heat in summer and cold in winter.

Doesn't it all sound wonderful? But the question remains—would it actually be so wonderful, assuming an unbridled science might manage to achieve these miracles?

We already have done much to ameliorate the extremes of bad weather. We have air-conditioned houses, cars, theaters, offices, factories and bowling alleys to protect us from extreme high temperatures in July and August.

We have marvelous heating systems to warm our autos, our homes and our places of public work and assembly in winter.

It is one thing to air-condition a home. It is quite another thing to seek to air-condition the world — hitherto regarded as a chore of God or nature.

ARE WE WISE enough yet to make our own weather? Do we know enough yet about ourselves to even pick the weather which would be best for us?

Many have dreamed of an earth of flowering plenty bathed forever in a mild and beneficient sunshine. But is a security such as this the real answer to our life's true needs?

IT COULD turn out to be a lotus nightmare.

The rhythm of the changing seasons, some have held, is responsible for the vigor of people who dwell in a temperate clime.

To do our best—and feel our best we need an icicle time as well as a time of sunshine.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Powers That Be Obsolete Too?

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

A large population increase in the San Rafael area is apparent.

It is also apparent that the powers that be in San Rafael ignore the traffic mumbo jumbo during the rush hours particularly. Excepting, of course, the eager Meter Maids; they are consistently efficient.

The free-for-all, jockeying for position to go under Highway 101 to enter the City of San Rafael from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m., is most interesting to the observer and has upset many a working person's equilibrium.

If the ordeal is survived without fender creases, etc., the home-comer takes his or her place on the 2nd Street lineup where coordinated signals are unknown and no-left turn directions enforced (exception—maybe a wandering high school kid).

If the driver selects going from Francisco to 3rd St., he encounters a stop sign misplaced scores of feet before the actual intersection. Evidently the sign was sunk by a person wearing a sleep mask.

Now if one is endeavoring to go south on Highway 101 from 2nd Street, he is of the opinion that the right of way is his. The same illusion appears to the driver on Francisco Street. Never the twain shall meet.

They say that the San Rafaey City Hall is obsolete. How about the powers that be?

Trailer Residents Not Slum Dwellers

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In your issue of Nov. 14 I find under "What Our Readers Think" a letter from Mrs. Everett Petker (without an "i" dotted nor undotted).

In this letter Mrs. Petker states that the County Planning Commission had designated the area where she now lives a "semi-slum" area.

She and others are now objecting to become a "full-slum" area in refusing to let someone invest about $250,000 to develop a "plush" trailer park.

A slum is a "thickly populated, squalid part of a city, inhabited by the poorest people."

As I wrote in my letter of Nov. 3, the persons who are objecting to the establishment of a trailer park do not know what they are talking about.

A 10x50 trailer costs not less than $5,000, sometimes over $10,000. The average rental for trailer space is about $30 to $75. Under these conditions people who are used to living in slums cannot afford such luxuries.

Novato City has at present about four trailer parks and I dare say that you cannot call the dwellers thereof living in a "slum." I think, and in fact I know, that they are just as respectable, law-abiding and community spirited people as those who are now critical of their way of living.

I am incensed about the attitude of some people regarding trailer parks and their dwellers because, as I said in my previous letter, I am seriously thinking of selling my home and purchasing a trailer and live in it to spend my last few years in comfortable retirement.

I might also add that I have looked over the trailer parks in Novato City and had decided to live in one of them. However, I do not believe that I care to live with people who are so bigoted and form their opinions on just hearsay or rumors.

Amazing Attitude Shown In Letter

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

As Dr. Post stated ("Letters," Nov. 16), "election post mortems don't change the vote." He still wrote you, regardless, because he was "deeply disturbed" that the fluoridation proposal was defeated. And I am writing you, now, as a voter who is even more "deeply disturbed" at the amazing attitude toward the democratic process shown in his letter.

In spite of an overwhelming majority against flouridation, he insists that its opponents are merely "misguided followers" who were "misled" by the "distortions" and "lies" of "a very small group." Evidently, the doctor has but little respect for the intelligence of the Marin County voter, if he actually believes that so many could be so bamboozled by so few.

These voters did not, as he claims, "deprive" and "punish all the children of Marin," any one of whom can be dosed with fluorides, readily and inexpensively, by a choice of several different methods —a fact the fluoridationists persistently choose to ignore.

But what is really sinister about the Doctor's letter is his equation of anti-fluoridation publicity with "the big lie" of "Hitler's Germany," and his proposal of laws regulating the conduct of future campaigns to influence votes!

This is still a free country, Dr. Post, where citizens may freely reject the repeated efforts of people like yourself to use political processes as a means of forcing their private viewpoints upon the public at large.

There are many voters who, like the undersigned, did not oppose fluoridation because of the "confusion" and "fear" that you infer, but because we stand for your right to take medicine if you wish to, and our own to refuse it if we wish to.

What really scares us, instead, is that an obviously well-educated letter-writer like the Doctor seeks the aid of legislation to compel others to act as he pleases they should act. This sort of thinking is one of the greatest dangers our nation now faces.

Other Streets Need Cleaning

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In line with your article of yesterday (Nov. 15) about cleaning up the streets, etc., in San Rafael, I urge that you ask San Anselmo to do the same.

One of the dirtiest areas is that three block section on Red Hill Boulevard between Sequoia and Highland stations.

Also the owners of the corner lots along the main highways in Larkspur and Corte Madera should be notified to clean up.

Groucho recalls "the most sincere compliment" ever paid him. A stout, pleasant faced lady (he never had laid eyes on her before) buttonholed him on a Chicago street and told him earnestly, "Don't die, Mr. Marx. Go on living. While you live, I'll live!"

The girl friend of a far-out beatnik singer burst in on him unexpectedly and caught him playing "Stardust" on his guitar. "For Zen's sake, man," she implored, "don't go commercial! You'll wind up being just another Perry Como!"

Some People Have Hard Time Saying Things That They Mean

You know, some people say what they mean and mean what they say.

And others don't say what they mean. And you've met people who don't mean what they say.

Now the poor military takes a continuous beating over their carefully planned instructions—which can be interpreted only by a Sanskrit scholar with bifocals and three hours of spare time.

For instance, a MAJOR CHANGE NOTICE issued by the Air Force for its manual:

THE NUMBER of volumes in AFM 67-1 is being reduced. This will be accomplished by publication of amendments which will integrate parts of or whole volumes into other volumes which contain procedural or informational data having similar organizational or functional application.

"Amendments published after this date will reflect the consolidation and elimination of duplication, and will provide simplification of procedural material and provide guide lines for maintenance of volumes until all portions have been integrated.

"Section 2, Volume XV, is being published as Chapter 1, Part Two, Volume I, AFM 67-1 in amendment 74, volume I, dated 25 April 1960.

" . . . the page numbers of chapter 1, part two, volume I, which will begin with 1-1, will duplicate the page numbers in chapter 1, part one, volume I (now section 1, volume I)."

And so on and on and on.

THEN THERE is the irate citizen who rises in public wroth. Even with carefully prepared notes, or with no notes, the citizen usually does not say what is planned to be said before the audience.

And the next day, reading it in those nasty newspapers, the citizen denies having said such things. The sad thing is, that the only person taking notes, verbatim, is the newspaper reporter.

And then, if the dumb reporter tries to read the name the citizen has written down —and cannot read the handwriting or find a close facsimile in the telephone book, even though it is there — the result is a mispelling of a name.

THERE IS AN OLD saying among newspapermen. You can get an address, telephone number, age, date, anything wrong — but don't louse up someone's name.

So to Mrs. Everett Petker of Novato (and heaven help us if the lino operator louses up her name), who took the time and effort to check her newspaper twice, and then write a letter to the editor, my apologies.

But only for misspelling her name.

AND SPEAKING of people who say things they don't mean and mean things they don't say.

There was the man who came into the office to say:

"I want to put an ad in to sell my dog." He showed pictures of the dog. He said he was crippled and couldn't take care of the pooch.

He didn't want to put that ad in the paper. He wanted to buy the dog. He wasn't meaning what he was saying or saying what he was meaning.

Winner, Loser Conduct Themselves In Best Tradition Of U.S. Politics

WASHINGTON — Winner and loser alike are conducting themselves in the best tradition of American politics.

By his early appointments —Edgar Hoover, Allen Dulles, Clark Clifford — and by his statements, John Kennedy is showing himself fully aware that, with his two-tenths of one per cent majority, he must create an administration of national consolidation to be effective.

He is also quite right, I think, in insisting that, having outlined his policies quite definitely during the campaign, he expects to press forward with his main measures —defense, outer space, aid to education, minimum wage, and efforts to speed the rate of economic growth.

WITH CONGRESS moving a degree or two to the right by the addition of 23 more Republicans—even somewhat more to the right than during the short post-convention session — President Kennedy is not going to get everything he wants exactly as he wants it.

But despite the narrowness of the vote, he has no reason to proceed on the premise he lost the election. He won. It seems to me that the "Washington Post" is right in saying that "the closeness of the popular vote is perhaps a check on strong partisanship, but it is by no means a deterrent to strong leadership."

RICHARD NIXON, too, is taking a large-minded attitude. His immediate post-election appeal was to rally the country behind the new government. Further, he took no step to slow up the prompt and orderly transition, even though there appeared to be about a 300-to-1 chance that recounting might alter the outcome. Nixon is clearly disposed to use constructively his mammoth popular vote and not heckle or pettily hobble the new Administration. That is greatly to his credit.

Particularly because of his fine showing at the polls, the suggestion has been made that Nixon should be offered, indeed induced to accept a high position in the Kennedy administration. The theory is that this action would help unify the country behind the new government.

I think this would be wrong —wrong for Kennedy and wrong for Nixon and wrong for the country. It would be undesirable, it would be harmful.

AS ONE WHO believes that some Republican appointments would be helpful, I believe that Nixon is from every standpoint exactly the man not to name. Appointees like Douglas Dillon, Thomas Gates, John McClay, or Robert Lovett, yes. Nixon, no.

A Nixon appointment—and I can't believe he would accept —would serve to divide the country, not unite it. It would deny to the millions of Americans who wanted him President the feeling that they can have in Nixon an independent voice through whom to bring their views to bear upon the government. Nixon's voice ought to be responsible and constructive—but not muted by participating in the administration.

Men Encounter Health Hazards That Women Don't Have To Face

We're a healthy bunch of humans. Did you know that?

I've been checking the studies of our American bodies, male and female. We're downright impressive.

Ladies, you are taller, wider and stronger than your mothers. You'll live longer—you're practically indestructible. You withstand disease remarkably well and bear children with little risk You'll die from six to 10 years later than your husband.

We men will live longer than our fathers did. We are bigger than they were, and stronger. But our progress has not been as striking as women's. Modern medicine hasn't helped us as much as it has our wives.

Men who are successes in their work run some special risks. If they aren't careful they'll fall over with a heart attack, or a stroke. Many leaders will die early that way.

Our children? They're really superior. They had the best of pre-natal care. They were born husky and well. They are getting better medical attention than any large group of children has had. They eat balanced diets. They receive mineral and vitamin supplements. They are maturing faster than we did. They'll break all athletic records. They'll seem brighter than we are, because they're going through better schools. They'll be quite free from disease.

The future looks very rosy for them.

Our grandchildren? I'm afraid to predict. There's almost no limit to their possibilities.

We Americans are lucky, aren't we?

(Q) "We have one child, a baby boy. Should we raise him to believe in Santa Claus? Or should we be strictly truthful with him?" —Mrs. R. L.

(A) It doesn't make much difference. If the other children in the neighborhood believe in Santa Claus you might raise him that way. Then he will not feel too different, and you'll avoid embarrassing arguments. On the other hand, if you believe strongly that the Santa legend should not be taught, don't teach it. He'll enjoy Christmas either way.

Tighter Rules On Aid To Needy Children Urged

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A drastic tightening of the state welfare code covering aid to needy children was advocated yesterday at a state senate hearing by Jay R. Ballantyne, district attorney of Tulare County.

Ballantyne spoke as a representative of the District Attorneys Assn. of California. He accused the State Social Welfare Board of enacting rules "which have recognized and encouraged men living in the home of recipient mothers in illicit relationships which have created immoral environments" for innocent children.

He told the Senate Fact-Finding Committee on Labor and Welfare that legislation should be enacted which would require a six months' period of separation by a father from the home as an eligibility requirement for families receiving aid to needy children.

The "Sounding Board" will be aired tomorrow because of the Thanksgiving Day holiday, its regular day.

Four members of the San Rafael City Council will be panel members: Mayor John F. McInnis and Councilmen Charles W. Aby, Louis H. Baar and Fred Jensen. Kitty Oppenheimer will be moderator.

The program will be rebroadcast from a recording Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

Study Slated On Inventions' Impact On Teacher Work

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government is financing a study of the present and potential impact of new inventions on the classroom work of teachers.

The National Education Assn., sponsor of the study, announced it will be conducted under an 18-month, $102,980 contract with the U.S. Office of Education under the National Defense Education Act.

James D. Finn, professor of education at the University of Southern California, will direct the study of new developments in television, teaching machines, audio-visual materials and other technology and the problems and opportunities they create for the nation's teachers.

Real Estate Loans

The Word REALTOR MEANS Service!

The services performed by realtors are both expensive to render, and important to everyone.

It is the function of a realtor to see that a buyer is found for his client's property, that the best possible fair price is paid, and that the maze of legal and technical detail is properly handled.

To find buyers, the members of the real estate profession actively create a demand for real property. To do it, they incur heavy expenses for advertising. In the process, they constantly improve the American standard of living, by persuading people to live in better homes.

The average seller has no very clear idea of how much his property is worth. He is apt to overvalue it, and thus make it impossible to sell, as he is to under-value it and thus deprive himself of a fair return. Realtors, with first-hand day-to-day knowledge of property values, perform a valuable service in suggesting the best fair price for any particular property.

Like almost everything else, real property these days is purchased on the installment plan. How he finances his purchase is up to the buyer, of course. But to conclude a sale on behalf of the seller, a real estate broker frequently is called upon to assist the purchaser in locating the most attractive financing to suit the particular transaction. A realtor must have a vast and up-to-date knowledge of the money-markets as well as of the property-markets.

Hike In Auto Taxes Urged

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California motorists face the prospect of a 66-million-dollar increase in car taxes.

The Senate Transportation Committee, meeting here yesterday, raised that possibility to finance improvements in county roads and city streets.

Car owners now pay $2 per $100 of assessed vlauation, in addition to the flat $8 registration fee, in lieu of a personal property tax.

Sen. Randolph Collier (D-Yreka), the chairman, said the committee prefers a 50 per cent increase in the in lieu tax from $2 to $3 to a one-cent jump in the state gasoline tax.

Richard M. Zettel, committee constultant, said the step-up would cost an average of $7.22 a year. It would bring in an estimated 66 million dollars the first year.

Christmas Opera

This year's Christmas production of the San Francisco Children's Opera Company will be "Santa Claus' Beard," a two-act musical to be presented on Dec. 11 at 2:30 p.m. in the Marines' Memorial Theater in San Francisco.

State Official Cites Gas Octane Cheating

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Some California service station operators misrepresent the octane rating of the gasoline they sell, the head of the state Bureau of Weights and Measures charged yesterday.

William A. Kerlin told the Assembly Committee on Manufacturing, Oil and Mining Industries that unscrupulous operators often put a high number on a gas pump, intimating it represents the octane of the fuel.

One station, he said, placed the figure 94 on one pump, 96 on another and 98 on a third. This operator charge different prices for the fuel from each pump, although the gasoline all had the same octane rating, Kerlin said.

He asked for a "truth in advertising" law to cover such practices.

Otis Wright, senior petroleum investigator for the bureau, said it's hard to prosecute such cases because station operators contend the numbers on the pump do not actually refer to octane ratings.

Kerlin said he expects the problem to get worse in the next few years if gasoline companies continue to stress octane ratings in their advertising.

A good portion of the complaints, he said, come from the Southern California area.

A spokesman for the California Federation of Service Stations, asked for the state to adopt a standard method to measure octane ratings.

The committee is conducting hearings on marketing practices.

State To Tighten Up On Nursery Teachers

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — State officials are moving to stiffen the license requirements of teachers in California's rapidly growing day nurseries.

Mrs. Eunice B. Evans, deputy director of social welfare, said today that a committee will soon be named to bring up teacher training standards "just as high and as fast as we can."

The social welfare department licenses more than 1,000 private, parent - cooperative, church and non-profit nurseries serving 60,000 children annually in California.

With a steady rise in the number of working mothers, the number of nurseries has jumped 60 per cent in the last 10 years. New schools sprout up every month.

A departmental survey of nearly 1,000 nursery teachers and directors indicates that the staffs of these schools differ widely in education and training.

About 35 per cent of the teachers had high school or less; only 21 per cent had four years of college or more.

Among directors, 19 per cent had high school or less, and 42 per cent had four years of college or more.

About 66 per cent of the teachers reported no previous nursery experience. Among teachers with experience, approximately two-thirds had less than three years.

Among directors, 49 per cent reported previous nursery experience.

Mrs. Evans said that during the past few years, nursery staff members have turned out enthusiastically for training programs at Mills College, and San Jose, San Diego and Sacramento State Colleges. She said that more than four out of five of the surveyed teachers and directors wanted additional training.

Fort Mason at San Francisco was set aside as a United States military reserve by proclamation of President Millard Fillmore Nov. 6, 1850.

Science, Public Get Blame In Smog Problem

PASADENA (AP) — A Caltech professor blames not only industry, but scientists and the public as well, for the continuing smog problem.

Dr. Fritz Zwicky, in an article published by a Caltech alumni magazine, proposes a crash research program as a first step toward solution of the problem.

He also said no one should be allowed to drive a car alone without paying a special tax. This would be an incentive for car pools. The special tax revenue would be used to help finance the research program.

He said presidents of local universities should put their men to work on the problem.

Dr. Zwicky, professor of astro-physics, said the auto industry has failed to face the facts of air polution. "Indeed . . . the automobile industry, instead of developing better engines and smog suppressors, concerned itself with the styling of mammoth cars."

But, Zwicky said, industry alone is not to blame. "The scientists themselves and, in particular, the administrators of scientific institutions . . . have dismally failed in their responsibility to organize their manpower and technical sources."

Some 12 million persons in the United States purchase hunting licenses each year.

Solon Will Ask School Bond Use

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The legislature will be asked to authorize immediate use of 30 million dollars in state school bonds and to boost the monthly rate of loans from 10 million dollars to 12 million.

Assemblyman Vernon Kilpatrick (D-Lynwood) announced yesterday he would introduce the bills at the request of the California Teachers Association when the legislature convenes in January.

The proposed 30-million dollar allocation would meet a backlog of school construction projects and school site purchases which Kilpatrick said already totals more than 25 million dollars.

Larkspur Planners To Consider Request

A request from Schultz Investment Co. for architectural supervision for an apartment building in Bon Air Subdivision 5 will come before the Larkspur Planning Commission at 8 p.m. today.

The meeting will be mostly a work session on zoning ordinance changes and recommendations for business district revisions, said Mrs. Isabelle Moore.
